

Many events are taking place around the Vanderbilt campus on Saturday, April 25. Not only is this the date of the Music City Marathon in Nashville, it is also the Dave Matthews Band concert, a tennis tournament, and a baseball game. If you are planning to visit campus that day, please remember that it will be very congested because of the events taking place. The attached map details parking information and road closures on that day, some of which include the following:

1. 25th Avenue and South Garages

- Starting at 6:00 a.m., attendants will begin charging off-campus visitors to park in these garages, which are parking sites for Dave Matthews Band.
- If you are a Vanderbilt employee and have a valid University/Medical parking permit, you should be admitted into the garage at no cost.

2. Lots 73, 74, and 75

- Starting at 6:00 a.m., attendants will begin charging off-campus visitors to park in these lots. A valid University/Medical parking permit cannot be used in these lots.

3. Wesley Place Garage

- Starting at 1:30 p.m., attendants will begin charging off-campus visitors to park in this garage.
- Vanderbilt employees with a valid University parking permit may park for free.

4. Terrace Place Garage

- Starting at 1:30 p.m., attendants will begin charging off-campus visitors to park in this garage.
- Vanderbilt employees with a valid University parking permit may park for free.

5. Campus Street Closures

- Starting at 6:00 a.m., Jess Neely and Natchez Trace will be closed for the Dave Matthews Band concert on Saturday.
- Starting at 6:00 a.m., Vanderbilt Place (between Natchez Trace and 31st Avenue only) will be closed for street parking.

6. Off-Campus Street Closures

- West End, 21st Avenue, Demonbreun, and many other surrounding roads will be closed for the Music City Marathon on Saturday.
