2013 SEC Football

SEC FOOTBALL (2006-12) ... SECOND TO NONE

During the last seven years (2006-12), Southeastern Conference football has experienced success that is unparalleled in its football history and in the history of college football. During this tenure, the SEC's achievements have been demonstrated by:

- Triumphs in BCS bowl games, including the BCS National Championship Game
- Non-conference success in regular season and bowl games
- Defeating highly-ranked non-conference teams
- Success in the polls and rankings
- Individual awards and All-America Teams
- Academic and Community Service Standouts
- Continued accomplishments of former SEC student-athletes in the NFL

SEC IN THE BCS

• The SEC has won seven consecutive national championships, nine of 14 BCS National Championships and 23 overall national titles (AP, BCS, FWAA, coaches poll). Alabama defeated Notre Dame 42-14 on Jan. 7 in the Discover BCS National Championship Game for the SEC's seventh straight national title.

• Four different SEC schools have won the BCS National Championship since 2006 (Auburn, 2010; Alabama, 2009, 2011, 2012; Florida, 2006 and 2008; LSU, 2007). Tennessee (1998) and LSU (2004) have also won the BCS crown. The Big 12 (Texas and Oklahoma) and the ACC (Miami and Florida State) have each had two schools win titles since 1998.

• Since 2006, more than half of the slots in the BCS National Championship Game have been taken by SEC teams (9 of 16). The Big Ten and the Big 12 have two each and the Pac-10 has one.

• No other conference has won a BCS National Championship Game since Texas defeated Southern California, 41-38, in the Rose Bowl following the 2005 regular season. The SEC has won the last seven in a row.

• An SEC team has led or tied for the lead at the end of 24 of the last 28 quarters of BCS National Championship Game play.

• Since 2006, an SEC team has been ranked first in the weekly BCS standings in 30 of the 56 weeks, with four different teams holding the top spot. Florida was first for seven weeks, Alabama for 10 weeks, Auburn for three and LSU for 10 weeks, including all eight polls of this season. The Big Ten has held the top spot for 13 weeks (all Ohio State), the Big 12 for six weeks (Texas and Oklahoma twice, Missouri and Kansas State once) and the Pac-10 four weeks (all Oregon).

• The SEC has had more teams ranked in the BCS standings for the most times than any other conference since 2006. The league has had 12 of its 14 teams ranked at one time or another since 2006 for a total of 290 times. The SEC breakdown: LSU (53), Alabama (43), Florida (41), Georgia (31), Auburn (29), South Carolina (29), Arkansas (23), Tennessee (14), Mississippi State (12), Texas A&M (8), Kentucky (4) and Ole Miss (3).

• Since 2006, the SEC has posted a 10-4 record in BCS bowl games, more wins and a higher winning percentage (.750) than any other conference. The win total nearly equals that of the next two highest conferences. Here are the BCS bowl records of all conferences since 2006:

SEC	10-4	.714
Pac-12	7-3	.700
Mountain West	2-1	.667
WAC	2-1	.667
Big East	4-3	.571
Big 12	4-6	.400
Big Ten	4-8	.333
ACC	2-6	.143
MAC	0-1	.000
Independents	0-2	.000

• Three of the top nine defensive performances in BCS history have been registered by SEC teams, more than any other conference. Alabama's shutout of LSU in the 2012 BCS National Championship Game was the first shutout in BCS history. Georgia defeated Hawaii, 41-10, in the 2008 Sugar Bowl, and Florida defeated Syracuse, 31-10, in the 1999 Orange Bowl - both are tied for 7th in lowest point total allowed in a BCS game.

• Alabama's 28-point victory over Notre Dame in the 2013 Discover BCS National Championship second-largest in the BCS era. (Southern Cal defeated Oklahoma by 36 in the 2005 BCS Championship Game for the top spot, however, that victory was later vacated.)

• During the current seven year streak, the SEC's average margin of victory in BCS National Championship Games is 17 points, which includes a three point victory over Oregon in 2011, the only game during the streak decided by single digits.

SEC IN OVERALL BOWL GAMES

• Since 2006, the SEC has accrued more bowl wins (42) and appearances (73) than any other conference. The conference's .656 bowl winning percentage is third behind the Big East (23-10, .697) and Mountain West (20-9, .690) during that time.

• In the 2012-13 bowl season, the SEC had the most wins (6) and had the third highest win percentage (6-3, .667), tied for second-highest among conferences that had six-or-more teams in bowl games.

• In January bowl games, the SEC is 27-12 (.692) against non-conference competition. Since 2008, the league is 21-8 (.724) against non-conference foes in January bowl games.

SEC vs. OTHER CONFERENCES

SEC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

SEC DIVISIONAL TIE-BREAKER

In the event of a tie for the division championship, the following procedures will be used to break all ties to determine the SEC Football Championship Game representative. All Conference versus Conference Games (both division and non-division) will be counted in the Conference Standings.

Two-Team Tie. In the event two teams are tied for a division title, the following procedure will be used in the following order:

- A. Head-to-head competition between the two tied teams;
- B. Records of the tied teams within the division;
- C. Head-to-head competition against the team within the division with the best overall (divisional and non-divisional) Conference record, and proceeding through the division (multiple ties within the division will be broken from first to last and a tie for first place will be broken before a tie for fourth place);
- D. Overall record against non-divisional teams;
- E. Combined record against all common non-divisional teams;
- F. Record against the common non-divisional team with the best overall Conference record (divisional or non-divisional) and proceeding through other common non-divisional teams based on their order of finish within their division; and

G. The tied team with the highest ranking in the Bowl Championship Series Standings following the last weekend of regular-season games shall be the divisional representative in the SEC Championship Game.

Three-Team Tie (or more). If three teams are tied for a division title, the following procedure will be used in the following order: (Note: If one of the procedures results in one team being eliminated and two remaining, the two-team tiebreaker procedure as stated in No. 1 above will be used):

- A. Combined head to head record among the tied teams;
- B. Record of the tied teams within the division;
- C. Head to head competition against the team within the division with the best overall Conference record (divisional and non divisional) and proceeding through the division (multiple ties within the division will be broken from first to last and a tie for first place will be broken before a tie for fourth place);
- D. Overall Conference record against non divisional teams;
- E. Combined record against all common non divisional teams;
- F. Record against the common non-divisional team with the best overall Conference record (divisional and non-divisional) and proceeding through other common non-divisional teams based on their order of finish within their division; and
- G. The tied team with the highest ranking in the Bowl Championship Series Standings following the last weekend of regular-season games shall be the divisional representative in the SEC Championship Game, unless the second of the tied teams is ranked within five-or-fewer places of the highest-ranked tied team. In this case, the head-to-head results of the top two ranked tied teams shall determine the representative in the SEC Championship Game.

ALABAMA – Marty Lyons, Defensive Tackle, 1975-78

One of the greatest defensive linemen in Alabama history, Marty Lyons played for coach Bear Bryant's Alabama teams from 1975-78. At Alabama, he had career totals of 202 tackles, 6 forced fumbles and 4 fumble recoveries, earning consensus first-team All-America honors as a senior in 1978 when he helped lead the Tide to a national championship. He was a key player in the famous goal line stand in the 1979 Sugar Bowl. Lyons was named All-SEC in 1977 and 1978 and he was selected to the Tide's Team of the Century. His best game came against Auburn in 1978 (16 tackles, 3 quarterback sacks) in a 34-16 win. He was a first round NFL Draft pick of the New York Jets in 1978. Lyons is a member of the State of Alabama Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

ARKANSAS – Wayne Martin, Defensive Tackle, 1985-88

A consensus first-team All-American and All-Southwest Conference defensive tackle, Wayne Martin racked up 162 tackles in his Razorback career including 37 tackles for loss (-189) and 25.5 sacks. He helped lead Arkansas to four bowl games and a Southwest Conference Championship in 1988. He still holds the single game and career records for sacks at Arkansas and is tied for third in the school record book for tackles for loss. Following his Razorback career, Martin went on to star for the New Orleans Saints for 11 seasons, playing in 171 games and posting 596 tackles and 82.5 sacks. OLE MISS – Jeff Herrod, Linebacker, 1984-87

During his four-year career at Ole Miss, linebacker Jeff Herrod became the school's all-time leader in tackles with 528, while also leading the Rebels in tackles all three years as a full-time starter. A two-time All-SEC selection and a third-team All-America pick, Herrod was named the Defensive MVP in the 1987 Senior Bowl. He had over 1,300 tackles during his 11-year career in the NFL, playing 10 years with the Indianapolis Colts and one year with the Philadelphia Eagles. Even in retirement, he has represented the Colts on several occasions, including the 2012 NFL Draft and the 2012 NFL Kickoff celebration, taking part in NFL Play 60 Youth Clinics. He is a member of the Ole Miss Team of the Century, the Ole Miss Sports Hall of Fame and Athlon Sports All-Time Rebel Team.

MISSISSIPPI STATE – Glen Collins, Defensive Line, 1978-81

Glen Collins was one of Mississippi State's most fierce defensive linemen in the early 1980's. His 1981 campaign landed him in the national spotlight as he led a unit that held 11 opponents to 88 yards rushing per game and 261 yards in total offense per game - both Top 15 nationally. Collins helped the Bulldogs post an 8-4 record that season, including a 10-0 shutout victory in the Hall of Fame Bowl against Kansas. He was named first team All-American by Kodak and The Sporting News, and was a UPI First Team All-SEC choice. He finished his collegiate career by playing in the East-West Shrine Game and the Olympia Gold Bowl. Collins was drafted in the first round of the 1983 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals and enjoyed a successful seven-year career in pro football.

MISSOURI – Phil Bradley, Quarterback, 1977-80

Phil Bradley was one of the top quarterbacks in Mizzou history and arguably the best two-sport athlete in Tiger annals. A three-time All-Conference pick from 1978-80, he won the Big Eight Offensive Player of the Year award as a senior in 1980. He quarterbacked Mizzou to 23 wins and three bowl games in his final three years and set the Big Eight total offense career record with 6,459. He was a star outfielder on MU baseball teams that won the Big Eight title in 1980 and played in two NCAA Tournaments. Bradley enjoyed an eight-year Major League baseball career and was named to the American League All-Star Team in 1985. He is currently a special assistant for the Major League Baseball Players Association and a volunteer coach for the nationally-ranked Tiger Softball team.

SOUTH CAROLINA – Max Runager, Punter 1974-78

He spent 11 years in the National Football League with the Eagles, 49ers and Browns and he punted for two Super Bowl teams, the 1980 Eagles and the 1984 49ers. Runager was elected to the University of South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2013.

TENNESSEE – Inky Johnson, Defensive Back, 2004-06

Inky Johnson played in 23 games for Tennessee from 2004-06 before a career-ending injury cut short a promising career. Johnson started eight games in his career, including six in 2005 and the first two games in 2006. He finished his career with 41 tackles, one sack, 3.5 tackles for loss, 10 pass breakups, one interception, one forced fumble, and one fumble recovery. He opened the 2006 season with six tackles, one TFL, and one PBU in a season-opening win over California, but suffered a career-ending shoulder injury in the subsequent week's win over Air Force. He has since used his story of overcoming adversity and adapting to change to help mentor underprivileged youth in Knoxville and his hometown of Atlanta.

TEXAS A&M – Dat Nguyen, Linebacker, 1995-98

Dat Nguyen was the winner of the 1998 Lombardi Award and Bednarik Award as well as a consensus All-America linebacker at Texas A&M. He was named All-Big 12 three straight years, leading the Aggies and its famed "Wrecking Crew" defense to the 1998 Big 12 Championship by upsetting top-ranked Kansas State and went on to lead A&M to the Sugar Bowl. Nguyen started every game of his Texas A&M career, setting a school record with 51 consecutive starts while collecting a school-record 157 career tackles. He is the only player in school history to lead the team in tackles four consecutive years. He was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys and played from 1999 to 2005, earning All-Pro honors in 2003 while becoming the first Vietnamese-American linebacker in the NFL.

VANDERBILT – Jimmy Williams, Cornerback/Running Back, 1997-2000

One of only three players in Vanderbilt history to return both a punt and kickoff for a touchdown, Jimmy Williams earned All-SEC honors in 1998, his first year as a starting cornerback. In 1997, Williams was a Freshman All-SEC pick as a starting running back who led the Commodores in rushing and receiving. After moving to defense, Williams was among the team's interception leaders three straight years and still ranks among the team's all-time interception leaders, also leading the team in kickoff returns three straight years. Drafted by the Buffalo Bills, he played six years in the NFL with San Francisco and Seattle before an injury forced his retirement. After his playing career, he started the Intercepting Our Youth Foundation to benefit youth in his hometown of Baton Rouge.

THIS IS THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

• Since its formation in 1933, the SEC has directed and organized interscholastic athletic competitions, conducted tournaments and prescribed eligibility rules for student-athletes. The Conference also facilitates and assists its member institutions in maintaining intercollegiate athletic programs compatible with the highest standards of education and competitive sports.

• The Southeastern Conference crowns champions in 21 sports - 12 women's sports and nine men's sports. They include baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, equestrian, football, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball.

• In the fall of 2012, the University of Missouri and Texas A&M University became the 13th and 14th members of the Southeastern Conference. It marked the first expansion for the SEC since 1991 and the second-ever increase for the league since its founding in 1933.

• The SEC's mission statement reflects the priorities of the league. "The purpose of the Southeastern Conference is to assist its member institutions in the maintenance of programs of intercollegiate athletics which are compatible with the highest standards of education and competitive sports."

• The Southeastern Conference has developed a database of minority football coaches in NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision and the NCAA Football Championship Subdivision since 2002. The 2012 database contained the names of 527 head and assistant football coaches from all 124 NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision universities and 73 NCAA Football Championship Subdivision institutions. The SEC begins the 2013 football season with two minority head football coaches - James Franklin (Vanderbilt) and Kevin Sumlin (Texas A&M).

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

• The Southeastern Conference had 39 Capital One Academic All-Americans in 2012-13. The league had 16 student-athletes earn first-team honors. The Capital One Academic All-America Teams are voted on by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). The 39 student-athletes represent 11 of the SEC 14 schools while nine schools had at least one person on the first-team. Since 2003, the SEC has had 186 student-athletes earn first-team Capital One Academic All-America status.

• The 16 SEC student-athletes who earned Capital One Academic All-America first-team status in 2012-13 were: Florida swimmer Elizabeth Beisel, Alabama softball player Kayla Braud, Arkansas football player Dylan Breeding, LSU track & field athlete Laura Carleton, Tennessee softball player Raven Chavanne, South Carolina baseball player LB Dantzler, Tennessee swimmer Kelsey Floyd, Alabama gymnast Kim Jacob, Alabama football player Barrett Jones, Missouri softball player Jenna Marston, Alabama golfer Stephanie Meadow, Auburn swimmer Kyle Owens, Kentucky men's soccer player Tyler Riggs, Missouri softball player Chelsea Thomas, Florida track & field athlete David Triassi and Alabama golfer Cory Whitsett.

• The SEC had four of its student-athletes earn Capital One Academic All-American of the Year in their respective sports - Florida swimmer Elizabeth Beisel (at-large); Tennessee softball player Raven Chavanne, South Carolina baseball player LB Dantzler and Alabama football player Barrett Jones.

• The Southeastern Conference had 22 of its student-athletes earn NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in 2012-13. The scholarships are awarded to student-athletes who excel academically and athletically and who are at least in their final year of intercollegiate athletic competition. • The SEC had two student-athletes awarded the NCAA Today's Top VIII - the only conference with multiple winners. The SEC's recipients were Brooke Pancake, Alabama (Women's Golf) and Wendy Trott, Georgia (Women's Swimming & Diving). The award recognizes eight current student-athletes who will have completed their athletics eligibility for their successes on the fields and courts, in the classroom and in the community.

• The SEC also had five student-athletes earn the NCAA Elite 89 award, which is given to the student-athlete with the highest cumulative GPA at the finals site for each of the NCAA championships. The 2012-13 SEC recipients were: Kim Jacob, Alabama (Gymnastics); Chelsea Oswald, Kentucky (Women's Indoor Track & Field); Brent Sterling, Tennessee (Men's Swimming & Diving); Cory Whitsett, Alabama (Men's Golf); and Emily Zabor, Alabama (Women's Tennis).

• The SEC has had eight student-athletes win the William V. Campbell Trophy given by the National Football Foundation. Since the inaugural award in 1990, the SEC has had more recipients than any other conference. The award, nicknamed the "Academic Heisman" goes to college football's top scholar-athlete. In 2012, Alabama's Barrett Jones was the SEC's eighth recipient of the trophy. In 2009, Florida's Tim Tebow won the honor. LSU's Rudy Niswanger won the honor in 2005, Tennessee's Michael Munoz claimed the award in 2004, Matt Stinchcomb of Georgia in 1998, Tennessee's Peyton Manning in 1997, Florida's Danny Wuerffel in 1996 and Brad Culpepper of Florida in 1991 was the league's first recipient.

• More than 2,300 student-athletes were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 2011-12. Members of the SEC Academic Honor Roll must have a 3.0 grade point average for either the previous academic year or his/her academic career at the SEC institution. The number represents almost half of the student-athletes that competed in the SEC last year.

FOR THE STUDENT-ATHLETE

• Alabama football player Barrett Jones and Kentucky cross country/ track & field athlete Chelsea Oswald were named recipients of the 2012-13 H. Boyd McWhorter Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year Awards. The McWhorter Scholar-Athlete Award is the highest honor a student-athlete can receive in the SEC. Each McWhorter Scholar-Athlete Award recipient receives a $15,000 postgraduate scholarship, while 26 other finalists for the award receive a $7,500 post-graduate scholarship.

• Missouri swimmer Joseph Hladik and Kentucky golfer Megan Moir were named recipients of the 2012-13 Brad Davis SEC Community Service Post-Graduate Scholarship. Each Community Service Leader of the Year receives a $10,000 post-graduate scholarship while 26 other finalists for the award receive a $5,000 post-graduate scholarship.

• The SEC was the first conference in the nation to assemble a Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. Two representatives from each of the SEC member schools are selected to serve on the committee which meets twice a year to discuss issues of concern to the student-athlete.

COMPLIANCE AND EDUCATION

• The 2004 SEC Task Force Committee on Compliance and Enforcement's report of recommendations represents an important step in establishing a new standard of compliance excellence within the Southeastern Conference. Among the recommendations included in this report is how institutions will handle reports of allegations, strengthening the relationship between the league's institutions and the conference office, developing new orientation programs and establishing an annual review of compliance issues.

• The SEC conducts a New Coaches Orientation Program three times a year, which supplements institutional orientation programs and enhance the professional development of coaches. Topics of discussion range from the role of the SEC and NCAA to the role of athletics in higher education.

SPORTSMANSHIP

• The SEC has implemented sportsmanship policies meant to strengthen the league's commitment to these principles. The league also developed a sportsmanship statement for its institutions to follow. It states:

"Coaches and student-athletes of a member institution, as well as individuals employed by or associated with that institution, including alumni, fans, patrons and boosters, shall conduct themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship. Their behavior shall at all times reflect the high standards of honor and dignity that characterize participation in the collegiate setting.

"For intercollegiate athletics to promote the character development of participants, to enhance the integrity of higher education and to promote civility in society, coaches, student-athletes and all others associated with these athletics programs and events should adhere to such fundamental values as respect, fairness, civility, honesty and responsibility. These values should be manifested not only in athletics participation but also in the broad spectrum of activities affecting the athletics program.

"It is the responsibility of each member institution to establish policies for sportsmanship and ethical conduct in intercollegiate athletics consistent with the educational mission and goals of the institution. Furthermore, member institutions are responsible for educating on a continuing basis all constituencies about these policies."

• The SEC has an annual Sportsmanship Award that will be awarded to one male and one female student-athlete. Voted on by the league's athletics directors, the award honors student-athletes who, through their actions in the competitive arena of intercollegiate athletics, have demonstrated one or more of the ideals of sportsmanship, including fairness, civility, honesty, unselfishness, respect and responsibility. The recipients of the 2012-13 award were Georgia women's tennis player Maho Kowase (female) and the South Carolina and Tennessee football teams (male).

IN THE COMMUNITY

• The SEC and its member institutions have partnered with the 11-state Special Olympics organizations in the SEC region. The relationship is featured on public service announcements aired on SEC telecasts, and Special Olympics participate in the Dr Pepper SEC FanFare, held in conjunction with the SEC Football and Basketball Championships.

• The SEC and its corporate sponsors host youth clinics each year in conjunction with several conference events, including the football championship game, the men's basketball tournament, the baseball tournament and the soccer tournament. These clinics provide children from host cities the opportunity to receive instruction from SEC and other area coaches.

• The SEC selects a Community Service Team in each of its 21 sports. The Community Service Team features a representative from each institution who has shown a commitment to community service.

SEC NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS HISTORY

• The Southeastern Conference won seven national championships in 2012-13: Football (Alabama), Men's Golf (Alabama); Men's Indoor Track & Field (Arkansas); Men's Outdoor Track & Field (Florida/Texas A&M); Equestrian (Auburn); Gymnastics (Florida); Women's Swimming & Diving (Georgia).

FOR THE FANS

• For the 32nd straight season, the SEC recorded the largest total football attendance of any conference in the country. The league has led in average attendance during the last 15 consecutive seasons. More than 7.5 million fans attended SEC football games in 2012 while stadiums were filled to 96.2 percent of capacity.

• The SEC had nearly 2.5 million fans attend its home basketball games during the 2012-13 season. In 240 home contests, SEC teams averaged 10,629 fans per game. Kentucky again led the nation in attendance, averaging 23,099 fans per contest. Tennessee was seventh in the nation, averaging 16,635 fans per game.

The SEC averaged nearly 5,000 fans per game (4,965) in 2013. The SEC and its member schools own virtually all regular season, conference tournament, NCAA Regional and Super Regional attendance records.

SECU - COMMITMENT TO THE UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC MISSION

• Using its SECU academic initiative, the Southeastern Conference sponsors, supports and promotes collaborative higher education programs and activities involving administrators, faculty and students at its member universities. SECU is led by the president or chancellor of each SEC university and is managed by the chief academic officer. The goals of the SECU initiative include highlighting the endeavors and achievements of SEC faculty and universities; advancing the merit and reputation of SEC universities outside of the traditional SEC region; identifying and preparing future leaders for high-level service in academia; increasing the amount and type of education abroad opportunities available to SEC students; and providing opportunities for collaboration among SEC university personnel.

• The SEC Academic Leadership Development Program seeks to identify, prepare and advance academic leaders for roles within SEC institutions and beyond. It has two components, a university-level development program designed by each institution for its own participants (i.e., fellows), and two, three-day, SEC-wide workshops held on specified campuses for all program participants. It was created in 2008 and has commissioned four cohorts.

• The SEC Faculty Achievement and Professor of the Year Awards recognize faculty with outstanding records in research, scholarship and service. There is one winner per campus and one overall winner for the Conference. All receive an honorarium and memento. The top recipient is honored during the annual SEC Awards Dinner in Destin, Florida.

• The SEC Faculty Travel Grant Program is intended to enhance collaboration that stimulates scholarly initiatives between SEC universities. The program offers faculty members from each SEC university the opportunity to travel to other SEC universities to exchange ideas, develop grant proposals, and conduct research.

• The SEC Symposium is an academic conference-type event intended to address a scholarly issue in an area of strength represented by all SEC universities, and to provide an opportunity to attract leading scholars from other institutions in the United States and abroad. Held in Atlanta, Georgia, this marquee event puts on display the research and innovation of SEC institutions for an audience of academics, government officials, grant funding agents and other stakeholders.
