CAMP DIRECTOR and STAFF

Directing the Clinic is Head Coach Cathy Swezey. Currently in her 19th year, Coach Swezey has built the Vanderbilt Women's Lacrosse Program into a national power. In 2002, 2004, 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2010 Coach Swezey and Vanderbilt earned bids to the NCAA Division I Women's Lacrosse Tournament. In 2004, the Commodores enjoyed their most successful season to date, as they won their second American Lacrosse Conference Title and advanced to the 2004 NCAA Final Four. In 2002 and 2008, Cathy was awarded the American Lacrosse Conference Coach of the Year honors, and in 2002 the InsideLacrosse.com National Coach of the Year award. Prior to that, the intercollegiate women's Lacrosse Coaches Association nominated Swezey for "National Coach of the Year" honors after leading Vanderbilt to a 10-6 record in 2000. Assistant Coaches Beth Hewitt and Shannon Gilroy, join Cathy on the staff. Coach Hewitt is the newest addition to the Vanderbilt staff coming from a successful head coaching career at Le Moyne College in Syracuse, N.Y. While guiding LeMoyne, Hewitt built the Dolphins into a Division II national power. She led the Dolphins to two Final Fours, three NCAA Tournaments, two NE-10 regular season championships and a conference tournament title. As an All-American Midfielder at North Carolina she also earned All-ACC and All-Final Four team accolades, while helping the program win their first ACC Championship. Coach Gilroy begins her first year at Vanderbilt. Gilroy, a native of Northport, N.Y., raked in the accolades while at Florida. This past season, she was named a Tewaarton Finalist, a IWLCA First-Team All American, IWLCA All-South First Team, the BIG EAST Midfielder of the Year and the BIG EAST Tournament Most Outstanding Player.
