Tennessee vs. Vanderbilt

All-Time: Tennessee is 59-8

In Knoxville: Tennessee is 27-0

Away: Tennessee is 23-6

At Neutral Sites: Tennessee is 9-2

Post Season: Tennessee is 9-2

Overtime: Tennessee is 1-0

■ This marks the 68th meeting between the two schools dating back to the 1975-76 season.

■ Tennessee has won 23 of the last 25 games with Vanderbilt dating back to the 2001-02 campaign.

■ Before the Commodore win on Feb. 9, 2012, the Lady Vols had won the last seven straight over the Commodores.

■ Vandy's most recent victory against UT came on Feb. 9 in Nashville by a 93-79 score.

■ Tennessee Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt collected her 500th career home win when her Lady Vols defeated the Commodores on Jan. 15, 2012, 87-64.

UT-VU Tidbits

■ UT coach Pat Summitt has won 21 of 23 games over Vanderbilt while Melanie Balcomb has been the Commodore head coach over the last 10 years.

Threesies with the Commodores

■ Tennessee has faced Vanderbilt three times in a season nine times and posted a 25-2 mark in those games.

■ The 2009-10 season was such the case with three meetings as UT prevailed in the semifinals of the SEC Tournament in Duluth, Ga., 68-49, on Mar. 6; held on to defeat Vandy in Nashville, 69-60, on Feb. 8, 2010, and prevailed in Knoxville, 64-57, on Jan. 17, 2010.

Facing Vanderbilt

The Series// UT vs. VU

■ Tennessee and Vanderbilt have a storied past.

■ This will mark the 68th meeting between these SEC foes. No other team has recorded as many back-to-back games with the Lady Vols in single seasons since UT played Old Dominion home-and-home and in the postseason (practically every year) in the late 1970s and early 80s.

■ The Lady Vols possess a dominant 59-8 advantage in the overall series.

Closing in on 70 All-Time Meetings

■ Vanderbilt became the first opponent to face UT more than 50 times and then 60 times in a series and the first opponent the Lady Vols have defeated

50 times in a series all-time.

UT-Vandy Series Rankings

■ Typically, going into the Tennessee versus Vanderbilt match-up, the Lady Vols have entered the contest as the higher ranked team.

■ In fact, in the last 47 meetings dating back to Jan. 30, 1993, the Commodores have been ranked higher just six times.

■ Going into that memorable oversold game on the Nashville campus in 1993, Vanderbilt was ranked number one while the Lady Vols were a step behind at #2.

Always a Tough Ticket

■ Tennessee and Vanderbilt love to attract the crowds on their campuses when the two teams meet.

■ In UT's final home game of 2007, with the old Thompson-Boling Arena configuration, UT and Vandy attracted the largest crowd ever in the series as 24,251 clicked thru the turnstiles on Senior Day.

■ Vanderbilt attracted the largest crowd to Thompson-Boling Arena last season, 17,853, and the second largest crowd this season, 17,879.

■ Attendance averages dating back to 1986-87 season. KNOXVILLE TOTAL (AVG.) -22 games - 352,665 (16,030); NASHVILLE TOTAL (AVG.)-24 games -272,024 (11,334); NEUTRAL TOTAL (AVG.)-10 games- 79,213 (7,921). Largest gatherings: 24,251 in Knoxville 2/23/07, and 15,317 in Nashville 1/30/93.

Vanderbilt's Success in Nashville

■ Six of Vandy's wins in the series have come at Memorial Gymnasium on the Nashville campus, while two of the Commodores eight victories over UT have come on neutral courts in the SEC Tourney.

■ The closest Vanderbilt has come to claiming a win in Knoxville in 27 meetings was a two-point loss on Feb. 26, 1984, 74-72, in old Stokely Athletics Center on the UT campus.

■ In Thompson-Boling Arena, the 'Dores have walked a trey away from victory twice -- in 1996, 85-82 (1-19-96) and in 2006, 70-67 (2-12-06).

■ SEC neutral court wins for the Commodores -- in 2001, #15 Vandy upset #1 UT in the SEC Tournament in Memphis, 77-74, while Jim Foster was the Commodore head coach. In 1995, #9/11-ranked VU knocked #2-ranked UT out of the SEC's in Chattanooga, 67-61.

Balcomb has won Three

■ VU head coach Melanie Balcomb has claimed three all-time wins over Tennessee.

■ She is 2-21 vs. the Lady Vols while at Vandy since the 2002-03 season after picking up her first SEC win over the Lady Vols in Nashville on Jan. 11, 2009.

■ Previously, as the head coach at Xavier, her Musketeers sent UT home from the 2001 NCAA Tourney dealing a Sweet 16 upset defeat, 80-65.

To Note

The Series

- With the loss, Tennessee falls to 59-8 in the all-time series versus Vanderbilt dating back to the 1975-76 season.
- The loss is the first loss at the hands of the Commodores since Jan. 11, 2009 when VU won in Nashville.
- Tennessee has claimed 23 of the last 25 games with the Commodores, splitting the regular-season series with Vanderbilt with Thursday's loss.

For Starters

- Today's starters: Ariel Massengale, Meighan Simmons, Taber Spani, Shekinna Stricklen and Glory Johnson.
- These starters lined up for the opening tip of the Lady Vols' third game of the season -- the loss at Virginia.
- This is the second game with these five lining up for the opening tip. The Lady Vols are now 0-2 sporting this lineup combination.

Rivalry Fills Seats

- The Tennessee/Vanderbilt rivalry has put more bodies in seats than any other UT series this season. VU hosted 12,034 fans in Memorial Gym tonight -- the Lady Vols' away attendance high this season.
- The home game against Vanderbilt set UT's home high-mark for attendance this season with 18,789.

Wouldn't You Like to Know At the Half

- The Lady Vols trailed Vanderbilt at halftime, 42-34. Tonight's eight-point half-time deficit marks the second-largest trailing margin at the half for Tennessee. UT trailed Notre Dame by 10 at the half in South Bend (1/23).
- The Lady Vols have trailed at intermission in five games. Tennessee has led at the half in 16 contests and has been tied in the other three contests.
- Tennessee is now 0-5 when it trails going into the locker room.

Still Winless

- The Lady Vols overcame tonight's eight-point deficit, but were unable to retain their lead, falling for the fifth time this season when going into intermission behind.

Double Time

- Three Lady Vols recorded double-digit scoring efforts in the loss to Vanderbilt: Simmons (20), Johnson (19) and Stricklen (17).
- No Lady Vol collected double-digit rebounds. Freshman Cierra Burdick pulled down nine rebounds off the boards in the loss.

They're Back Beyond the Arc

- After struggling from beyond the arc versus Auburn and South Carolina, Tennessee tallied a better effort from three-point range against Vandy, hitting 7-of-19 shots (36.8 percent).
- The Lady Vols were 3-of-13 (23.1 percent) from downtown in the win over Auburn and 1-of-8 from long-range in the loss to South Carolina (12.5 percent). The season-low mark for treys occurred when Tennessee failed to hit a three-pointer versus DePaul.

Where are the Staples Defense...

- Tennessee found four Vanderbilt players in double figures -- and two with more than 20 points in the loss. The Lady Vols gave up 52 points in the paint to Vanderbilt.
- UT allowed Vandy to tally 21 points off 16 turnovers.

...And Rebounding

- Vanderbilt dominated the boards against the Lady Vols. The Commodores pulled down 41 rebounds while UT collected 27 off the glass.

Numbers of Interest

The Lady Vols are winless when trailing at halftime. Tennessee has now dropped all five contests when trailing at intermission.

Tonight's game marks the second time Tennessee has used this starting five. The Lady Vols have dropped both contests, losing also at Virginia.

Three Lady Vols put up double-digit scoring efforts in the loss to Vanderbilt: Simmons (20), Johnson (19) and Stricklen (17).

14

Vanderbilt outrebounded the Lady Vols, pulling down 14 more boards than Tennessee. UT only recovered nine balls off the offensive glass.

12,034

The Tennessee/Vanderbilt rivalry has put more bodies in seats than any other UT series this season. VU put 12,034 fans in Memorial Gym tonight.

- Vanderbilt registered 16 second chance points, while UT managed only nine.

Tennessee Tidbits Glory Gives What She's Got

- Glory Johnson notched 19 points on 8-of-12 shooting in the loss.
- Her eight field goals ties her personal SEC-best. She previously made eight buckets in the win over Georgia (1/5/12).

Simmons, Stricklen Score

- Meighan Simmons and Shekinna Stricklen each put up double-digit scoring efforts for Tennessee in the loss.
- The trio accounted for 56 of UT's 79 points (71 percent).

On the Horizon

Glory, Glory - Look Who's Boarding

- Glory Johnson is currently second on the all-time rebounding list with 1,086 boards.
- She needs 210 rebounds to catch program leader Chamique Holdsclaw, who pulled down 1,295 rebounds in her Lady Vol career.

Massengale Dishes 'Em

- With seven assists versus Vanderbilt, freshman point guard Ariel Massengale neared the rookie assist mark.
- She is 22 assists shy of the Lady Vol record for assists in a season by a freshman. Loree Moore dished out 133 helpers for Tennessee in 2001-02.

Up Next

- Tennessee returns home to play host to Kentucky in the Play for Kay game, Monday, February 19 at 7:00 p.m.

Tennessee at Vanderbilt Postgame Quotes

HEAD COACH Pat Summitt

(On Tennessee's loss)

"Obviously, we are very disappointed and rightfully so. I didn't think we brought the energy early on. We didn't sustain runs and we didn't have a whole lot of runs to sustain. It's really just a big disappointment."

(On Tennessee's loss)

"It absolutely wasn't there. They let us down. As coaches, we're not happy and they're not happy or at least they better not be happy. We have more basketball to play. This one hurts. It really does."

(On Vanderbilt outrebounding Tennessee)

"We saw a lot of lack of effort on the court tonight. You have to give Vanderbilt all the credit. They came ready to play Melanie Balcomb does a great job. We just have to go back and figure out ways we can improve. We have a lot to improve on."

ASSISTANT COACH Mickie DeMoss

(On giving up 93 points)

"You have to give Vanderbilt a lot of credit. They're a very good offensive team. They execute extremely well. Still, to give up 93 points is very disappointing for our defense."

(On Tennessee's interior defense)

"I don't know if it surprised me. I've seen some other post players manhandle our post in there. They just kept getting deep berries. They had us pinned up under the rim and they were just turning and shooting a layup on us. For whatever reason, we're going to have to get a little tougher on our interior defense."

GUARD Meighan Simmons

(On the loss to Vanderbilt)

"It's tough. We talk about it in the locker room (how) we come out in the first half and we don't start off strong and play behind the entire game. When we put ourselves in a position like that, we lose focus. We can't lose our focus from here on out. We have to keep our focus throughout the entire game."

(On the Lady Vols' defense)

"To be honest, I don't even know where it was tonight. We just weren't disciplined enough to play defense. We played defense against Auburn, we have to bring that intensity each and every night. We can't bring it one game and then not bring it at all in the next."

(On defending the Vanderbilt offense)

"Once we got their outside shutdown, we had to focus on both (inside and outside). We know if one doesn't work (of them) they are going to switch it up. Tonight they really did and we didn't respond. We couldn't score and we just let (Christina Foggie) have her game, she played an awesome game and I give her credit. I give Vanderbilt credit they are a major team and they showed they wanted more than we did. We can't show that anymore."

(On Kentucky Game On Monday)

"Personally, we have to get back in the gym and get better. From here on out we have to focus and learn from this game and make sure we get ready to play against Kentucky. We just have to come out ready. This game is history."

Last Meeting: #13/10 UT def. Mississippi State, 57-41, on Feb. 16, 2012 in Starkville

■ This would mark the 34th meeting between the two schools dating back to the 1985-86 season.

■ Tennessee leads the series with Miss. State, 33-0.

■ The two teams began their series during the 1985-86 season in Starkville.

■ The closest game between UT and MSU was the 2003 SEC Tournament match-up won by the Lady Vols, 76-75, on a Kara Lawson buzzer-beater.

Final SEC Regular Season Road Swing Started at The Hump

■ Tennessee picked up its 10th conference W on the 2011-12 campaign with a 57-41 win over Mississippi State on Feb. 16 in Starkville.

■ Taber Spani is one of four Lady Vols averaging double-figure scoring against Mississippi State. Spani averages 10.0 ppg while Glory Johnson drops in 11.8 ppg, Shekinna Stricklen 13.6 ppg and Meighan Simmons 11.3 ppg.

■ Johnson also grabs double-digit boards against the Lady Bulldogs snagging 12.1 rpg.

■ Calling Kara Lawson... The former Lady Vol All-American and Olympian was money in the clutch against Mississippi State.

■ Lawson provided the kill shot against MSU a number of times during her career. In her last game against State on Mar. 8, 2003 in the SEC Tournament, the senior scooped in the final buzzer-beater bucket in a 76-75 win over #4-seeded MSU.

■ The game winning shot by Lawson marked the third time in her illustrious career that she had been credited with the basket to beat the Lady Bulldogs.

■ On Valentine's Day 2002 (Lawson's birthday) in Starkville, Miss., she hit a 12-footer at the buzzer to help UT come back from 14 down to beat MSU 80-78, while on Feb. 17, 2000, she hit a trey with 1.6 ticks left to beat State 79-75.

Massengale Followed MSU

Cousin Barry Stewart Played for State

■ Ariel Massengale was a fan of Mississippi State basketball when her cousin Barry Stewart played for the Bulldogs (2006-10).

■ The 6'3" guard from Shelbyville, Tenn., (Shelbyville Central H.S.) played in 141 games during his career and averaged 11.4 ppg.

■ Stewart's final career game was a 76-74 loss to North Carolina in the NCAA Tournament.

Ranking the 33-Game Winning Streak

■ Tennessee's 33-game consecutive winning streak over Mississippi State is the sixth longest in the nation.

■ The list is topped by Stanford who has won 53 consecutive over Washington State and Old Dominion has taken 52 straight over William & Mary.

Lady Vols from the Magnolia State

■ Former Lady Vol Pashen Thompson is the only UT player to don the Orange and White from the state of Mississippi (Philadelphia). Thompson was at Rocky Top from 1993-97 and won two NCAA titles (1996 and 1997).

MSU SERIES TIDBITS

Tennessee leads the series with Miss. State, 33-0. The two teams began their series during the 1985-86 season at Starkville. The closest meeting between UT and MSU was the 2003 SEC Tournament match-up won by the Lady Vols, 76-75, on a Kara Lawson buzzer-beater.

AVERAGE SCORE

The average score of a UT-MSU game is 77.1 to 55.2. The Lady Vols average margin of victory is +21.9 points.

STATE IS THE ONLY ONE

Mississippi State is the only SEC school winless against Tennessee. Entering the 1996-97 season, three SEC teams had never posted a win over the Lady Vols -- Arkansas, Florida and Mississippi State. In that 10-loss national championship season, two of the three picked off the Lady Vols -- Arkansas grabbed a 77-75 win in Fayetteville on Dec. 29, 1996 and Florida turned the trick, 71-62, on Jan. 21, 1997 in Gainesville for the first times ever.

To Note

The Series

- With the win Tennessee, moves to 33-0 in the all-time series versus Mississippi State dating back to the 1985-86 season.
- MSU head coach Sharon Fanning-Otis was a graduate assistant under Pat Head Summitt at Tennessee during the 1975-76 season.

For Starters

- Today's starters: Ariel Massengale, Meighan Simmons, Taber Spani, Shekinna Stricklen and Glory Johnson.
- This is the fourth game with these five lining up for the opening tip. The Lady Vols are now 2-2 sporting this lineup combination.
- These starters lined up for the opening tip of Monday's dominant display over Kentucky as well as the Lady Vols' road losses at Virginia (11/20) and Vandy (2/9).

Wouldn't You Like to Know

At the Half

- The Lady Vols led Mississippi State at halftime, 22-13.
- UT's total of 22 points in the first half is its second-lowest first-half total on the season, as they posted 18 points at Notre Dame (1/23).
- Tennessee has led at the half of 18 contests. The Lady Vols have trailed at intermission of five games and has been tied in the other three contests.
- Tennessee is now 17-1 when it leads going into the locker room, with the lone loss coming to Baylor (11/27).
- Mississippi State's 13-point first half showing is the Lady Bulldog's lowest total in any half of the year. MSU's previous mark came when it scored 16 points in the first half against Arkansas (1/26).
- The total was also the second-fewest first-half points for a UT opponent this season as it gave up 11 points in the first half at Arkansas (1/8).

Double Time

- Two Lady Vols put up double-digit scoring efforts in the win over Mississippi State: Stricklen (22) and Burdick (10).
- With 22 points and 12 rebounds in the win, Shekinna Stricklen recorded her fourth double-double in the 2011-12 season.

Absent Behind the Arc

- Tennessee struggled from three-point range versus the Lady Bulldogs, going 1-of-9 (11.1 percent) from downtown in the win. The Lady Vols' first trey of the contest came at the 11:20 mark in the second half from Shekinna Stricklen.
- UT struggled from beyond the arc versus Auburn and South Carolina; the Lady Vols were 3-of-13 (23.1 percent) from three in the win over Auburn and 1-of-8 from three in the loss to South Carolina (12.5 percent).

Lights Out Off the Bench

- The Lady Vol bench was lights out in the first half with Williams, Burdick and Baugh combining for a perfect 6-of-6 showing from the floor.
- Tennessee's bench contributed 20 points in the win while Mississippi State's bench was held scoreless.

Turnover Troubles

- UT had trouble taking care of the rock against Mississippi State, recording 19 turnovers in the win -- 13 of which came in the first half.
- Tennessee gave up its season-high mark of 24 turnovers at Virginia (11/20).

Summitt's Staples

Defense...

- Tennessee held Mississippi State to 41 points in the win -- the third-lowest total for an opponent this season.
- The Lady Vols also held the Lady Bulldogs to 16 field goals in the contest -- the third-lowest mark for a UT opponent this season.

With 22 points and 12 rebounds in the win, Shekinna Stricklen recorded her fourth double-double in the 2011-12 season.

10

The win over Mississippi State pulls head coach Pat Summitt closer to her next win plateau. Ten more wins will put her at the 1,100-win milestone.

13

UT held Mississippi State to 13 points in the first half -- a season low in any half for the Lady Bulldogs. Their previous low was a 16-point showing in the first half versus Arkansas.

33

With the win, Tennessee wins its 33rd consecutive game over the Lady Bulldogs. UT is a perfect 33-0 against MSU since the series began during the 1985-86 season.

1,108

With 15 rebounds against MSU, Glory Johnson surpassed the 1,100 rebound plateau. She has now tallied 1,108 rebounds in her Lady Vol career.

...And Rebounding

- Tennessee dominated the boards versus Mississippi State, winning the board game 59-37. UT's 59 boards were a season-high, surpassing its 56-rebound effort vs. Baylor (11/27).
- The Lady Vols collected 16 offensive boards which they converted to the tune of 12 second chance points.

On the Horizon

Approaching 1,100 Wins

- Eleven more wins will put Summitt at her next victory milestone: 1,100 wins.

Glory, Glory - Look Who's Boarding

- Glory Johnson is currently second on the all-time rebounding list with 1,108 boards. With tonight's boarding effort, the senior forward surpassed the 1,100 rebound plateau.
- Her 15 rebounds tonight are a season-high for the senior as she tallied 14 at Arkansas (1/8). Her career-best mark is 18 rebounds which came versus Mississippi State last season (1/23/11).
- She needs 188 rebounds to catch program leader Chamique Holdsclaw, who pulled down 1,295 rebounds in her Lady Vol career.

Massengale Dishes 'Em

- With one assist at Mississippi State, freshman point guard Ariel Massengale neared the rookie assist mark.
- She is 14 assists shy of the Lady Vol record for assists in a season by a freshman. Loree Moore dished out 133 helpers for Tennessee in 2001-02.

Simmons So Close

- Sophomore Meighan Simmons needs six points to join the 800-point club in just her second year with the Lady Vols.

Up Next

- UT continues its visit to the Magnolia State with the Lady Vols' last regular season road contest at Ole Miss (2/19).
- Tennessee will finish the regular season at home with games versus Arkansas (2/23) and Florida (2/26).

Mississippi State Quotes

HEAD COACH Pat Summitt

(On Tennessee defensive and rebounding play)

"I thought it was a very good sign for us. I thought they were very focused on the boards and on our defense. Things weren't going our way all the time, but I thought we buckled down and did what we had to do."

(On Glory Johnson and Shekinna Stricklen)

"I thought Glory (Johnson) and (Shekinna) Stricklen did a good job on the boards. We needed that. If you can control the boards, you have a great influence on controlling the game."

(On whether Tennessee rushed shots early on)

"Definitely at the start of the game. We were all over the place. Once we settled down, they did a much better job."

(On Vicki Baugh)

"I think her playing in the post she has a great presence and she's good around the glass. I think it's where she's best suited as opposed to being at on top of the floor."

ASSISTANT COACH Mickie DeMoss

(On the defense in the first half)

"It did (help us). We started in a zone again and I felt we covered their shooters and their scorers pretty well and held them to 13 points in the first half. Then our bench play was key for us tonight. We couldn't make shots. Our starters were struggling to make shots. We went to the bench pretty early and Kamiko Williams came in and was a spark on the offensive end. They Cierra Burdick came in and knocked down some big shots. So I think our bench really came through for us, bigtime."

(On playing a lot of zone defense)

"We did what we needed to do. There were some gaps in it. (Mississippi State) penetrated on us a little bit and got in the gaps a few times. All in all, it was pretty solid and that's a good thing. A lot of people have zoned them this year, so I knew they would have more options against the zone. All in all, we went to some man (defense) in the second half to change up to cover their shooters a little bit better. I thought our zone was pretty good."

(On the overall game)

"I wouldn't say this was a pretty glamorous game. It was just a grind. I think anytime you come to Mississippi State, they have a good basketball team. We knew that it was probably going to be a grind. We thought we might shoot the ball a little better than we did. Our defense stayed tact, kept rebounding, and we didn't let our offense effect that phase of our game."

(On the pace of the game)

"We still wanted to run, but we wanted to be a little more selective with our shots at the end of transition. We felt we were rushing our shots, going down and taking really quick shots. A lot of times, weren't set and ready to shoot it. Against Kentucky, we were standing on shots and early shots went down. Some games they don't fall. Then you have to be selective and let's get ready to set up our half-court offense."

SENIOR FORWARD SHEKINNA STRICKLEN

(On Tennessee's slow start in the first half)

"We started off a little slow. In the first half, shots weren't falling. I think our defense really helped us out. In the first half, Cierra (Burdick) and Kamiko (Williams) came in and really carried this team. They stepped up coming off the bench. I give those two a lot of credit because they really got us going in the first half."

(On rushing shots early)

"I think we were starting to rush a little bit. They were making us play a little fast. We didn't really have composure on our shots. We were fading away from our layups. Glory and I were just fading away. We just have to start going into it and going up strong."

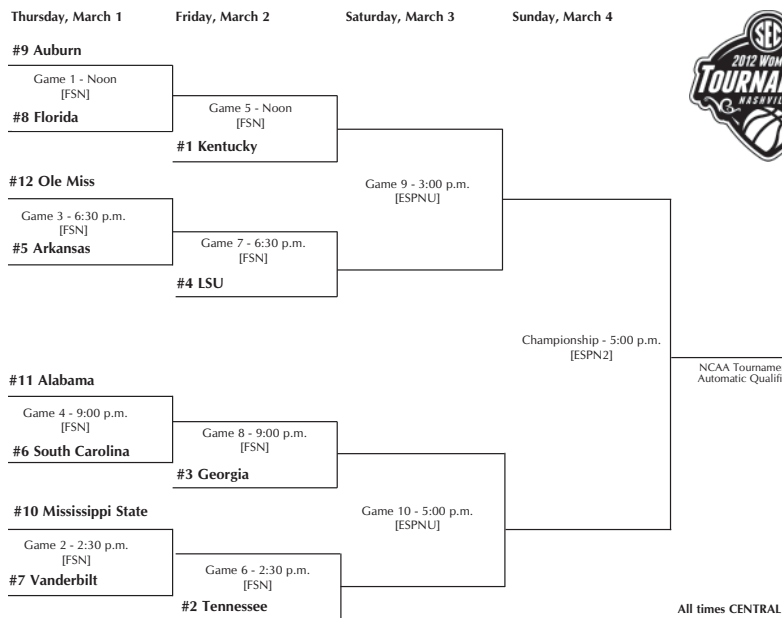

(On the difference between her first and second halves)

"I was more aggressive, not thinking and just playing. My teammates were carrying me a lot. They were telling me, 'It's going to fall. Just keep going hard.' That's what I did with my teammates having my back, this team being together, everyone stepping up and playing their role."

(On the keys to Tennessee's turnaround)

"It is, but we just bring our defense and rebounding. That's what we had in Monday's game. I felt like our defense was pretty good though (tonight) and it really helped us this game. Our rebounding was outstanding."

LADY VOLS' SUCCESS IN THE SEC TOURNAMENT

SEC ANNOUNCES 2012 HONORS Three Lady Vols are Named

- The Southeastern Conference announced its annual women's basketball awards on Feb. 29 and three Tennessee Lady Vols earned honors.
- In a vote by the league's 12 coaches, Lady Vol graduate student and post Glory Johnson (Knoxville, Tenn.) was selected as the SEC Defensive Player of the Year. Johnson was also named to the eight player SEC First Team and was the SEC Community Service representative from UT.
- Senior forward/guard Shekinna Stricklen (Morrilton, Ark.) was selected along with Johnson to the eight player SEC First Team while rookie guard Ariel Massengale (Bolingbrook, Ill.) was placed on the eight player SEC All-Freshman squad.
- This marks Johnson's second appearance on the All-SEC First Team after also earning the same honor in 2011. Last season, she was a member of the five player 2011 SEC All-Defensive team for the first time. As a rookie, she was named to the 2009 SEC All-Freshman Team. The 6'3" leaper was UT's second leading scorer in SEC games at 13.9 ppg while posting 9.7 rpg.
- Johnson, who graduated in just three years in global studies, is now in graduate school pursuing a master's in communication and information studies. Despite her demanding schedule and maintaining a 3.6 GPA, she also made time to be involved in the community.
- This year, she has read to youngsters at a day care center... found time to volunteer at Children's Hospital...been involved with West New Elementary School, Habitat for Humanity and the Knoxville "Extreme Home Makeover." She also assisted with the Knoxville Humane Society's Adopt-a-Pet drive and the UT FCA Girls Night Out.
- Stricklen, a 6'2" guard/forward/center for the Lady Vols, was the 2011 SEC Player of the Year. This year, she earned All-SEC First Team honors for the second time (2012, 2011) after placing on the Second Team in 2009 and 2010 and All-Freshman team in 2009. Stricklen led her 2012 Tennessee team in SEC scoring (15.8 ppg) while adding 6.1 rpg.
- The 5'6" Massengale has been a dynamic quarterback for the Lady Vols. She has run the team as the rookie point guard from day one and along the way broke the Lady Vol freshman assist record with 137 helpers on the season.

- She averaged 7.7 ppg in both SEC and overall play while grabbing 2.7 rpg (SEC) and dishing out over five assists per contest.

UT SEC TOURNAMENT HISTORY

33 SEC Appearances

- The Tennessee Lady Vols' 2012 appearance in the SEC Tournament is the school's 33rd time to the mini-Final Four.
- This season marks the 31st time that UT has received a first round bye and the eighth trip as the No. 2 seed.
- The Lady Vols have fared pretty well from the No. 2 tournament seeding winning the SEC Tournament in six of the previous seven appearances-- 2008, 2006, 2005, 1992, 1989 and 1988.
- In 1984, UT bowed out in the quarterfinals as the No. 2 seed. The Lady Vols redeemed the postseason at the Final Four in Los Angeles as the NCAA runner-up.
- The Lady Vols have appeared as the No. 1 seed in the SEC tourney 16 times.
- UT has been seeded lower than the second spot just six times -- No. 3 (1991, 1985), No. 4 (2009-tie, 1987) and No. 5 (1997, 1986).

UT's SEC Tournament W-L Record

- Since the tourney began in 1980, the Lady Vols sport the best overall record in the tournament.
- UT has produced a 66-17 (.795) record which breaks down this way: vs. Alabama (9-2), vs. Auburn (9-4), vs. Florida (8-0), vs. Georgia (9-3), vs. Kentucky (5-1), vs. LSU (7-4), vs. Ole Miss (5-1), vs. Miss St. (4-0), vs. South Carolina (2-0), and vs. Vanderbilt (8-2).
- The Lady Vols have never faced Arkansas.
- The SEC Office record indicates that UT is 65-17 in SEC play. However, in the old format, there was a consolation game. In 1983, UT defeated Auburn, 83-75, in the consolation finals.

Bowing Out Early

- There have been four trips to the SEC Tournament since 1980 when the Lady Vols didn't even get to unpack their bags, losing in second round action after receiving a bye.
- In 1981, Alabama sent UT packing after a 77-71 loss; in 1984, Alabama again provided the honors with a 85-66 drubbing; in 1986, Ole Miss dealt UT a 83-78 loss, and in 1993, Georgia provided UT with an early exit from Chattanooga, 73-72.

UT and Auburn Find a Way to Meet

- In UT's 83 all-time SEC Tournament games, Tennessee and Auburn have battled in over one-sixth of the contests or 13 games.
- The Lady Vols sport an 9-4 record in SEC Tournament action against the team from The Plains.

Just Two Meetings with South Carolina

- Tennessee has faced South Carolina the least number of times (two games, 2-0) outside of never having faced Arkansas at all.
- Ironically, the first meeting with South Carolina was (previously) the ONLY time UT had to play on the Tournament's first day -- in 1997. That year, UT defeated USC, 75-48, beat LSU in overtime, 100-99, and lost to Auburn in the semifinals.
- The Lady Vols would not lose again that season winning the 1997 NCAA title at 29-10 overall.

Closing in on 70 Wins

- If the Lady Vols are lucky enough to win the 2012 tournament, UT will be within one win of 70 all-time SEC Tournament victories.
- Tennessee recorded its 60th win all-time in the SEC Tournament with the triumph over #21/18 Florida, 71-67, on Mar. 6, 2009.

- In 2005, UT grabbed win number 50 with the victory over #18/17 Vanderbilt, 76-73, on Mar. 5, 2005. Vanderbilt is a distant second in all-time SEC Tournament wins with 43 (26 losses) and Georgia stands third with 41 wins all-time (28 losses).

20 Times in the Finals

- The Championship game against Kentucky in the 2011 SEC Tournament marked the Lady Vols 20th incredible trip to the final round of the nation's toughest conference tournament.
- UT is 15-5 in all-time SEC Championship game meetings.
- In the 1990s alone, the Lady Vols were in the title game eight times (1990, 1991, 1992, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1998, 1999) against five different SEC teams.
- In that decade, UT won titles in five of the years -- 1999 vs. Georgia, 85-69, 1998 vs. Alabama, 67-63, 1996 vs. Alabama, 64-60 (without Chamique Holdsclaw due to a knee injury suffered in the opening minutes of play), 1994 vs. Vanderbilt, 82-57 and 1992 vs. Georgia, 73-66.
- The Lady Vols have won titles in 2011, 2010, 2008, 2006, 2005, 2000, 1999, 1998, 1996, 1994, 1992, 1989, 1988, 1985, and 1980.
- UT amassed a 16-3 record in SEC games played in Chattanooga and brought home four titles from that venue (1994, 1996, 1999 and 2000).
- In four SEC Championships in Nashville, UT has taken two titles home in 2008 and 2011.

Daring Doubles

- In 2011, UT pulled off the "daring double" by winning both the SEC regular season and SEC Tournament titles.
- It marked the first back-to-back daring double years in over a decade.
- At the 2010 SEC Tournament, the Lady Vols accomplished something they had not done in 10 years, win the "daring double" of the SEC regular season and SEC Tournament titles.
- Prior to the last two seasons, previously UT accomplished the double in the 1999-2000 campaigns when UT won its sixth all-time D-D.
- Years when the Lady Vols won dual crowns were 1980, 1985, 1994, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2010 and 2011.
- Only three other SEC schools have ever won both titles: Georgia (1983, 1984 and 1986), Auburn (1981 and 1987) and Kentucky (1982).

Century Mark in the SEC Tourney

- The Lady Vols have reached the century scoring mark four times in the SEC Tournament.
- In 1998, the Lady Vols derailed Vandy, 106-45.
- In the previous year (1997), the Lady Vols scored 100 on LSU in an overtime affair.
- Nine years earlier, in 1988, Tennessee nailed Kentucky for 100 points.
- And in the very first SEC Tournament game in 1980, Tennessee crushed Florida, 118-44. That Florida team was coached by UT assistant head coach Mickie DeMoss.

SEC Overtime Tournament Games

- In 32 years and 83 games in the SEC Tournament, the Tennessee Lady Vols have been involved in just two overtime contests.
- In 2004 in Nashville, Tennessee and Georgia met in the semifinals on Mar. 6. #20/16-ranked Georgia forced the overtime with the score knotted at 57-all.
- #1-ranked UT took a quick four-point lead but Georgia responded with a 7-0 run to take the 68-66 win and earned a trip to the title game.
- In Tennessee's only other SEC overtime, in 1997, Tennessee snuck by LSU with a narrow 100-99 victory in overtime in second round play.
- In the next game, a weary UT squad lost a heart-

Chamique Holdsclaw
Lady Vol Basketball -- 1995-1999

The Naismith Player of the Century and four-time Kodak All-American, Chamique Holdsclaw led the Lady Vols to a 131-17 overall record and three consecutive national championships from 1996-98. She is the program's all-time leader in scoring (3,025 points) and rebounds (1,295). The NCAA Tournament most outstanding player in 1997 and 1998, she still holds the record for points (479 points, 21.8 ppg) and rebounds (198 rebounds, 9.0 rpg) accumulated in tournament games. The first two-time winner of the Associated Press Player of the Year Award, Holdsclaw garnered 34 individual awards during her career, including 21 player of year honors from a variety of organizations. In 2006, she was named to the NCAA 25th Anniversary Team after being named to the Kodak 25th Anniversary Team in 1999.

breaker to Auburn, 61-59, in semifinal action.

- The loss to Auburn was UT's 10th on the season. It would be the last loss for the 1996-97 "Cinderella Season" team as they ran the table in the NCAA Tournament to claim NCAA title number five.

SEC Notebook

Sweet Home Tennessee

- Since Tennessee began contesting games with SEC opponents, the Lady Vols have produced a 192-14 record in home games.
- Eight SEC teams have managed victories over the Lady Vols in Knoxville – Arkansas, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss and South Carolina.

Items of Interest

- Since Pat Head Summitt arrived as head coach at UT in 1974, the other 11 Southeastern Conference schools have seen a total of 69 coaches at the helm of their women's basketball programs.
- Over the last 38 years, Tennessee has enjoyed one head coach for Lady Vol hoops -- Summitt. Next to Tennessee, Auburn, Georgia and Vanderbilt are the SEC programs with the next fewest head coaches over the 38 year span -- just four each 1996.
- Tennessee owns a 458-70 record all-time record vs. 12 teams from the SEC. UT maintains a winning record against every team in the SEC.
- UT owns a league best record of 317-44 (.884) against all SEC teams dating back to the 1982-83 season.

SEC Regular Season Story

UT's last SEC win at home:

Florida, 75-59, 2-26-12

UT's last SEC win away:

Ole Miss, 66-56, 2-19-12

UT's last SEC loss at home:

Arkansas, 72-71 OT, 2-23-12

UT's last SEC loss away:

Vanderbilt, 93-79, 2-9-12

Conference Call

- Tennessee practically holds a winning streak over every SEC team. The Lady Vols sport 30-plus game winning streaks over two SEC teams -- Alabama 38 and Mississippi State 33.
- Tennessee had a 40-game streak snapped against South Carolina when the Gamecocks won 64-60 on Feb. 2, 2012, and an 18-game winning streak against Arkansas went by the wayside on Feb. 23, 2012 with a 72-71 overtime win in Knoxville.

School	Win Streak and last loss
Alabama	38 in a row, since 3-3-1984
Arkansas	no streak, since 2-23-2012
Auburn	4 in a row, since 3-7-2009

MUSIC CITY HAS BEEN A TOUGH VENUE

- The Music City hasn't been overly generous to the Lady Vols in the previous four appearances as UT has posted a 8-2 record.
- In 2002, UT defeated Georgia (81-67) but lost to LSU in the semis (81-80).
- In 2004, Tennessee defeated Mississippi State (67-57) but lost to Georgia in the semis (68-60 OT).
- Third time was the charm in 2008 when Candace Parker and company went for the extended stay plan sweeping Florida (92-61), Vanderbilt (63-48) and LSU (61-55) en route to the title
- Last year, a sea of orange greeted the Lady Vols and swept them to the 2011 SEC Championship.
- UT defeated Florida (92-75), Georgia (82-58) and #16-ranked Kentucky (90-65) to win title number 15.
- Tennessee took no prisoners in 2011 outscoring the opposition 88.8 to 66.0 for a +22.0 winning advantage.

Big Orange Tailgate Tour

- The Lady Vols are in the "Music City" for the 2012 SEC Tournament at Bridgestone Arena, Mar. 1-4.
- Tennessee, the 2010 & 2011 SEC Tournament Champs, will be back to defend its titles.
- In Nashville, Lady Vol fans will be congregating at B.B. King's Restaurant and Blues Club (152 2nd Ave.) for the Big Orange Tailgate Tour.

- Tennessee head coach Pat Summitt will be coaching in her 1,300th game in the Second Round of the SEC Tournament on Mar. 2.
- She enters the game with a record of 1,092 wins and 207 losses in 38 years on the Lady Vol sidelines.

U.S. Basketball Writers Honor Summitt Will Receive the Most Courageous Award

- This year marks the 35th time the USBWA has presented its Most Courageous Award, which ranks as the third-oldest award in the USBWA's 56-year history.
- This year, Tennessee coach Pat Summitt is one of the recipients.
- First presented in 1978, the Most Courageous Award has honored individuals in college basketball who have shown extraordinary courage in the face of adversity and provided an inspiration by overcoming a physical handicap or injury or living through a hardship.
- Originally, only one award was presented each year, but since 2010, the USBWA has selected both a male and female recipient annually.
- The award was created by former president and later executive director Steve Guback. It has remained a highlight of the USBWA's annual awards breakfast on the morning of the men's and women's national title games.
- This year's recipients -- Summitt and Florida State's Bernard James -- follow in a long line of recipients who have been honored for the courage they've shown dealing with what life has brought them.

Big Crowd Expected to Travel

Last Year at Bridgestone

- Tennessee enjoyed Big Orange crowds in Nashville last year.
- UT played in front of 7,461 spectators in a Noon CT matinee game last year against Florida in a 92-75 win.

- More folks arrived on Saturday to see Tennessee and Georgia face off in front of 10,297 fans.
- The championship game between Tennessee and Kentucky was a collection of 11,150 Big Orange and Big Blue fans.
- The Lady Vols averaged 9,636 spectators last year.

Bounced Back...Yet Again

UT Bounced Back from Loss Number Eight

- Tennessee was in a battle with a scrappy Florida team on Feb. 26 trying to bounce back from loss number eight of the season.
- On "Senior Day," in Knoxville, the Lady Vols a 75-59 win.
- The victory assured UT of the number two seed in the SEC Tourney.
- The Lady Vols have hit a rough stretch in the month of February going just 5-3 and losing to two unranked teams at home.
- Heading into this stretch, Florida (in 2006) was the only unranked team ever to beat the Lady Vols in Thompson-Boling Arena until unranked South Carolina and Arkansas both pulled it off in February 2012.
- It also marked the first time in the 25-year history of TBA that UT lost three home games in a season.
- The last time UT had eight losses on Feb. 26 was rookie year (2008-09) the current senior class..
- They actually picked up loss number nine of the season on Feb. 26 losing at LSU in a heart-breaker 63-61.
- Prior to that, you have to go back to the HBO "Cinderella Season" of 1996-97.
- The Lady Vols had also had nine losses at that point in the year and would eventually collect 10 (L's to #8 La Tech, #5 Georgia, #1 Stanford, #22 Arkansas, #1UConn, #4 Old Dominion, #19 Florida, #6/5 Louisiana Tech, #13 LSU, and unranked Auburn in the SEC Tournament).
- That would be the final loss of the year as the team ran the table in the NCAA Tournament as a number three seed and captured NCAA title number four in Cincinnati, Ohio, and finished the year at 29-10, 8-4 in the SEC.

Senior Moments

All Five Expected to Start

- Tennessee's five player senior class is expected to start in the 2012 SEC Tournament.
- The quintet of guards Briana Bass and Alicia Manning, forwards Vicki Baugh and Shekinna Stricklen and post Glory Johnson started together on Senior Day.
- The fivesome got Tennessee off to a good start and provided a solid foundation to win the game over Florida.
- The Lady Vols, admittedly, are not a come from behind team as evidenced by an 0-6 record in 2011-12 when trailing at the half.

Briana Bass 5'2" G Indianapolis, Indiana

- Since she stepped on campus, this diminutive Lady Vol has been a crowd favorite... During her career, she has played in 111 games and earned 16 career starts...She has scored 242 points and dished 130 assists...Five times, she has connected in double-figures scoring... She recorded a career high 14 points versus Duke and dished a career best 8 assists versus DePaul...She is a Vol Scholar and a four-year academic standout earning SEC All-Academic honors...Majoring in Sport Management with a Business minor.

Vicki Baugh 6'4" C Sacramento, California

- If there was an award for perseverance, it would have to go to number 21... She celebrated the thrill of victory of the 2008 NCAA title as a rookie and the agony of defeat suffering through two ACL knee surgeries in less than a year...During her career, she has played in 104 games and earned 23 career starts...She is a member of the 500-500 club scoring 586 points and grabbing 511 rebounds...18 times she has connected in double-figures scoring and she has posted 5 career double-doubles...She recorded a career high 17 points versus Baylor and grabbed a career best 16 rebounds against Louisiana Tech... She is a Vol Scholar and an academic standout earning SEC honors...She already has a degree in Psychology and will receive her master's in Kinesiology this May leaving UT with two diplomas.

Glory Johnson 6'3" F-C Knoxville, Tennessee

- Tennessee's fifth all-time Lady Vol Academic All-American has enjoyed a decorated UT career as a member of the All-SEC, SEC Defensive Player of the Year, All-SEC Defensive and All-SEC Rookie teams... During her time at Tennessee, she has played in 134 games and earned 111 career starts...She has scored 1,526 points and grabbed 1,134 rebounds – just the fourth Lady Vol ever in the thousand-thousand point and rebound club... She has connected in double-figures scoring 80 times and has 33 career double-doubles...Her career highs include 25 points versus Florida and 16 rebounds against Mississippi State...She is a nominee for the Naismith Award, the Wooden Award and the Wade Trophy... This Academic All-American and All-SEC standout graduated in just three years in Global Studies and is currently pursuing a master's in Communication and Information Studies.

Alicia Manning

- She endeared herself to the Lady Vol fans as a blue collar worker... During her career, she has played in 132 games and earned 34 career starts...She is a member of the 500-500 club scoring 596 points and grabbing 525 rebounds...17 times she has connected in double-figures scoring and she has posted 5 career double-doubles...She recorded a career high 22 points versus South Carolina and grabbed a career best 15 rebounds against Old Dominion... She has connected in double-figures scoring 96 times and has 21 career double-doubles and just the second triple-double in Lady Vol history...Her career highs include 27 points versus Stanford, 16 rebounds against South Carolina and a career best 12 assists versus Oklahoma...She is a nominee for the Naismith Award, the Wooden Award and the Wade Trophy... This All-American and All-SEC standout is majoring in sociology with a criminal justice concentration.

February Frustration at 5-3 Overall

Go Figure

- The Lady Vols' February roller coaster was definitely a two ticket ride.
- After a January of non-stop travel, the Lady Vols were to be treated to five games at home and just three on the road in the month of February.
- UT did not get February off to a good start dropping a 64-60 decision to South Carolina in Knoxville on Feb. 2.
- It marked the first time the Gamecocks had defeated the Lady Vols since 1980...some 40 consecutive victories ago over USC dating back to when current UT associate head coach Holly Warlick was the Lady Vol point guard.

- UT rebounded from the sixth loss of the season to beat Auburn, 82-61 in Knoxville, on Feb. 5.
- Tennessee failed to back its defense and rebounding for the trip to Nashville to face Vanderbilt for the second time in the 2011-12 season.
- The Commodores tallied 93 points against UT to win going away in front of a happy black and gold crowd of 12,034 on the Vandy campus on Feb. 9.
- Tennessee was looking to avenge loss number seven of the season as Kentucky rolled into Knoxville for a Big Monday game on ESPN2 on Feb. 13.
- The Orange played one of its most complete games of the season and skinned the Cats, 91-54, to vault back into the SEC race.
- Instead of packing the momentum from the win over UK, Tennessee managed wins at Mississippi State (57-41) and Ole Miss (66-56), Feb. 16 and 19.
- The uninspired road play definitely had the UT coaching staff concerned as a red hot Arkansas team traveled to Knoxville on Feb. 23.
- On Jan. 8, UT embarrassed the Razorbacks 69-38 in Fayetteville as the Hogs managed just 10 field goals for the game and shot 18.2 percent from the field.
- Arkansas, who had just one win over Tennessee all-time, took a 72-71 overtime decision on Feb. 23 in Knoxville.
- It marked the first-ever three loss record in TBA.

Inside the Numbers

- During February, UT averaged 72.6 ppg while giving up 62.5 ppg.
- Tennessee's rebounding advantage dropped to just +5.5 (40.5 rpg to 35.0 rpg for the opposition).
- While UT connected on a better field goal percentage (.461), the opponents were more accurate from three-point land at .336 (48-143 vs. just 33-106 for UT, .311).
- Ironically, UT's top three scorers in Shekinna Stricklen, Glory Johnson and Meighan Simmons were right on average.

Rim Runners

Woulda, Coulda, Shoulda

- After losing just one game in the SEC the past two seasons and claiming both the regular season and tournament titles, UT finished second in the league behind Kentucky.
- Tennessee dropped a heartbreaker at Kentucky, 61-60, on Jan. 12, but kept the Cats in sight.
- On Feb. 2, the Lady Vols lost to South Carolina, 64-60, for the first time in 40 games dating back to 1980.
- LSU assuaged UT by defeating Kentucky on Feb. 5 handing the Wildcats its first SEC loss of the year.
- The Orange squandered that gift by losing at Vanderbilt, 93-79, on Feb. 9 in Nashville.
- Tennessee bounced back and fashioned a 91-54 win over Kentucky to hand the Cats its second SEC loss.
- Alabama then gift-wrapped a third UK loss in Kentucky's very next game to tie the two teams at 10-3 in the SEC.
- UT owned the top spot tiebreaker over UK heading into the game with Arkansas but lost to the Hogs 72-71 in OT.

Heartbreaking Loss to the Hogs

Orange Opportunity Slips Away

- Tennessee was sitting in the driver's seat ready to capture the 2012 SEC regular season championship heading into the Arkansas game on Feb. 23.

- Unranked Arkansas had other ideas taking a 72-71 overtime win from the Lady Vols.
- The red hot hogs in no way resembled the team that the Lady Vols defeated 69-38 in Fayetteville, Ark., on Jan. 8, 2012.
- Tennessee is now 0-2 in overtime games in 2011-12. The Lady Vols lost to unranked Virginia, 69-64, on Nov. 20, 2011.
- Three of Tennessee's eight losses this season have come to teams who were unranked at the time of the game. All, however, have been ranked at some point this season: Virginia, South Carolina and Arkansas.

2012 SEC Race - Went Down to the Wire

Kentucky Clinched It

- Kentucky finished at the top of the SEC ladder with a 13-3 record after defeating Mississippi State in the regular season finale.
- Tennessee was second at 12-4 after beating Florida.

Tough Schedule Factors in for NCAA Seeding

Tennessee has Played 13 Ranked Teams

- Tennessee enters the SEC Tournament sporting the nation's number one strength of schedule and the number five RPI.
- Potential opponents Vanderbilt has an RPI of 25 and a strength of schedule at 32 while Mississippi State is 128 RPI and an SOS of 70.

Over 200,000 Fans at Home

15th Consecutive Season

- The Lady Vols entertained 216,206 fans in Thompson-Boling Arena this season.
- UT went over the 200,000 fan plateau at home games for the 15th consecutive season when a season high 18,563 clicked through the turnstiles versus Florida on Feb. 26.
- Tennessee averaged a nation-leading 14,414 fans at home games this season.

Rookie Got the Record

Massengale on the Dish.

- Rookie Ariel Massengale broke the Lady Vol freshman assist record in the game with Florida on Feb. 26.
- She needed just two assists to pass the all-time rookie leader and handed out five in limited minutes on "Senior Day."
- Massengale has handed out 137 assists in 26 games to pass Loree Moore (2001-05) who held the freshman assist record with 133 assists in 34 games (3.91 apg).
- Also in the UT rookie 100 assist club are: Dawn Marsh (127), Lea Henry (119), Dena Head 118, Holly Warlick (112), Alexis Hornbuckle (110), Kristen "Ace" Clement (107), Meighan Simmons (104) and Candace Parker (103).
- Presently, Massengale's 5.3 apg is tied for sixth in the all-time single season assists average.

Get out the Broom...It was a Sweep!

Lady Vols Sweep SEC Weekly honors

- Shekinna Stricklen named the SEC Player of the Week and Cierra Burdick earned Freshman of the Week as the Lady Vols swept the honors on Feb. 20.
- Stricklen averaged 17.3 ppg and 7.0 rpg in three key SEC wins last week. In a must win over No. 7-ranked Kentucky on Monday, she scored 18 points and grabbed six rebounds while connecting on 66.7 percent of her shots.
- In that game the Morrilton, Ark., product eclipsed the 1,700 career points and 800 career rebounds. She led the Lady Vols with 22 points and 12 rebounds in a key road victory at Mississippi State on Thursday night, marking her fourth double-double of the season.
- On Sunday at Ole Miss, Stricklen tossed in 12 points, including two of three three-pointers, and grabbed three rebounds.

- For the week, Stricklen shot 53.8 percent from the field (21-39), 50.0 percent (3-6) from three-point land and 87.5 percent (7-8) on her charity tosses, averaging 30.0 mpg.
- The honor is Stricklen's fifth career SEC Player of the Week award. She captured the accolade three times in 2009-10 and once in 2010-11.
- Stricklen joins classmate Glory Johnson (two times) as Lady Vols that have won the SEC POW this season.
- Burdick was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the first time during her rookie campaign after scoring 7.3 ppg and grabbing 6.0 rpg for the week. Averaging 18.0 mpg, she connected on 66.7 percent of her shots (10-15) while contributing 2.7 apg.
- In limited duty versus Kentucky (10 minutes), she grabbed five rebounds, dished three assists and added a bucket. At Mississippi State, she logged 26 minutes while scoring 10 points, grabbing seven rebounds, with three assists two blocks. Against Ole Miss, she dropped in 10 points on 4 of 5 shooting (.800), collecting six rebounds and two assists in 18 minutes.

Johnson Joins a Select Group

Glory Johnson Named Academic All-America

- Glory Johnson has been selected to the prestigious 2012 Capital One Academic All-America® Division I Women's Basketball Team, as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).
- Johnson, who graduated in three years with a degree in Interdisciplinary Global Studies with a 3.6 GPA, is pursuing her master's degree in Communication and Information Studies. The 6'3" post was named to the 2011 Academic All-America Second Team last year.
- "It is such an honor to represent the University of Tennessee this way," Johnson said. "Working hard in the classroom has really paid off."
- "I'm definitely glad to be one of the five women selected to receive such a unique honor."
- "When I was young, my parents emphasized performing in the classroom and on the court. To have school paid for is a blessing to begin with, so it was important to me to utilize my time as best I could to be on track for both my undergrad and grad degrees."
- A member of the Naismith Trophy Preseason Watch list, she was selected to the 2011-12 preseason All-SEC first team. Last season, Johnson received All-SEC first team honors.
- Johnson is the fifth Lady Vol to capture Academic All-America honors twice, joining Angie Bjorklund (second team 2011, first team 2010), Candace Parker (first team 2008, second team 2007), Tanya Haave (first team 1984, second team 1983) and Jill Rankin (first team 1980, second team 1979).
- Additionally, Parker and Rankin were each named the Academic All-American of the Year in 2008 and 1980, respectively.
- Forward Elana Della Donne from the University of Delaware was named the female Academic All-American of the Year.
- Joining Johnson and Della Donne on the first team were grad student Amanda Johnson of Oregon, senior guard Roxana Button of Houston, and junior guard Caroline Durbin of New Mexico to round out the Capital One Academic All-America® Women's Basketball Division I first team.
- The five members of the 2012 Capital One Academic All-America® Women's Basketball Division I first team have an amazing average G.P.A. of 3.84.

Another 20 Win Season

Grabbed #20 at Ole Miss

- The Lady Vols have put yet another 20-win season in the books.
- With a victory over Ole Miss on Feb. 19, it marked the 36th consecutive time a Lady Vol team reached at least 20 wins in a season under Coach Pat Summitt.
- Last year, the Lady Vols tied for accumulating 20 wins the second-fastest ever of any Tennessee LV hoops team.

Summitt's Non-20-Win Seasons?

- Tennessee's Pat Summitt has only had two teams fail to reach 20-win seasons during her 38-year tenure.
- In her first and second seasons (1974-75 and 1975-76) at UT, the Lady Vols were 16-8 and 16-11, respectively.

Career Stat Updates

Numbers Adding Up

- Vicki Baugh grabbed six boards at Mississippi State and is now a member of the 500-point, 500-rebound club with the Lady Vols. Baugh is now closing in on 600 career points (586 entering the SEC Tournament) and has 511 career rebounds in limited games.
- Glory Johnson went over 1,500 career points in the game with Arkansas on Feb. 23. She now has 1,526 points to go along with 1,134 career boards.
- Sophomore Meighan Simmons just passed the 800 career point plateau. She now has 822 points.
- Senior Shekinna Stricklen eclipsed 1,700 career points versus Kentucky and through the game with Florida has 1,770 points for her career.
- Stricklen also has a career collection of caroms with 855.

Back-breakers Game Highs

UT Twenty-Something Nights

- Four Lady Vols have launched 20-something scoring nights in 14 games this season.
- Inflicting the most damage against the opposition has been senior Shekinna Stricklen who has tagged eight opponents for: 27 at Stanford, 25 vs. Baylor, 24 at Georgia, 22 vs. Rutgers/Mississippi State, 20 vs. Vanderbilt and 20 vs. Texas.
- Junior Taber Spani started the season on a roll (before suffering her bone bruise) and dropped 22 points at Virginia and scored 20 vs. Miami.
- Sophomore Meighan Simmons has posted a pair of SEC career best 20 point games at Vanderbilt and at Auburn.
- Grad student Glory Johnson has joined the 20 party twice with 22 points vs. Georgia and 21 against Florida.

Escaping Our Defense -- Career Nights for Opponents

- Conversely, 17 opponents have enjoyed 20-something-plus scoring nights in 15 games this season.
- Inflicting the most damage against the Lady Vols was Stanford's Nneka Ogumike who rang up 42 points in the Cardinal win.
- Kentucky's Adia Mathies enjoyed a scorefest in the first meeting on Jan. 12, 2012, dropping 34 points against UT.
- Markeshia Grant (South Carolina), Skylar Diggins (Notre Dame), Christina Foggie (Vanderbilt), and April Sykes (Rutgers) all managed to score 27 points.
- Stanford's Toni Kokenis and Baylor's Brittney Griner each had 26.
- Valencia McFarland from Ole Miss hit for 21 points on Feb. 19 and Arkansas' Lyndsay Harris scored 20 points on Feb. 23.
- Last year at this time, only 10 opponents had managed more than 20 points and only one player tagged UT for over 25 counters.

In the Jump Circle

Those Ranked Teams

- Kentucky (on Feb. 13) was the 13th game against a ranked team for the Lady Vols in 2011-12.
- UT is 8-5 versus ranked foes this season having defeated #7/7 Miami (92-76), #21/22 Texas (73-57), #20/21 DePaul (84-61), #11 Rutgers (67-61), #16/15 Georgia (80-51), #25/24 Vanderbilt (87-64), #17/15 Georgia (67-50) and #7/7 Kentucky (91-54).
- Tennessee's ranked losses have been to #1 Baylor (76-67), at #4 Stanford (97-80), at #9/8 Kentucky (61-60), at #2 Notre Dame (72-44) and at #rv/25 Vanderbilt (93-79).

Will Eclipse 300,000 on the Season

Leading the Nation

- Through 29 games, a nation-leading 299,848 spectators have seen Tennessee play at home, on the road and on one neutral court.
- UT is just 152 fans away from playing in front of 300,000 spectators.
- When that milestone number is achieved, it will mark the 16th consecutive year the team has played in front of that many fans.
- A crowd of 10,523 in Athens, Ga., for the Tennessee vs. Georgia game put UT over 200,000 total spectators on the season.
- In 15 games at home, the Lady Vols attracted 216,206 spectators or an average of 14,414 per game in Thompson-Boling.
- UT went over the 100,000 mark in home fans in just eight games this season in Knoxville.

From the Chalk Board

MUST Control the Glass

- Tennessee has lost the rebounding battle against Miami; in back-to-back games against UCLA and Stanford, to Notre Dame, Auburn (in Knoxville) and at Vanderbilt.
- Conversely, the Lady Vols held a decisive rebounding edge over #1-ranked Baylor grabbing 56 rebounds to the Lady Bears' 42.

- UT is outrebounding the opposition by just a +8.1 average this year.

It's Not Better to Give

- Tennessee has been its own worst enemy turning the ball over.
- On the season, UT has generated 17.2 points off of miscues per game while the opposition is banking 12.7 ppg off of Orange mistakes.
- UT leads in second chance points per game at 15.8 ppg with the opposition checking in at 11.8 ppg.

Dropping Dimes

'Rel Can Dish

- Frosh Ariel Massengale hit the century mark for assists against South Carolina with three helpers and became just the 10th Lady Vol rookie to dish 100 first year assists.
- Heading into the SEC Tournament, she is the all-time rookie leader.
- Massengale recorded 12 scoring passes against Vanderbilt for the UT single game rookie record on Jan. 15.
- At Alabama on Jan. 26, she handed out 11 assists in 28 minutes.

Academically Speaking

Johnson and Spani named to All-District

- Two Lady Vols were selected to the District 3 Capital One Academic All-District Basketball Team as announced by CoSIDA on Feb. 2.
- Graduate student and forward Glory Johnson and junior guard/forward Taber Spani captured Academic All-District First Team honors after being named to the Academic All-District Second Team last season.
- Nominees for the All-District teams had to be a varsity starter or key reserve, maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.30 on a scale of 4.00, have reached sophomore athletic and academic standing at her current institution and be nominated by her sports information director.
- Johnson, a 6-3 athletic post, is a two-time SEC Player of the Week selection this season. The Knoxville native is averaging 13.5 ppg and 9.5 rpg while shooting 57.3 percent from the floor.
- After earning her undergraduate degree in just three years, she has a 3.6 GPA in graduate school and is working toward her masters in communication studies.
- Spani is averaging 9.9 ppg and hitting 48.2 percent of her shots from beyond the arc this season. A native of Lee's Summit, Mo., she missed nine games this winter after suffering a bone bruise, but has played in three of Tennessee's last four contests.
- Spani maintains a 3.91 GPA and is majoring in communications studies.
- After earning All-District First Team honors, Johnson and Spani are now eligible to advance to the Capital One Academic All-America Team ballot later this month.

For Real Rebounding

Chasing Chamique

- Grad student Glory Johnson eclipsed 1,000 career rebounds at Arkansas and joined an exclusive club with three other Lady Vols.
- Johnson immediately passed Tamika Catchings who had 1,004 caroms in nearly four full years of play.
- Since then, the Knoxville native has also passed Sheila Frost (1,043 rebounds in 138 games).
- Entering the SEC Tournament, Johnson has 1,134 career rebounds in 134 games.
- She is chasing Chamique Holdscrow who collected 1,295 rebounds in 148 career games.

Free Throw Defense

7-of-16 vs. Notre Dame & 18-for-31 Against LSU

- UT made 16 trips to the charity stripe against Notre Dame and connected on a paltry seven tosses for 43.8 percent.
- Tennessee might have defeated LSU by 20 points or more if the Lady Tigers free throw defense hadn't been so tough.
- The Lady Vols were an anemic 18 for 31 from the charity stripe for 58.1 percent.

I Swear We Practice

- Making free throws has always been a team priority and some of the LSU misses came from normally reliable shooters.
- Vicki Baugh went 2-for-6 from the line. She is a 72.7 career free throw shooter.
- Since enduring a miserable 52.4 percent inaccuracy from the free throw line in the loss to Virginia in overtime, you'd think the Lady Vols had learned their lesson.
- On the season, UT's free throw percentage has yo-yoed from the 70 percent range to the present of 69.3 percent (438-632).
- Glory Johnson has been sent to the line a team high 168 times and connected on just 102 for a dismal 60.7 accuracy rate.

Home Wins for Summitt

Summitt at 500

- With a 87-64 victory over Vanderbilt, Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt collected her 500th career win at home.
- Of the now 504 wins, a total of 180 have come against ranked opponents in Knoxville.
- Summitt has claimed victories in Alumni Gym, Stokely Athletics Center and Thompson-Boling Arena on the UT campus over the last 38 years.

And Summitt at 200

- The 87-64 victory over Vanderbilt on Jan. 15, 2011 was also another home milestone for Summitt...Her 200th SEC home win.

Things to Consider

No Secrets -- Even if We Tried

- The Lady Vols have appeared on television in 27 of 29 regular season games.
- Every Tennessee game in the SEC package was slated for TV this year.

Elite Company

Glory -- Running Out of Time

- It's a fact that Tennessee has produced some of the greatest players ever in women's collegiate basketball.
- It's a little known fact that there has only been one double-figure rebounder in the history of the program -- Olympian and Kodak All-American Patricia Roberts.
- Roberts hauled in 14.2 rpg (467 total) in her only season as a Lady Vol in 1976-77. She also claimed scoring honors with 29.9 ppg (987 points) in her single season on The Hill.
- In 2006-07, Candace Parker came the closest to a double-figure rebounding average but had to settle for 9.8 rpg.
- Last season, Glory Johnson flirted with the elusive double-digit and managed 9.7 rpg.
- Johnson is currently averaging 9.3 rpg.

Head Coach Pat Summitt

Amazing Summitt Numbers

- Pat Summitt's teams have faced 164 different opponents in 1,299 total games and teams from 35 conferences
- 46% of her 1,299 total games have been played versus ranked teams (601 total games against ranked opponents) with 438 victories versus ranked opponents
- 161 all-time Lady Vols have contributed to 1,092 wins.
- 72% of those all-time players have gone on to be decorated as Olympians, All-Americans, USA

National Team members, All-SEC performers, Academic All-Americans, Academic All-SEC, etc.

NCAA's Ford Award

- Tennessee coach Pat Summitt was the recipient of the 2012 NCAA President's Gerald R. Ford Award.
- Summitt was recognized during the opening business session on Jan. 12 at the 2012 NCAA Convention in Indianapolis.
- The Lady Vols played at Kentucky, so Summitt addressed the Convention attendees in a taped video message and Joan Cronan accepted the award on Summitt's behalf.
- Announced on Dec. 6 the award is named in recognition of former President Gerald Ford, honors an individual who has provided significant leadership as an advocate for intercollegiate athletics over the course of their career.
- NCAA President Mark Emmert said her contributions to intercollegiate athletics over almost four decades go well beyond one sport.
- "Coach Summitt has been recognized numerous times for her contributions to women's basketball -- and rightly so," Emmert said.
- "The Ford Award honors her for what she has meant to intercollegiate athletics through her career and for the positive example she continues to set today."

Former Players Compile a Memory Book

- After hearing of Tennessee Lady Vol Coach Pat Summitt's diagnosis of early onset dementia, Alzheimer's type, Chamique Holdscrow reached out to players spanning all decades of Lady Vol basketball to compile a "memory book" for their coach.
- Holdscrow, a four-time Lady Vols All-American from 1995-99, contacted former Lady Vol players, managers and staffers asking them to share written memories, Summitt's influence on their lives, and photos of their time in the program. The Astoria, N.Y., native then compiled all of the submissions into a book.
- "I know my relationship with Coach Summitt through the death of my grandmother and me going through my ups and downs battling depression," said Holdscrow. "What I realized from these letters is coach has helped these players through some of the most difficult times of their lives. When I'm reading them, I'm thinking, 'Wow she's had such an impact on all of our lives and just not basketball.'"
- A collection of former players and managers met with Summitt prior to the UT game against Old Dominion and presented her the book.
- Summitt was overwhelmed. "It's really hard to surprise Pat," Holdscrow said. "She was really excited and very touched by the book."

Maggie Dixon Award

- Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt was presented with the Maggie Dixon Courage Award at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 11, 2011.
- The Award is presented annually to an individual who exhibits courage in the face of adversity and continues to exemplify Maggie's mantra of never allowing adversity to get in the way of achieving a dream.

Sports Illustrated Sportswoman for 2011

- As the all-time winningest coach in NCAA collegiate basketball, University of Tennessee Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt has won her fair share of awards over the past 38 years.
- On Dec. 5, 2011 Summitt joined an elite group of sports superstars when it was announced by Time Inc. Sports Group editor Terry McDonnell that she, and Duke's Mike Krzyzewski, were the 2011 SPORTS ILLUSTRATED Sportswoman and Sportsman of the Year.

- On Tues., Dec. 6 Summitt and Krzyzewski were fêted at a celebration in New York City and were joined by fellow Sportswomen and Sportsmen Chris Evert (1976), Sugar Ray Leonard (1981), Wayne Gretzky (1982), David Robinson (2003) and David Ortiz (2004).
- Summitt and Krzyzewski, the NCAA's all-time winningest women's and men's basketball coaches, joined an elite group of sports immortals, including Muhammad Ali, Arthur Ashe, Derek Jeter, Michael Jordan, Billie Jean King, Jack Nicklaus, Bobby Orr and Pete Rozelle to receive this award.
- The magazine's editors have chosen each honoree based on the principles established in 1954, when runner Roger Bannister was honored as SPORTS ILLUSTRATED's first Sportsman: "While the victory may have been his or hers, it is not for the victory alone that he or she is honored. Rather, it is for the quality of their effort and manner of their striving."
- Summitt and Krzyzewski join UCLA's John Wooden (1972) and North Carolina's Dean Smith (1997) to round out a veritable Mount Rushmore of college coaches who have received this award.
- In 1972, Wooden, who had won his eighth national title in nine seasons, was selected along with Billie Jean King. Smith was honored in 1997, the same year he set the then NCAA wins record and announced his retirement.
- Other coaches named Sportsman include Joe Paterno (1986); manager Terry Francona (2004, with the Boston Red Sox); Herb Brooks (1980, with the U.S. Olympic hockey team) and Tony DiCicco (1999, with the U.S. Women's soccer team).

We Back Pat

- To coincide with National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month the matchup between the No. 6/7 Lady Vols and the No. 1 Baylor Lady Bears on Sun., Nov. 27th was designated as the first of two, "We Back Pat" games.
- The Vols will also participate in a "We Back Pat" game in January, when Coach Cuonzo Martin and the Big Orange take on the Connecticut Huskies on January 21st (CBS).
- Thousands of fans wore the "We Back Pat" t-shirt to the Baylor game as 16,623 spectators were on hand.
- Shirts are still available at The UT Bookstore and Stokely Athletics Center stores, as well as area Food City and Walgreens. The shirts are $10, with $4.25 from every shirt going to research.
- In a halftime ceremony at the Baylor game, checked were presented to Alzheimer's Tennessee and UT Medical Center, as the 'We Back Pat' T-shirts have already generated more than $150,000 in donations. The proceeds will help directly impact those living with the disease in the state of Tennessee.

Announcing the Pat Summitt Foundation

- Since sharing her diagnosis of dementia in late August, Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt indicated she would like to start a foundation.
- Summitt along with her son, Tyler, have formed a foundation that will fund grants in support of Alzheimer's programs. The foundation, The Pat Summitt Foundation Fund (www.patsummitt.org), was announced at halftime of the Baylor game on Nov. 27 in Knoxville.
- The aim of her Foundation is to make grants to non-profit organizations which provide education and awareness of Alzheimer's, its onset and treatment; support services to patients, their families and caregivers, and research to treat, prevent, cure and ultimately eradicate the disease.

- "Tyler and I have decided to join this battle, not just for us, but also for the millions of families affected by this disease. I have always told our players, our greatest opportunities are disguised as our greatest obstacles. It is time to treat this obstacle as an opportunity and a stepping stone to a cure," Summitt said.

AARP Recognizes Summitt

- AARP The Magazine has announced the recipients of its 10th annual Inspire Awards. Each year the Inspire Awards pay tribute to outstanding individuals who inspire others to action through their innovative thinking, passion and perseverance.
- This year's list of distinguished honorees includes: Pat Summitt (The Alzheimer's Advocate), Jane Goodall (The Conservationist), Steve Jobs (The Game Changer), Andy Czerkas (The AARP Foundation Hunger Hero), Sen. Daniel K. Inouye (The Chief Compromiser), Irene Zola (The Advocate for the Elderly), Toby Keith (The Supporter of U.S. Troops), Hilton Kelley (The Environmental Advocate), Emilio Estefan Jr. (The Latino Promoter) and Ret. Army Col. Bill Badger, Patricia Maisch, and Roger Salzgeber (The Arizona Shooting Heroes).
- "Through their extraordinary efforts to lead, innovate, and give back in ways that make a real impact, this year's honorees motivate our readers to make a difference in their own communities," said Nancy Perry Graham, Vice President and Editor of AARP The Magazine. "This daring dozen are compassionate and forward-thinking individuals who define inspiration."
- This year's honorees are profiled in the December/January issue of AARP The Magazine.

Summitt Receives Courage Award

- The United States Sports Academy presented Lady Vol Coach Pat Summitt its "Courage" award at the Pepperdine game on Nov. 13.
- Trustee emeritus of the USSA, Gene Policinski, was on hand in Knoxville to give Summitt one of the organization's most prestigious honors -- the Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias Courage Award.
- Citing that, Summitt, the seemingly unbeatable coach, has dementia and she vows to fight it, raise awareness and keep on coaching.
- The Courage Award is presented annually to an individual who demonstrates courageous action in overcoming adversity to excel in sport. This individual should exhibit the qualities of courage, perseverance, grace, and strength in sport achievement.
- Zaharias' spirit and zest for life, as well as her courage, strength, and achievement, are the qualities for which this award is named. The Babe's fight to overcome life-threatening cancer and then return to the winner's circle in women's professional golf has withstood the test of time.

Off the Glass

Rebounds Win Championships

- Coach Pat Summitt's mantra of defense and boards has been a staple of her nearly four decades of coaching.
- UT started out the 2011-12 regular season hauling in 54 boards against Pepperdine while the Waves snagged 34.
- Tennessee fell off the rebounding wagon in the very next game as Miami controlled the glass collecting 45 boards to the Lady Vols' 38 total rebounds. That was a vast improvement over UT's 13-rebound deficit at halftime to the Hurricanes.
- UT corrected the rebounding problem against Virginia, 45-38, with Shekinna Stricklen collecting 14 boards.
- Since losing the battle of the boards to Miami,

Tennessee had not be outrebounded again until it faced UCLA on Dec. 17 and Stanford on Dec. 20.

- A month later, Notre Dame turned the trick outrebounding UT, 44-35.
- On Feb. 5, Auburn's eight team rebounds resulted in a 42-39 rebounding edge.
- In the very next game, Vanderbilt controlled the boards 41-27.
- Overall this season, the Lady Vols have been outrebounded six times and hold just a +8.1 rebounding advantage, 43.4-35.3.
- Last season, in 37 games, Tennessee was outrebounded only twice -- by Georgia Tech, 37-36, and vs. Kentucky in the SEC Tournament final, 46-41.
- Overall, the Lady Vols held a +12.4 rebounding advantage, 46.3 to 33.9, in 2010-11.

Streaking

We were Streaking into 2011-12

- The Lady Vols had a 38-game home court winning streak halted against Baylor on Nov. 27, 2011. It was the third longest in Lady Vol history. Tennessee's all-time home court winning streak is 69 consecutive games from Feb. 2, 1991 to Jan. 6, 1996.

Lady Vol Streaks

- The Lady Vols last loss at home was against unranked Arkansas, on Feb. 23, 2012, since then UT is 1-0 at home.
- The last time UT lost on the road was on Feb. 9, 2012 at Vanderbilt, 93-79. UT is 2-0 on the road since then.
- The last time the Lady Vols lost on a neutral court was against Notre Dame, 73-59, in the 2011 NCAA Elite 8 game on Mar. 28, 2011. Since that time, UT is 1-0 on a neutral court.

TBA - The Place to Play

Rocky Top, You'll Always Be...

- Home, sweet home, to me.... On good ole Rocky Top, Tennessee entertained the home fans to a scoring bonanza this season averaging 79.9 ppg on The Summitt while holding the opponents to 58.2 ppg.

Toughest Place To Play

- The University of Tennessee's Thompson-Boling Arena is still the toughest women's basketball arena in the nation to secure a win. The Lady Vols have fashioned a 352-23 all-time record on "The Summitt" for a 94.4 winning percentage since the doors were opened in 1987.

Welcome to "The Summitt"

- The playing court in the Thompson-Boling Arena on the University of Tennessee campus donned a new look for the 2005-06 season.
- After Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt passed Dean Smith for most NCAA collegiate basketball wins of all-time with a 75-54 win over Purdue on Mar. 22, 2005, UT named the TBA court, "The Summitt."
- The floor had a complete overhaul with permanent logos of both the Lady Vols and Vols painted directly in front of the scorer's table; the free throw lanes were painted orange with "SEC" reversed out; the giant jump circle/mid-court TENNESSEE was given a new brighter color scheme, and "The Summitt," Coach Summitt's actual signature adorns the sidelines opposite the team benches.

300 Wins in TBA

- Tennessee recorded its 300th win in Thompson-Boling Arena when the Lady Vols defeated the Stanford Cardinal, 79-69 OT on Dec. 21, 2008.
- Seven years earlier, UT grabbed its 200th TBA win over the University of Southern California on Nov. 18, 2001, 106-66.
- UT has now amassed a 353-23(940) record since the Orange and White moved into the Thompson-Boling Arena to start the 1987-88 season 25-years ago.

- Along the way, the Lady Vols have produced 10 flawless home records: in 1988-89 (15-0), 1991-92 (14-0), 1992-93 (13-0), 1993-94 (15-0), 1994-95 (15-0), 1997-98 (16-0), 1998-99 (14-0), 2000-01 (15-0), 2002-03 (16-0), 2009-10 (17-0) and 2010-11 (17-0).
- UT also registered a former NCAA record 69-game home court-winning streak from Feb. 1, 1991 thru Jan. 2, 1996.

Just 23 TBA Losses

- The Tennessee Lady Vols rarely lose at home.
- In fact, since moving to the Thompson-Boling Arena for the 1987-88 campaign, UT has lost two games in one season just seven times.
- This year, UT lost three games at home for the first time ever to Baylor, South Carolina and Arkansas.
- UT lost two games in TBA during the inaugural 1987-88 campaign, 1996-97, 1999-00, 2001-02, 2003-04, 2005-06, 2008-09 and three game in the 2011-12 seasons.
- The 23 all-time losses at TBA have come at the hands of just 13 teams: Arkansas (2012), South Carolina (2012), Baylor (2011), Virginia (2008), Florida (2006), LSU (2008, 2006), Duke (2009, 2007, 2004), Connecticut (2004, 2002, 2000, 1996), Louisiana Tech (1999, 1989), Georgia (1996, 1991), Texas (2003, 2002, 1987), Stanford (1996) and Auburn (1988).

Home Sweet Home

- The victory over Georgia on Jan. 31, 2005, was the Lady Vols 400th home win since Pat Summitt took over as head coach in 1974.
- Summitt has won 91.6 percent of all home games in 38 years producing a 504-48 overall record.
- Home losses (in the Summitt era) include: six in Alumni Gym from 1974-76; 19 in Stokely Athletics Center from 1976-87; and 23 in Thompson-Boling Arena.

On the Court

100 Point Games

- Since 1974, the Lady Vols have gone over the century mark 76 times.
- The 1987-88 team hit triple digits in seven games to lead the NCAA.
- UT has a record of 73-3 all-time in 100-point games and a 51-0 record when hitting the century mark at Thompson-Boling Arena.

In Overtime

- Tennessee is 28-15 all-time in overtime games.
- UT's most recent overtime affairs were a 72-71 loss to Arkansas at home on Feb. 23, 2012 and a 69-64 loss at Virginia on Nov. 20, 2011.
- The most OT games in a year was tied in 2003-04 with four as the Lady Vols went 3-1 in overtime losing to Georgia, 68-66, and defeating Auburn, 68-61, DePaul, 96-89, and Stanford, 70-66.
- It tied the mark set in 1996-97, when the Lady Vols were 3-1 in overtime contests losing to Georgia, 94-93, and defeating Texas, 68-65, Vanderbilt, 92-79 and LSU, 100-99.
- UT's 22 points in the OT against Florida (2-3-05), was the most ever scored by the Lady Vols in a single overtime.
- UT's most recent OT affair in Knoxville was a 82-72 win over Stanford on Dec. 19, 2010.

Lady Vols Own All-Time Wins Mark

- Tennessee is the all-time wins leader in the NCAA with 1,185 victories. The next closest program all-time in terms of wins is Louisiana Tech, which owns a 1,000-212 record (entering the 2011-12 season). The Lady Vols boast a 1,186-264-2 (.827) all-time record.

Staffers Have, But Never a Player

- No former Lady Vol who has joined the collegiate coaching ranks has ever beaten Head Coach Pat Summitt.

Lady Vol Honorees

Trio Named

- Lady Vol seniors Glory Johnson and Shekinna Stricklen along with sophomore Meighan Simmons have been recognized among the group of players chosen for the 2011-12 preseason candidate list for the Naismith Trophy as announced on Nov. 30 by the Atlanta Tipoff Club.
- The Naismith Trophy is presented annually to the nation's top collegiate women's basketball player and is named in honor of the inventor of basketball, Dr. James Naismith.
- UT is joined by Notre Dame and Connecticut as the only institutions with three candidates for the award.
- The candidate pool will be trimmed with the selection of the Midseason Top 30 List in February, and that list will be whittled to four finalists in March.
- The Naismith Trophy will be presented during the NCAA Women's Final Four, April 1-3 in Denver.
- The Tennessee trio has collected accolades throughout the preseason. Johnson made the list of nominees for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and was named to the Wooden Award Top 30 list in October. Stricklen joined Johnson on the Wooden Award Top 30 list and was named to the Associated Press Preseason All-America squad. Johnson, Stricklen and Simmons were each named to Preseason All-SEC squads with Stricklen tabbed preseason player of the year.

Stricklen Honored as AP A-A

- Lady Vol senior guard Shekinna Stricklen was selected as a First Team Associated Press Preseason All-American.
- Also joining Stricklen on the five player team were Baylor's Brittney Griner, Notre Dame's Skylar Diggins, Stanford's Nnemkadi Ogumike and Miami's Shenise Johnson.
- Tennessee and Stricklen will face each of those teams this season.

Johnson Named a Lowe's Nominee

- Tennessee senior forward Glory Johnson has been named one of 30 women's basketball nominees for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, presented to student-athletes who excel on and off the field.
- Johnson is one of three nominees from the SEC.
- Johnson captured All-SEC First Team honors in 2010-11 and was a finalist for the 2011 State Farm All-America Team.
- A Master of Science in Communication candidate, Johnson completed her undergraduate degree in Interdisciplinary Programs with a Concentration in Global Studies and a Specialization in Global Politics and Economy in only three years.

We Love a Happy Meal

- The Tennessee Lady Vols must lead the nation with the number of McDonald's High School All-Americans on their roster in 2011-12 with eight players.
- Tennessee's McDonald's All-Americans: Vicki Baugh, Glory Johnson, Alicia Manning, Meighan Simmons, Shekinna Stricklen, Taber Spani, Cierra Burdick and Ariel Massengale.

Preseason Predictions

SEC Coaches Tab Lady Vols

- The Southeastern Conference unveiled its eighth annual women's basketball preseason All-SEC first and second teams, to tip off the 2011-12 season of SEC women's basketball.

- Tennessee was predicted to win the SEC regular season championship with 120 votes.
- Kentucky, Georgia, LSU, Florida and Vanderbilt round out the top half of the league with South Carolina, Arkansas, Auburn, Alabama, Mississippi State and Ole Miss rounding out the lower half.
- Joining Stricklen, on the All-SEC First Team were teammates Glory Johnson and Meighan Simmons, Arkansas' C'eira Ricketts, Georgia's Jasmine James, Kentucky's A'dia Mathies, LSU's LaSondra Barrett and Vanderbilt's Stephanie Holzer.
- Second team consists of Alabama's Ericka Russell, Arkansas' Sarah Watkins, Georgia's Jasmine Hassell, LSU's Adrienne Webb, Ole Miss' Valencia McFarland, South Carolina duo La'Keisha Sutton and leasia Walker and Vanderbilt's Tiffany Clarke.

Lady Vols Picked #1 by SEC Media

- Tennessee was predicted to win the 2012 Southeastern Conference women's basketball championship in a voting of a select panel of both SEC and national media members.
- Tennessee topped the order of finish with 264 points, with Georgia (228), Kentucky (212), LSU (189), Vanderbilt (172) and Florida (151) rounding out the top half of the league. Arkansas (142), South Carolina (107), Auburn (94), Alabama (55), Mississippi State (54) and Ole Miss (48) round out the bottom half.
- Tennessee's Shekinna Stricklen was the overwhelming choice of the media for SEC Women's Basketball Player of the Year with 16 votes, the remaining votes were for Georgia's Jasmine James,
- LSU's LaSondra Barrett and Tennessee's Glory Johnson.
- Stricklen, a 2011 State Farm All-American and SEC MVP averaged 12.8 points and 7.3 rebounds per game last season.

- UT sophomore Meighan Simmons, the 2011 SEC Rookie of the Year, was selected to the second team. Simmons is the Lady Vols returning scorer at 13.5 ppg.
- Joining Stricklen on the All-SEC First Team are Georgia's Jasmine James, Kentucky's A'dia Mathies, LSU's LaSondra Barrett and Tennessee's Glory Johnson.
- Second Team included Arkansas' C'eira Ricketts, Ole Miss' Valencia McFarland, Simmons, and Vanderbilt's Stephanie Holzer.

Seniors Saluted

Five Seniors for both Teams

- The Tennessee vs. Florida game on Feb. 26 marked the final home game for five Lady Vol seniors -- Briana Bass, Vicki Baugh, Glory Johnson, Alicia Manning and Shekinna Stricklen. They were honored in pregame ceremonies and all five comprised the starting line-up.
- Per Lady Vol tradition, Tennessee also recognized the Florida seniors -- Deana Allen, Lanita Bartley, Jordan Jones, Ndidi Madu and Azania Stewart.

AARP Day in Thompson-Boling

Seniors Salute Summitt with Inspire Award

- At halftime on the Jumbotron, Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt will be presented a national "Inspire Award" from the AARP.
- Summitt was recognized with the 10th annual award in the December/January issue of the magazine.
- Each year, the "Inspire Awards" honor individuals who inspire others to action through their innovative thinking, passion and perseverance.
- Summitt received her recognition as an Alzheimer's Advocate.
- "Pat Summitt simply epitomizes the word 'inspiration,'" said AARP Tennessee State Director Rebecca Kelly.
- "I have long admired her passion, commitment, tenacity and the love she has shown for her team, colleagues, friends and family."
- AARP reached out to more than 700,000 Lady Vol fans in Tennessee and other Southeastern Conference states via email and social media, encouraging them to join AARP for Sunday's "Senior Day" game against Florida.

Final SEC Regular Season Road Swing Started at The Hump

- Tennessee picked up SEC win number 10 on the season at Mississippi State on Feb. 16, 2012, 57-41.
- All-time, the Lady Vols have registered double-digit victories in conference play an incredible 18 times, and 14 times in the last 15 years since conference play expanded.

- UT closed out the road portion of the SEC schedule with a tough 66-56 win over Ole Miss on Feb. 19 for SEC win number 11.
- Tennessee has now fashioned a 23-game winning streak over Ole Miss dating back to the 1995-96 season.
- The last time UT lost in Oxford was on Feb. 4, 1996, 78-72.
- It was a "meltdown" game for then Tennessee senior Michelle Marciniak who vowed that the Lady Vols would not lose again.
- "Spinderella" was right. UT won 15 straight to claim the 1996 NCAA title following the loss to the Lady Rebels.

Back on Course vs. Kentucky That 90 Thing for the Lady Vols

- After getting decked by 93 points at Vanderbilt, the Lady Vols came back in the very next game and unloaded for 91 points against SEC leader Kentucky.
- It marked the fourth time in the 2011-12 season that the Lady Vols scored 90 points.
- UT dropped 92 against #7 Miami, 91 against Kentucky and 90 versus both Old Dominion and Chattanooga.

Bounced Back...Yet Again

Bounced Back from Loss Number Seven

- Tennessee was in a battle to bounce back from loss number seven of the season having to face Kentucky on Feb. 12.
- The Lady Vols played one of its best games of the season in upsetting the SEC's top team, 91-54.
- The last time UT had seven losses on Feb. 13 was the Cinderella Season of 1996-97.
- The Lady Vols had also seven losses at that point in the year and would eventually collect 10 (L's to #8 La Tech, #5 Georgia, #1 Stanford, #22 Arkansas, #1UConn, #4 Old Dominion, #19 Florida, #6/5 Louisiana Tech, #13 LSU, and unranked Auburn in the SEC Tournament).
- The last time UT took (at least) seven losses on the year was the 11 "L" season in 2008-09.

Vandy Post-Mortem

That 90 Thing

- On Feb. 9, Vanderbilt was the second team in 2011-12 season to hang 90 points on the Lady Vols.
- The Commodores dealt UT a 93-79 loss in Nashville.
- Stanford was the first to post a plus-90 score when the Cardinal defeated Tennessee 97-80 on Dec. 20, 2011 in Palo Alto, Calif.
- The last team to drop 90 on the Big Orange was Florida on Feb. 26, 2006. That game gets a Major League asterisk since it was a 95-93 overtime win for the Gators in Knoxville.

Defense Wins Games

- Other than this season and the 2006, 90 point game, you have to venture back to the "Cinderella Season" of 1996-97 for the last multiple 90 point games by the opposition.
- Tennessee, the eventual 1997 NCAA Champions with a 29-10 overall record and an 8-4 record in the SEC, had three opponents score 90 or more points that season.
- Georgia took a 94-93 overtime win on Dec. 8, 1996 in Knoxville...Louisiana Tech claimed a 98-80 victory in Ruston, La., on Feb. 24, 1997...and UT prevailed in a 100-99 overtime win over LSU in the SEC Tournament on Mar. 1, 1997.
- That team lost 10 games but it never lost its heart and desire to compete for a championship.

Upset Special

Unranked South Carolina

- When South Carolina defeated Tennessee, 64-60, on Feb. 2, it marked the second loss in the 2011-12 season to an unranked team.
- All-time, UT coach Pat Summitt's Lady Vols have lost to just 39 unranked teams in 38 years (overall, 652-39 for .945).
- In 2008-09, the Lady Vols were ambushed by three unranked teams: at Kentucky (66-56), at LSU (63-61) and vs. Ball State (71-55).
- South Carolina is only the second unranked team to collect a win over the Lady Vols in the 25-year history of Thompson-Boling Arena.
- Unranked Florida defeated #5-ranked Tennessee, 95-93 in overtime on Senior Day in Thompson-Boling Arena on Feb. 26, 2006.

Breaking into Our House

Better Set an Alarm

- Before South Carolina upended Tennessee 64-60 on Feb. 2, the Lady Vols had won 28 consecutive SEC games in Thompson-Boling Arena dating back to 2008.
- Top-ranked Baylor also defeated Tennessee in Knoxville earlier this season by a 76-67 score on Nov. 27, 2011.

Two Thompson-Boling Losses in a Single Season

- The Tennessee Lady Vols rarely lose at home.
- In fact, since moving to the Thompson-Boling Arena for the 1987-88 campaign, 25-years ago, UT has lost two games in one season just eight times now that South Carolina managed the upset.
- UT lost two games in TBA during the inaugural 1987-88 campaign and then in: 1996-97, 1999-00, 2001-02, 2003-04, 2005-06, 2008-09 and now the 2011-12 season(s).

Just 22 TBA Losses for the Lady Vols -- All-Time

- The 22 all-time losses at TBA have come at the hands of just 12 teams: South Carolina (2012), Baylor (2011), Virginia (2008), Florida (2006), LSU (2008, 2006), Duke (2009, 2007, 2004), Connecticut (2004, 2002, 2000, 1996), Louisiana Tech (1999, 1989), Georgia (1996, 1991), Texas (2003, 2002, 1987), Stanford (1996) and Auburn (1988).

UT's SEC Streak was Snapped by USC

- Before South Carolina upended Tennessee 64-60 on Feb. 2, the Lady Vols had won 28 consecutive SEC games in Thompson-Boling Arena dating back to 2008.
- Before the USC loss, UT's last SEC home loss was to #7-ranked LSU on Feb. 14, 2008, 78-62.

Rewind to January 12, 2012, 6:59 p.m.

Inconsistent Since Then

- Tennessee entered the game at Kentucky on Jan. 12, 2012, sporting a 12-3 overall record and a 3-0 mark in the SEC.
- The Lady Vols had won 36 consecutive SEC games dating back to a loss at Georgia in Jan. 2010.
- Prior to the UK game, UT had won five consecutive games since the loss at Stanford.
- During that five-game winning streak heading into the Kentucky game, UT outscored the opposition 80.4 to 45.0 (a +35.4 winning margin) and controlled the boards 51.4 to 29.4 rpg...a +22.0 rebounding advantage.

Bad Pattern Since the UK Loss

- Since UT dropped the heartbreaking 61-60 game at UK on Jan. 12, the Lady Vols have developed a bad pattern.
- After the UK loss, Tennessee bounced back to win a pair (over Vandy and LSU at home) and then lost to Notre Dame on the road.
- After the Notre Dame loss, Tennessee regrouped to defeat Alabama and Georgia on the road.
- That winning streak was halted by South Carolina in Knoxville and UT rebounded to defeat Auburn But lost in the very next game at Vanderbilt.
- Tennessee has gone just 5-4 over the last month.

Telling Numbers

Inside the 5-4 Record over the Last Month

- Tennessee is shooting 42.9 percent from the field and the opposition is tossing in 41.2 percent of its shots.
- Tennessee is averaging 70.0 ppg and giving up 64.1 ppg.
- Perhaps the most telling stat is rebounding where the Lady Vols have averaged just 38.6 to 38.1 rpg for the opposition-- uncharacteristic +0.5 advantage.
- Senior All-American Shekinna Stricklen has struggled from the field connecting on 41.8 percent of her shots and just 25.8 percent of her three-point attempts.
- Glory Johnson has been very challenged at the charity stripe with a team low 46.8 percent (22-47).
- On the bright side, rookie Ariel Massengale has logged a team high 32.9 minutes per game during this stretch handing out 52 assists while committing 24 miscues (296 minutes).
- Sophomore Meighan Simmons is shooting the ball a tad better connecting on 37.2 percent of her shots and 35 percent from three-point land.

Honoring Kay Yow

- The Tennessee vs. Kentucky game is UT's Play 4 Kay night, formerly known as the Pink Zone, an initiative of the WBCA to promote breast cancer awareness.
- UT has dubbed the game "Think Pink. Bleed Orange."
- By way of 12,000 t-shirts in the seats of the arena, an alternating pink/white checkerboard will be formed.
- One side of the arena will spell out "Lady Vols" and on the other side, "Live Pink."
- Both will be anchored by breast cancer ribbons.

Remembering our Lady Vols

- Tonight's game for breast cancer awareness takes on additional significance for Lady Vol basketball.
- We celebrate Director of Lady Vol basketball Character Development Daedra Charles-Furlow continued good health after battling breast cancer and becoming a survivor.
- And we remember one of our own who lost her fight with breast cancer on Dec. 27, 2010.
- Melissa McCray Dukes, nicknamed "Emma" by her Tennessee Lady Vol basketball teammates, played on four consecutive NCAA Final Four teams (1986-87-88-89) and started as a guard on coach Pat Sum-mitt's first two national championship teams in 1987 and 1989.

- McCray Dukes was posthumously honored as the "SEC Great" from Tennessee last March at the 2011 SEC Tournament.

Five in Double Figures at Home

- Five Lady Vols have posted double figure scoring in games at home this season.
- Shekinna Stricklen leads the way at 13.7 ppg, while Glory Johnson adds 13.5, Ariel Massengale 10.5, Meighan Simmons 10.3 and Taber Spani 10.2 ppg.

More Home Trends

- Tennessee is just a shade off on its home rims connecting on 43.4 percent from the field versus 43.6 on the road.
- Vicki Baugh enjoys the TBA baskets the most connecting on 63.9 percent of her shots.
- Sophomore Meighan Simmons is a bit "basket challenged" at home making just 29.6 percent of her shots.
- As a rookie, Simmons made 46.2 percent of her shots from the field on The Summitt last season.
- At home this year, the Big Orange outscored the opposition by +22.5 points and has a +13.9 rebounding edge with a 9-2 record.

Carla McGhee Knows TBA

- Auburn assistant coach Carla McGhee knows her way around Thompson-Boling Arena.
- As a forward/center wearing number 24 for the Lady Vols from 1986-90, McGhee was a member of the 1987 and 1989 NCAA Championship teams.
- The 6'3" Peoria, Ill., native averaged 6.1 ppg and 5.1 rpg while appearing in 101 Lady Vol games.
- McGhee was a Lady Vol fan favorite. After after a serious car accident just before the start of her sophomore season, where almost every bone was broken in her face and her hip was shattered, she returned to the line-up the following year.
- She was a member of the 1996 USA Olympic Team and proudly owns a gold medal.

Former UT Players & Staffers in Coaching

Tough W's against Summitt

- The roll call goes like this: Sylvia Hatchell, Sharon Fanning, Jane Albright, Lea Henry, Nancy Darsch, Trish Roberts, Mickie DeMoss, Matthew Mitchell, Kellie Jolly Harper, Tanya Haave and Nikki Caldwell.
- UT coach Pat Summitt has faced many former players and assistant coaches in a variety of games thru the years as opposing head coaches, but no former Lady Vol player has ever knocked off her mentor as a head coach.
- Former assistant Carolyn Peck was the first to record a victory over her former boss. While at Purdue, Peck handed Summitt a 78-68 loss on Nov. 15, 1998 in the State Farm Tip-Off Classic in West Lafayette, Ind. The defeat snapped UT's 46-game consecutive winning streak (that was second only to Louisiana Tech's NCAA all-time 54-game winning streak).
- Former assistants Mickie DeMoss and Matthew Mitchell turned the winning trick as head coaches at Kentucky, (DeMoss 66-63, on Jan. 26, 2006 and Mitchell 66-56 on Feb. 19, 2009 and 61-60 on Jan. 12, 2012 -- all in Lexington), and Sylvia Hatchell managed to pull off the feat twice at North Carolina (75-63 on Mar. 28, 2006 and 70-57, Dec. 3, 2006).

Facing Coach Summitt

- Former Lady Vol players turned head coaches have been less successful. Former Lady Vol All-America Patricia Roberts tried while head coach at Maine (0-2, lost 77-64 on Dec. 13, 1990 and 86-71 on Nov. 24, 1991).
- Former Lady Vol Olympian and point guard Lea Henry faced Summitt in the NCAA Tournament with her Georgia State team and lost 98-68 on Mar. 15, 2002.
- Next to try to knock off Summitt was Kellie Jolly Harper with her Western Carolina team on Mar. 20, 2005. The Lady Catamounts lost 94-43.
- UT All-American and then San Francisco head coach Tanya Haave. "LaMachine's" Dons fell to UT on Nov. 15, 2008, 68-39. A little over a week later, Harper's WCU team fell to Summitt's Lady Vols, 83-56, on Nov. 25, 2008.

- The next player to try the knock-off was then UCLA skipper Nikki Caldwell who lost 61-47 on Nov. 28, 2009 in TBA to the #6/5 Lady Vols.
- Caldwell once again attempted to defeat both her former coach and boss when her LSU Lady Tigers visited Thompson-Boling Arena on Jan. 19.
- In a battle, the Lady Vols prevailed 65-56.

Current Collegiate Head Coaches

- Nikki Caldwell is one of 10 Lady Vol players who are now serving as head college coaches.
- Also in head coaching roles are: Jody Adams (UT 1989-93) at Wichita State; Niya Butts (UT 1996-2000) at Arizona; Tanya Edwards (UT 1986-90) at Alcorn State; Teresa Geter (UT 1997-99) at Denark (S.C.); Tanya Haave (UT 1980-84) at Metro State (Colo.); Gwen Jackson (1999-2003) at St. Paul's College (Va.); Kellie Jolly Harper (UT 1995-99) at N.C. State; Lea Henry Manning (UT 1979-83) at Darton College (Ga.); and Semeka Randall (UT 1997-2001) at Ohio University.

Current Collegiate Assistant Coaches

- Nine Lady Vols are in current assistant coaching roles in the college game including at least one each on the sidelines in the Auburn, Kentucky, South Carolina and LSU games.
- Holly Warlick (UT 1976-80) is the associate head coach at Tennessee. On the Auburn bench is Carla McGhee (UT 1986-90); Kentucky bench are Kyra Elzy (UT 1996-01) and Shalon Pillow (UT 1998-02); the South Carolina bench, Nikki McCray (UT 1991-95) and the LSU bench, Tasha Butts (UT 2000-04) who is in her first season at LSU with Caldwell.

Wooden Award Mid-Season List

Two Lady Vols Named

- The John R. Wooden Award Midseason Top 20 was announced by The Los Angeles Athletic Club on Jan. 27 and Tennessee Lady Vols Glory Johnson and Shekinna Stricklen earned spots on the elite list.
- In addition to Tennessee, four other schools had two players chosen: Notre Dame (Diggins and Natalie Novosel); Stanford (Nneka Ogwumike and Chiney Ogwumike—the first pair of sisters ever named to the midseason list); Baylor (Griner and Odyssey Sims) and Connecticut (Bria Hartley and Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis).
- Six players from the Wooden Award ballot in 2011, including Stricklen, return to the midseason Top 20 in 2012.
- They include Griner and Nneka Ogwumike, Georgetown's Sugar Rodgers, Notre Dame's Skylar Diggins, Shenise Johnson of Miami. Ohio State's Samantha Prahalis was on the ballot in 2010, along with Stricklen, Nneka Ogwumike and Delle Donne.

Turning Point?

Line-up Shake-up

- Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt decided to tweak the line-up in the game at Alabama on Jan. 26.
- Earning her first career start was freshman Cierra Burdick.
- Burdick became the 62nd player in Lady Vol history to start during her freshman campaign. Fellow freshman Ariel Massengale was No. 61 on that list, starting the first game of the season versus Pepperdine.
- Also receiving the starting nod was senior Briana Bass who started for the first time this season and the 15th time in her career.

Shekinna's Number was Not Called

- Lady Vol senior Shekinna Stricklen had the nation's longest starting streak entering the 2011-12 season.
- Stricklen started 121 consecutive times before sitting out the LSU game due to injury.
- She started the very next game against Notre Dame to up her starts to 122 in a LV uniform.
- Alabama marked the first time in her Lady Vol career she did not start a game when she was available to play.

What 'Cha Got Rookie?

Burdick Makes the Most of her Opportunity

- Rookie Cierra Burdick is the first one in the gym and the last one to leave.
- Against LSU, all of her extra hard work paid off as she logged a career high 31 minutes en route to dropping in 15 points and grabbing six rebounds.
- She started the second half for Glory Johnson who suffered a shoulder injury.
- Even when Johnson returned, the Lady Vol coaching staff elected to keep UT's AutoZone Player of the Game on the floor.

Trends

- UT's 86-point output against Alabama last week was the most points the Lady Vols have scored this season on the road.
- The Bama game also marked the 11th time during the 2011-12 campaign that UT scored 80 or more points.
- Shekinna Stricklen averaged 14.3 ppg last week on the road, leading the team in scoring at Alabama and Georgia.
- Last week, thieves ran wild over the Lady Vols. Notre Dame swiped the ball 11 times and Georgia gathered in 10 steals. Virginia rang the bell with 13 thefts in their 69-64 win over UT.

BCS Schedule

- On the road...the Lady Vols traveled for three consecutive road games -- which kind of sound like a BCS Bowl line-up -- at #2-ranked Notre Dame, at Alabama and at Georgia.
- The "Big Monday" game at Notre Dame was the final regular season non-conference game for the Lady Vols.
- The Irish held UT to the fewest points in program history in the 72-44 Lady Vol loss.
- The Notre Dame game was an advance sell-out which joined capacity games at Rutgers, UCLA, Stanford and Kentucky this season.
- UT got back on the winning track in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on Thursday night taking a 86-56 win over Alabama.
- The arduous road swing concluded with a 67-50 win at #17/15 Georgia on Jan. 29.

Before Bama, Last Four had not been Great

Just 2-2 Overall

- In the Lady Vols last four games before the win at Alabama on Jan. 26, (at #9/8 Kentucky, vs. #25/24 Vanderbilt, vs. LSU and at #2 Notre Dame), UT went 2-2 with both losses coming on the road.
- Tennessee outscored the opposition by a scant 64.0 to 63.2 margin during this stretch.
- The shooting woes were pretty apparent as UT connected on just 39.6 percent of FG, 29.2 from three-point land, 56.5 percent of free throws (48 of 85).
- Rebounding was only slightly better at 40.0 rpg while giving up 37.5 rpg.

Birthday Week

Two Celebrated

- Lady Vol sophomore Meighan Simmons spent her 20th birthday on Jan. 25 traveling to Tuscaloosa, Ala.
- Junior Taber Spani turned 21 years old from 30,000 feet as the Lady Vols were winging their way home from Tuscaloosa on Jan. 27.

Super Sunday

Mark it Down

- On Sun., Jan. 22, all 11 Lady Vols on the 2011-12 roster practiced together for the first time all season.
- Junior Taber Spani, who had been sidelined since Dec. 26 and who had not played since Dec. 20, participated in practice.
- Spani shed her crutches Jan. 20 and went through a light workout with Jenny Moshak, Associate Athletics Director for Sports Medicine, on Sat., Jan. 21.
- Banged up and bruised Glory Johnson and the wonky knee of Shekinna Stricklen were good to go in practice as well.

Put it in the Rearview Mirror

No Excuses--Everyone was available to Play

- All 11 Lady Vols were available and saw action for the first time in 2011-12 at Notre Dame.

- Taber Spani returned to the floor for a game the first time since the Lady Vols lost at Stanford on Dec. 20.

Fewest points in UT history at Notre Dame

- In the loss at #2-ranked Notre Dame, the Lady Vols managed only 44 points – fewest in UT history.
- The previous low Lady Vol scoring effort in program history was 45 points against Belmont (1/17/76).

Second Worst Margin of Defeat

- The margin of defeat at Notre Dame was the second-worst mark in the UT record books.
- The largest margin in a loss in Lady Vol history is 31 points at the hands of Texas (12/11/84).

Stop Thief

- With 10 steals, Notre Dame was the second team on the year to put up double-digit steals against the Lady Vols.
- The only other team was Virginia (13 steals), also a loss.

Been Gimpy and Limpy Lately

Health Improved Heading into Notre Dame

- Tennessee took to the court at Notre Dame on Jan. 23 with a few more healthy players.
- Shekinna Stricklen (15.5 ppg) was back in the starting line-up after missing the LSU game with a knee sprain.
- Glory Johnson, who suffered a shoulder injury in the LSU contest on Jan. 19, was sporting and playing in a shoulder brace.
- Taber Spani saw the court at Notre Dame for nine minutes after missing the last eight games. She is still listed as day-to-day.

Limped into the LSU game

- Tennessee took to the court in a key SEC meeting with LSU on Jan. 19 in Knoxville with nine healthy players.
- Neither Shekinna Stricklen (15.5 ppg) nor Taber Spani (11.9 ppg) saw action.
- The pair account for a little less than 30 percent of the total team scoring.

Battle Scars

- Both Tennessee and LSU limped off the court following the game on Jan. 19 in Knoxville.
- UT started the game with nine healthy players and had three players suffer various injuries.
- Glory Johnson left the game with four minutes to go in the first half after suffering a left shoulder injury.
- Izzy Harrison knocked heads with LSU's Courtney Jones just before the half and was momentarily dazed.
- Vicki Baugh caught an elbow just under her eye and a nice "mouse" appeared late in the game.
- LSU was a little worse off than UT. Starting guard Jeanne Kenney suffered an apparent concussion just two minutes into the game and did not return.
- Starting LSU point guard Destini Hughes landed awkwardly on a long pass just ticks before halftime.
- She sustained substantial damage tearing three ligaments.
- In visible pain, Johnson returned to play in the second half "one-armed."

Over 100,000

- Tennessee eclipsed 100,000 fans at home games this season in just eight contests.
- This is the 18th consecutive season UT has gone over 100,000 at home.
- The Lady Vols have entertained 184,306 fans (14,177 average) in Thompson-Boling Arena in 2011-12.
- The game versus Vanderbilt on Jan. 15, 2012 drew the highest total at home this season, 17,879.

Three in Grad School

- Tennessee's fifth line-up combo of the season (vs. LSU) featured three starters -- Vicki Baugh, Glory Johnson and Alicia Manning -- who are completing degree requirements for M.S. degrees.
- Baugh, a fifth year senior will have her master's degree in May while Johnson and Manning will complete degree requirements for a M.S. next fall.

Summitt versus Non-Conference Foes

774 Non-Conference Games in 38 years

- Lady Vol skipper Pat Summitt has coached in 1,288 games during her 38 year career.

- She entered the contest with a non-conference record of 637-137 (.823) versus Notre Dame on Jan. 23.

Just 12th Time Ranked No. 9

- When ranked number nine in the polls, the Lady Vols have produced an 7-4 record over other ranked teams.
- All-time, UT is 1-2 when facing the number two ranked team from the nine position.
- No. 9 Tennessee's win over a number two ranked team came against Stanford, 70-67, on Dec. 21, 2004.

Not Shying Away from the Competition

Playing the Ranked

- Both Tennessee and Notre Dame have faced a number of ranked teams this year.
- The Lady Vols have faced nine ranked opponents in 18 games and sport a 6-3 record.
- Notre Dame has faced six ranked foes in 20 games and is 5-1.
- Both schools faced #1-ranked Baylor and lost. UT surrendered a 76-67 decision while ND lost 94-81.
- The Irish dumped #8/7 Kentucky 92-83 while the Lady Vols lost at (then) #9/8 UK, 61-60.

The Balance Sheet

How UT Wins or Loses This Game

- Get a can of Raid to kill the turnover bug...
- Outside of the Texas game on Dec. 4, 2011 (just nine turnovers), the Lady Vols have committed too many unforced turnovers.
- Tennessee has recorded five games with +20 miscues and has a 3-2 record in those games.
- Keep some Purell hand sanitizer ready for Notre Dame's sticky fingers...
- The Irish lead the nation in steals with 14.6 per game.
- The Lady Vols have only allowed one opponent to grab double-digit steals this season...Virginia with 13.
- UT has allowed the opposition just 6.9 steals per game -- about half of the Irish average.
- Don't be bored with the boards...take some iron tablets to avoid anemia...
- Starting with the Old Dominion game following the Christmas break, UT was crashing the boards to the tune of +22 over a five game stretch.
- UT outrebounded Georgia by +20 and Arkansas by +23 during the rebounding run.
- In the last three games, Tennessee's rebounding advantage has dropped to just +6.3 against Kentucky, Vanderbilt and LSU.

Summer Teammates

Five of the 12

- This past summer a pair of Lady Vols and a trio of Irish players joined forces on the 12-player USA entry to the World University Games and brought home the gold medal from Shenzhen, China.
- Tennessee's Glory Johnson (6.2 ppg, 5.5 rpg) and Shekinna Stricklen (5.3 ppg, 4.2 rpg) and Notre Dame's Skylar Diggins (12.3 ppg, 4.9 apg), Devereaux Peters (10.0 ppg, 5.3 rpg) and Natalie Novosel (4.5 ppg, 3.3 rpg) spent their August as teammates for USA Basketball.
- En route to a 6-0 record, the USA defeated opponents by 45 point per game and outrebounded the rest of the collegiate world by a 22.8 margin.

Old Home Week

- In all, Johnson and Stricklen have caught up with seven summer teammates this season.
- From the WUG team, UT has faced Keisha Hampton from DePaul, Odyssey Sims from Baylor, Nneka and Chiney Ogumike from Stanford and the trio from Notre Dame tonight.

SEC Initiative...

"We Backed Pat"

- During the "We Back Pat" week, the Tennessee Vols and the UConn Huskies participated in the festivities in Thompson-Boling Arena on Jan. 21 in their nationally televised contest.
- Both teams wore "We Back Pat" warm-up shirts. At halftime, a another check was presented to the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund.
- The Southeastern Conference in cooperation with its 12-member institutions celebrated "We Back Pat" Week, a week-long initiative focused on bringing awareness and recognition to the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund of The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and its fight against Alzheimer's disease.

- During the week of January 15-22, SEC member institutions supported the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund during their home basketball games.
- During the 17 women's and 12 men's games slated for the week, various efforts were made to increase awareness of the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund.
- Twenty of the games were televised.
- "Pat Summitt is a leader both on and off the court. The establishment of the Pat Summitt Foundation Fund only reiterates this point," said SEC Commissioner Mike Slive. "We are pleased that the Southeastern Conference can play a small part in helping Pat reach her goals for The Foundation Fund today and in the future."

M*A*S*H

Stricklen was Day-to-day entering the LSU game

- Senior guard-forward-center Shekinna Stricklen suffered a sprained right knee in the game against #25/24-ranked Vanderbilt on Sun., Jan. 15.
- "Diagnostic testing and further evaluation confirmed that Shekinna suffered a right knee sprain in the game yesterday," Assoc. AD for Sports Medicine Jenny Moshak said. "We have already started the rehab process and her status is listed as day-to-day."
- She suffered the knee sprain after a colliding with a Vanderbilt player while both were going after a rebound along the baseline in the second half.
- Stricklen had to be helped from the floor by the UT sports medicine staff after scoring a team leading 20 points in 35 minutes of action in the 87-64 victory over the Commodores.

Spani was still Day-to-day

- Lady Vol junior Taber Spani has been dealing with a bone bruise in her left knee since the loss at Virginia on Nov. 20.
- On Dec. 26, she participated in one-half of the practice and took three weeks off to rest the limb.
- She practiced again for the first time on Jan. 22 and played nine minutes against Notre Dame.
- In the next game, at Alabama, Spani did not play.

SEC Player of the Week

- After breaking the Lady Vol record for rookie assists on Jan. 15, Tennessee guard Ariel Massengale was tabbed for the SEC Women's Basketball Co-Freshmen of the Week honor on Jan. 16.
- Massengale shared her achievement with LSU freshman forward Krystal Forthan.
- In two games against ranked SEC opponents, Massengale averaged 6.0 ppg, 3.0 rpg and 8.5 apg, while playing 35.5 mpg in the team's split with a loss at #9/8 Kentucky (61-60) and a win over #25/24 Vanderbilt (87-64).
- Massengale had her "assistfest" against Vanderbilt dishing out 12 scoring passes while adding six points, two rebounds and a couple of steals.
- The dozen helpers against the Commodores breaks the previous mark set by Meighan Simmons (11 assists vs. Alabama 1/6/11).
- Her 12 assists also tied for the fifth-most in UT history with current associate head coach Holly Warlick who had 12 assists against Clemson in 1980.
- Previously, Massengale was tabbed as the SEC Freshman of the Week on Dec. 5 and joins UT grad student Glory Johnson for dual Lady Vol conference honors. Johnson was named as the SEC Player of the Week on both Jan. 2 and 9.

Broke Rookie Record

- Freshman Ariel Massengale broke the Lady Vol rookie record for assists with 12 against Vanderbilt on Jan. 15.
- Massengale eclipsed the previous record of 11 assists set by Meighan Simmons against Alabama on Jan. 6, 2011.

Golden Girls

Rookies Recognized

- In recognition of an impressive gold-medal performance at the 2011 FIBA U19 World Championship this past summer, USA Basketball today announced the USA Women's U19 World Championship Team as the 2011 USA Basketball Team of the Year.

- Lady Vol rookies Ariel Massengale and Cierra Burdick were members of the championship team.
- Topping opponents by an average of 16.6 points per game during the July 21-31 tournament in Puerto Montt, Chile, the U.S. finished 8-1 to capture the gold medal and stand atop the FIBA U19 World Championship podium for a fourth-straight time.

We Bounced Back...Again

Loss Number Four

- After almost completing a comeback victory over Kentucky, but missing by a bucket, the Lady Vols regrouped from a loss for the fourth time this season and defeated Vanderbilt, 87-64.
- The last time UT took (at least) four losses on the year was the 11 "L" season in 2008-09.

1,000 Career Rebounds -- After Glo Grabbed Four

- Grad student Glory Johnson grabbed her fourth rebound in the first half of the game against Arkansas and went over the 1,000 rebound threshold for her career.
- She became just the fourth Lady Vol in the history of the program to have 1,000 career points and 1000 career rebounds.
- Johnson joined Chamique Holdsclaw, Sheila Frost and Tamika Catchings in the exclusive club.
- She enters the game with VU sporting 1,017 career boards.
- She ranks third on the list behind Holdsclaw with 1,295 (148 games) and Frost with 1,043 in 138 games.
- Johnson has 1,017 in 121 games to rank ahead of Catchings with 1,004 in a career-shortened (senior year ACL injury) 127 games.

SEC Player of the Week...again.

- After being named the SEC Player of the Week Jan. 2, Lady Vol senior forward Glory Johnson followed up with outstanding showings against Chattanooga, Georgia and Arkansas. For her efforts she was tabbed with her second-consecutive SEC Women's Basketball Player of the Week on Jan. 9.
- Johnson averaged 15.7 ppg and 13.3 rpg and added three assists and eight steals, while playing 27.3 mpg in the team's three victories.
- Johnson had a monumental game against Arkansas, using 13 rebounds in her fifth consecutive double-double to reach the 1,000 rebound plateau. In reaching the benchmark Johnson became only the fourth in Lady Vol history to collect 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds.
- It is the third SEC honor for a Lady Vol player this season, following Ariel Massengale who was tabbed SEC Freshman of the Week Dec. 5 and Johnson's Player of the Week Nov. 2.

We Streaked into SEC Competition

- Before losing to Kentucky, the Lady Vols had won 36 consecutive games against SEC opposition dating back to 2010.
- UT's streak started after a 53-50 loss at Georgia on Jan. 21, 2010.
- Included in the total were 30 consecutive regular season games and six in the SEC Tournament.
- In this 36 game streak: UT won 15 consecutive SEC home games; UT won 15 consecutive SEC road games and six consecutive neutral site games in the SEC tourney.

Top of the Class

In Grad School

- Classes started for the Spring semester 2012 at UT on Jan. 11.
- Three Lady Vols are enrolled in grad school as they complete their UT eligibility -- Vicki Baugh, Glory Johnson and Alicia Manning.
- Baugh has one class to take to finish requirements for a M.S. in Kinesiology.
- Johnson graduated in just three years and is a M.S. candidate in Communications.
- Wednesday was the first day of grad school for Manning who graduated in December 2011. She is seeking a M.S. in Kinesiology.

We were Defensive

Solid "D" at Arkansas

- At Arkansas on Jan. 8, Tennessee rolled out a new scent...eau de defense.
- The defensive fragrance limited Arkansas to just one trey until the 5:44 mark of the first half when the score was 25-3.
- The Razorbacks managed to tally 11 points at the break as UT led 31-11.
- For the game, Tennessee's defense held the 'Backs to just 18.2 percent from the field (10-55) and 3-20 from three-point land (15.0 percent).
- UT also held the edge on the boards, 47-24, in the 69-38 UT win.

We Had Picked Up the Pace

Five Games between the Stanford & UK losses

- Since losing at #4-ranked Stanford and before losing to #9/8-ranked Kentucky, the Lady Vols had stepped up.
- Glory Johnson was the scoring and rebounding leader for the team during this stretch averaging 15.4 ppg and 12.8 rpg.
- Rookie Ariel Massengale connected on 59.5 percent of her shots from the field and contributed 12.0 ppg and 4.6 apg. She committed just seven turnovers in 144 minutes.
- All-America Shekinna Stricklen struggled a bit since the Stanford loss averaging 5.5 fewer points per game (17.5 ppg heading into Stanford) and connecting on just 17.4 percent from three-point land.
- UT outscored the opposition 80.4 to 45.0 (+35.4 winning margin) and controlled the boards 51.4 to 29.4 rpg...a +22.0 advantage on the boards.

Another Graybeard Game

- The game versus Georgia came against another coach with lots of W's.
- Already this season, UT coach Pat Summitt coached in "graybeard games" against Rutgers' C. Vivian Stringer and Stanford's Tara VanDerveer.
- Both coaches entered the contest against UT with over 800 career victories -- Stringer with 872 and VanDerveer with 833.
- Georgia coach Andy Landers is a member of the 800 club with 867 wins on his resume.
- Summitt and Landers have a combined 1,948 wins heading into the Georgia game on Jan. 5.
- The Tennessee Lady Vols have now produced a 28-5 opening day record in SEC play dating back to the 1979-80 season.
- UT is 14-2 in home SEC openers and 14-3 on the road.
- Georgia (1984 and 1996) and Auburn (1988 and 1989) each ambushed the Lady Vols in two SEC opening games, while Vanderbilt turned the trick in 1990.
- The Lady Vols have not dropped an SEC opener since 1996 when Georgia escaped with a 94-93 overtime victory in Knoxville on Dec. 8,

Flirting with Double-Doubles

- Tennessee had four players poised to record a double-double against Georgia on Jan. 5.
- In the end, substitutions dictated that Glory Johnson would be the only player to end up with one registering 22 points and 13 rebounds.
- Rookie Ariel Massengale tossed in 19 points and recorded nine assists.
- Shekinna Stricklen had 12 points and grabbed eight rebounds.
- Vicki Baugh lacked one bucket to tally a double-double finishing with eight points and 10 rebounds off the bench.

Career Day for Two Rookies

- Rookies Ariel Massengale and Isabelle "Izzy" Harrison attended career day on Jan. 3, 2012.
- The duo posted career highs in points against Chattanooga with Massengale tossing in 19 points and Harrison adding 13 points.

A Good Day in Tiger Town

- Sophomore Meighan Simmons had a solid performance against Auburn and tossed in an SEC PR of 20 points.
- She was joined in double-digit scoring by Shekinna Stricklen with 17 points, Glory Johnson's double-double of 14 points and 13 rebounds and Alicia Manning's 10 points.

- UT ruled the boards by a 49-31 margin.

Kamiko Back in the Line-up

- Lady Vol guard Kamiko Williams was cleared by UT team physicians to play in the Chattanooga game on Jan. 3.
- The junior had been rehabbing her left knee since anterior cruciate ligament surgery on July 22.
- Williams played 16 minutes against UTC and dished a team high four assists, grabbed three rebounds, and snagged two steals to go along with a bucket.
- Fellow junior and southpaw Taber Spani continues to be listed as day-to-day with a bone bruise.

Manning Threw a Christmas Party

- UT coach Pat Summitt inserted senior Alicia Manning into the starting line-up (for Vicki Baugh) against Old Dominion on Dec. 28 stating the Woodstock, Ga., native "had earned it in practice."
- Manning responded with career highs in rebounds (15) and steals (6).
- A blue collar player all the way, the Lady Vols' "gritiness factor" reaches all-time highs when Manning is on the court.

Dialing Assistance

- A pair of Lady Vol rookies have recorded nine assists in a game twice this season.
- Ariel Massengale had nine helpers against (then) #7-ranked Miami.
- Fellow freshman Cierra Burdick dished nine assists against Old Dominion.
- Their mark of nine is second-best for a rookie. Sophomore Meighan Simmons holds the UT rookie record with 11 scoring passes against Alabama on Jan. 6, 2011.

Simmons Slowly Heating it Up

- Sophomore guard Meighan Simmons has desperately struggled with her shot this season.
- "Speedy" had a field goal average hovering on life support in the teens and has not hit the mid 30's in FG%....

SEC Player of the Week (Dec. 26-Jan. 1)

- Coming back after the winter holiday, Lady Vol senior forward Glory Johnson returned with strong performances against Old Dominion and Auburn. For her efforts, she was named the SEC Women's Basketball Player of the Week on Jan. 2.
- Johnson averaged 15.0 ppg and 12.0 rpg and added three assists and three steals, while playing 29.0 mpg in victories over Old Dominion and Auburn.
- Against Old Dominion she led the UT scoring effort with 16 points and doubled up, pulling down 11 rebounds in just 26 minutes in the 90-37 win.
- Following her standout game against the Lady Monarchs, Johnson recorded her second-consecutive double-double and fourth of the season in the 73-52 victory at Auburn on Sunday.
- She finished with 14 points, 13 boards and three steals in the win to open the SEC slate.
- She is the second Lady Vol to earn SEC laurels this season, following Ariel Massengale who was tabbed SEC Freshman of the Week Dec. 5.

Massengale Back

- Lady Vol rookie point guard Ariel Massengale was back in the starting line-up against Old Dominion.
- She was cleared to play on Dec. 20 after missing the previous three games (#20/21 DePaul, #11 Rutgers and UCLA).
- The starting rookie guard made a brief 11 minute second half appearance against Stanford.
- She suffered a dislocated middle finger on her left hand in practice on Dec. 8.

Three Losses Heading into January

- The last time Tennessee sported three losses heading into January was the 2004-05 season.
- The Lady Vols were 8-3 overall and had lost at #4-ranked Texas, 74-59; to #10/9-ranked Duke, 59-57, and at #24-ranked Rutgers, 65-51.

Last 7-3 Start to Open the Season

- The last time the Lady Vols posted a 7-3 record in the first 10 games to open a season was in 1996-97.
- In that weird 29-10 overall record & NCAA title season, Tennessee collected wins over Austin Peay, #12/13-ranked Kansas, 314/17-ranked Notre Dame,

Wisconsin-Green Bay, Memphis, #11/10-ranked Texas Tech, #13/16-ranked Texas (OT) and suffered losses to #11/8-ranked Louisiana Tech, #5-ranked Georgia, and #1-ranked Stanford.

- The team headed into the 1997 portion of the schedule 7-4 overall after losing at #22/24 Arkansas.

Third Time this Season

- Against Old Dominion, Tennessee rebounded from a loss for the third time in the 2011-12 season.
- After dropping a 97-80 decision at #4-ranked Stanford on Dec. 20, UT righted the ship with a 90-37 win over ODU on Dec. 28 in Knoxville.
- Stanford's 90 points were the most against UT since Feb. 26, 2006 vs. Florida (UF 95, UT 93 (OT)).

UT turned Scarlet at Stanford

- Tennessee's 17-point loss at Stanford was the Lady Vols' worst "L" since losing 71-55 against Ball State on Mar. 22, 2009, in the First Round of the NCAA tournament.
- The Cardinal owned the boards against the Lady Vols with a 35-29 advantage.
- Stanford also dominated UT in the paint by a 40-18 margin.

Stricklen = Ironwomen

- Senior Shekinna Stricklen logged an average of 37.1 minutes per game over the four contests on the road in December.
- She logged all 40 minutes against Stanford while scoring a career high 27 points.
- She managed 33 minutes against UCLA despite fighting stomach troubles which sent her to the locker room in the first half.
- In the come-from-behind victory at Rutgers, Stricklen sat a handful of second shy of 40 minutes.
- In that game, she tossed in 22 points, grabbed nine rebounds and snagged three steals.
- Against DePaul, she logged 34 minutes.

Shoot'em Up

- Against UCLA, Tennessee hit a school record 76 percent (19-of-25) of its shots in the first half eclipsing the previous record of 70.3 percent against Old Dominion (1/4/89).
- On the afternoon against UCLA, Tennessee shot 69.2 percent - the fourth-highest mark in program history.
- UT's season high shooting percentage going into the game was 49.2 percent against Pepperdine (11/13/11).

The Ranked

- UT's six ranked opponents within its first 10 games of the 2011-12 campaign marks the most since playing five teams in the AP poll in the first eight games of the 2007-08 season.

Conference Carousel

- This season, the Lady Vols have faced a pair of teams from three different conferences -- the ACC, the Big 12, BIG EAST and Pac-12.
- Against these power conferences, UT recorded a 5-3 record.

Was Happy to be in Cali

- Lady Vol starting center Vicki Baugh is excited to be in her home state of California.
- The Sacramento native, who missed almost 21 months on the court due to ACL surgeries, will be making her first appearance in Los Angeles since her rookie season in 2007-08.
- Baugh is finishing her UT eligibility in grad school. She will receive her Master's in kinesiology in May.

From BIG EAST Week to Pac 12 Week

- Last week, the Lady Vols took on two teams from the BIG EAST facing #20/21-ranked DePaul (an 84-61 win on Dec. 11) and #11-ranked Rutgers on Dec. 13 (a 67-61 win).
- This week, Tennessee engages in Pac 12 Week facing UCLA (an 85-64 win) and at #4-ranked Stanford (a 97-80 loss) on the road.

One of the Days of Christmas

- Somewhere in the Lady Vols version of the "Twelve Days of Christmas" there should be a verse of "Stanford Comes A' Callin'."
- Over the last 20-plus years, Tennessee and Stanford have traditionally met in mid-December and typically served as a measuring stick for each other regardless of the outcome.

- In December games against the Cardinal, UT leads the series 16-6.

Summer Fun

- Please excuse Glory Johnson, Shekinna Stricklen, Nnemkadi Chiney Ogumike if they are caught up in conversation and laughter before the game.
- The foursome spent part of their summer as USA basketball teammates at the 2011 World University Games in Shenzhen, China.
- Team USA posted a perfect 6-0 record.
- The Red, White & Blue captured the gold medal with a 101-66 victory over Taiwan.

Playing in Front of a Full House

- The games versus both Stanford and UCLA were announced as advance sellouts.
- Last season, UT played in front of capacity crowds at Louisville (22,124), Old Dominion (7,774), Baylor (10,569) and Auburn (7,536).

Massengale Making Progress

- Starting rookie point guard Ariel Massengale is making progress in recovering from a dislocated finger.
- In the last couple of days, she has returned to the court to take some light reps.
- The protective cast-like material was removed prior to the team traveling out west.
- On Dec. 8, Jenny Moshak, University of Tennessee Associate Athletics Director for Sports Medicine, announced that Massengale had suffered a dislocated finger in practice and would possibly be out of the lineup for two to three weeks.
- The week previously, the rookie from Bolingbrook, Ill., collected the first conference honors of her collegiate career as she was named SEC Women's Basketball Freshman of the Week following her outstanding performance in UT's wins over Middle Tennessee and (then) No. 20/21-ranked Texas.
- On the season, Massengale is averaging 7.2 ppg and 5.8 apg for the No. 7/8-ranked Lady Vols.

Missing Miss Massengale

- In the three games with out Ariel Massengale, ball security has been an issue.
- Tennessee has committed 50 miscues in the last three games.
- UT lost the ball an improved 15 times at UCLA. However, those 15 miscues led to 15 Bruin points.
- Against #11-ranked Rutgers, UT had 16 turnovers (including three offensive fouls).
- UT evenly spaced the miscues with eight in each half.
- At the start of the game against DePaul, the Lady Vols certainly looked like they were very much missing freshman point guard Massengale.
- In the first five minutes, all five starters lost the ball at least once for a total of six UT miscues.
- Tennessee managed to settle down over the next 15 minutes of the half and lost the ball just seven times.

Taber is Clutch

- Since suffering a bone bruise against Virginia on Nov. 20, junior Taber Spani has struggled a bit with her game.
- In her last two contests, she looks like she is on the way back.
- Against UCLA, she drilled 4-of-6 treys and was 5-for-7 from the field for 14 points.
- Following a couple of "not so Taber" performances, she was one of the second half sparks in the win over Rutgers.
- Spani drilled a death ray trey with 1:53 left to give UT a comfortable 10-point lead, 64-54, to seal the comeback win.
- The forward looked like her old self in the second half scoring 10 points and dishing three assists.
- She logged 31 minutes on the night.

Rutgers Backs Pat

- The folks at Rutgers showed their support for UT coach Pat Summitt when the two teams met on Dec. 13.
- The Rutgers players wore "We Back Pat" shooting shirts and RU athletics director Tim Perneti presented UT a commemorative jersey for Summitt.
- Rutgers sold the Pat Summitt Foundation bracelets on the concourse with the proceeds going to the Foundation fund.

UT & Rutgers Hall of Famers

- Both Tennessee and Rutgers can boast of Women's Basketball Hall of Fame (Knoxville, Tenn.) and Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame (Springfield, Mass.) head coach inductees in Pat Head Summitt and C. Vivian Stringer.
- Summitt joined the Women's HoF when she was selected as a member of the inaugural class of 1999, while Stringer was a 2001 inductee.
- In Fall 2009, Stringer earned her induction into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame while Summitt was a member of the Class of 2000.
- Not only are the head coaches members of the WBHOF but UT also sports Lady Vol associate head coach Holly Warlick (inducted as a player in the Class of 2001 with Coach Stringer) and Lady Vol Basketball Director of Character Development, Daedra Charles-Furlow was a 2007 inductee.

Garden Party

- Tennessee's appearance in Madison Square Garden, "the world's most famous basketball arena," marks the fourth time for the Lady Vols.
- UT has a 3-0 record at MSG.
- In all previous trips to the Garden, Rutgers has been the opponent each time.
- Lady Vol All-American and Olympian Chamique Holdsclaw traveled to her hometown for her senior year in 1998-99. It marked UT's first trip to The Garden.
- The game was played before the largest crowd to ever see a women's collegiate basketball game in the Garden, 15,735.
- The trip was billed as the NYC homecoming for Holdsclaw who hailed from Astoria in Queens.
- Second-ranked UT had little trouble with the No. 15/13-ranked Scarlet Knights winning 68-54 on Jan. 3, 1999.
- The next visit was a meeting between #2 ranked Tennessee, who was trying to rebound from a loss at UConn, and #9/10-ranked Rutgers, in a defensive struggle in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 2, 2001, as the Lady Vols won 58-51.
- In the 2001 game at MSG, Lady Vol senior All-American Tamika Catchings was forced to wear the "blood jersey" (number 55), after her number 24 orange road jersey turned up missing when the UT managers did the team laundry after the game versus UConn in Hartford. It never did appear on eBay.
- The Lady Vols were invited to play in the Maggie Dixon Classic in 2009 with Rutgers as the opponent once again. No. 4/3-ranked Tennessee defeated the Scarlet Knights, 68-54, on Dec. 13.

Maggie Dixon Classic

Classic Notes

- This marks the second time the Lady Vols have participated in the Maggie Dixon Classic.
- Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt is the 2011 recipient of the Maggie Dixon Courage Award. Summitt will be honored by the Dixon family during a second half time out in the Classic's first game between Baylor and St. John's.
- Ironically, the last game Maggie Dixon ever coached at Army was against Tennessee. In 2006 Tennessee, Army, Old Dominion and George Washington were all bracketed together in Norfolk, Virginia, for NCAA First/Second Rounds.
- The night before the Tennessee vs. Army contest both coaching staffs found themselves dining at the same Virginia Beach seafood restaurant.
- Basketball talk ensued that evening and the next day the two teams met on the court.
- The game won't be remembered as Army's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament under a rookie head coach but as the game in which Tennessee redshirt freshman Candace Parker dunked twice as the Lady Vols won going away, 102-54 on March 19, 2006.
- The next week, the Lady Vols met Rutgers in the Sweet 16 in the Cleveland Regional (a 76-69 win) but lost to North Carolina in the Regional Championship, 75-63.
- Sadly, Maggie Dixon passed away after the Final Four in Boston on April 6, 2006.

Graduation

- Lady Vol senior guard Alicia Manning had a busy morning on Dec. 9. In addition to packing for a trip to New York City and an early morning practice, Manning donned cap and gown to receive her diploma from UT.
- The newly-minted graduate of the College of Education received her B.S. in Sport Management with a business minor.
- In January Manning will join fellow Lady Vols Vicki Baugh and Glory Johnson in graduate school. The Woodstock, Ga., native plans to pursue a master's in Kinesiology with a concentration in Sport Psychology.
- Manning was joined at graduation by her parents, Jeff and Virginia Manning, as well as Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt.
- Following graduation in Thompson-Boling Arena, she dashed to the locker room where she signed the Lady Vol graduation pillar, adding her name near Candace Parker's and continuing the 100 percent graduation among UT hoopsters.
- Manning then joined her teammates in Pratt Pavilion for practice before heading to the Big Apple.

Heading in the Right Direction

- Tennessee halted a two-game losing streak taking a 82-43 win over Middle Tennessee State behind the play of rookies.
- Cierra Burdick, came off the bench to contribute 14 points and 10 rebounds while Ariel Massengale added 14 points and five assists.
- That "must win" was followed by a solid effort in the 73-57 victory over #21/20 Texas on Dec. 4 in Knoxville.

Starting with a Pair of L's

- The last time the Lady Vols opened the season with a 2-2 record was during the 1990-91 campaign. Tennessee went on to a 30-5 overall record and captured the 1991 National Championship.
- Tennessee opened that season with a win over Stanford (the defending NCAA Champs)...lost by 13 at N.C. State...defeated Virginia Tech on the road ... then lost at Vanderbilt by 14 points.
- Including this season, back-to-back losses have only occurred 25 times during Coach Pat Summitt's 38-year career at Tennessee.
- Before losing back-to-back to Virginia and #1-ranked Baylor (Nov. 20 & 27, 2011), the last occurrence was during the 11 loss 2008-09 season.
- UT lost back-to-back games twice that year -- at Duke and Kentucky (Feb. 16 & 19) and vs. Auburn and Ball State (Mar. 7 & 22).
- Tennessee suffered back-to-back losses three times in the 10 loss, 1996-97 NCAA Championship "Cinderella Season."
- Of the all-time losses for Summitt's teams, they have lost back-to-back-to-back games just twice.
- In December 1984, the Lady Vols lost three consecutive games (all on the road) at #3-ranked Georgia, at #2 Texas and at #7 Louisiana Tech.
- In February 1986, UT also lost three consecutive games at #8-ranked Ole Miss, #11-ranked Auburn and against #3-ranked Louisiana Tech.

When Playing Number One

- Tennessee is 14-29 all-time when playing the nation's number one ranked team. The Lady Vols are 3-10 in Knoxville, an even 6-6 on the road and 5-13 on neutral courts.
- UT is currently ranked number six in the AP poll. Tennessee is now 0-4 when trying to upset #1 from that position.
- UT is currently ranked number seven in the USA Today/ESPN poll. Tennessee is now 0-2 when trying to upset #1 from that position.

The Numbers Game

- Prior to the game versus Baylor on Nov. 27, the last time Tennessee played the nation's number one-ranked team was on Jan. 22, 2007 in Knoxville. The Lady Vols missed charity tosses down the stretch to lose 74-70 to top-ranked Duke after mounting a furious comeback rally.
- The Blue Devils opened the game with a nightmarish 19-0 run-out, as the Lady Vols fell into a 21-point hole (28-7 at 9:23 in the first half) before rallying to narrow the halftime deficit to 11 points (38-27).

- Free throw defense stymied Tennessee, as the Lady Vols connected on just 8-17 (.471) for the game. All-American Candace Parker managed just 1-7 from the free throw line.

Good Neighbors

- The 2011 meeting with Miami in the State Farm TipOff Classic marked the Lady Vols eighth appearance in the State Farm TipOff Classic and the fifth time to host the event. Tennessee now has a 6-2 record in TipOff games.

Making a Claim

- In the first TipOff in 1993, Lady Vol coach Pat Summitt picked up her 500th career victory.
- In the TipOff in 1998, Purdue and Coach Carolyn Peck halted the Lady Vols school record 46-game consecutive winning streak.
- Tennessee's last opening game home loss to start a season came against Louisiana Tech in the 1999 TipOff Classic, 69-64, as UT failed to convert free throws in the waning seconds.
- In Tennessee's most recent TipOff appearance in 2009 in Knoxville, the Lady Vols spoiled Brittney Griner's first collegiate game with a 74-65 victory over the Lady Bears.

Going into the Hall

- Lady Vol Olympian and All-American Nikki McCray Pinson will be a member of the 2012 Women's Basketball Hall of Fame Induction Class. Also being inducted are: Nancy Fahey (Coach), Pamela McGee (Player), Inge Nissen (Player), Robin Roberts (Contributor), and Dawn Staley (Player).
- A true rookie got a starting nod on the opening day of the 2011-12 season.
- When Coach Pat Summitt started freshman Ariel Massengale against Pepperdine in the opening game of the 2011-12 season, it marked only the 14th time in her coaching career that a freshman started her very first game at Tennessee -- out of a total of 161 all-time Lady Vols who have played at UT.
- The list of opening day rookie starters: Taber Spani, 2009, Glory Johnson and Shekinna Stricklen, 2008, Angie Bjorklund, 2007, Candace Parker, 2005, Shyra Ely 2001, Ashley Robinson 2000, Gwen Jackson 1999, Kyra Elzy 1996, Chamique Holdsclaw 1995, Tiffani Johnson 1994, Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost 1985.

The Nod

- With Ariel Massengale getting the opening day start against Pepperdine, she became the 61st rookie all-time to earn a starting assignment at UT. Last season, Meighan Simmons, a 5-9 point guard from Cibolo, Texas, became the 60th rookie all-time to earn a starting assignment at Tennessee.
- The previous year, rookie Kamiko Williams (59th all-time) started against Arkansas while her classmate and fellow rookie Taber Spani, became the 13th frosh to start her very first game at UT and the 58th rookie overall.
- In 2008-09, a record number of players -- FIVE -- were called on to start for the Lady Vols as rookies: Shekinna Stricklen (starter number 53), Glory Johnson (number 54), Briana Bass (55), Alicia Manning (56) and Kelley Cain (57) all earned starting assignments.
- Angie Bjorklund became the 52nd all-time Lady Vol to start during her freshman season --she started in 30 of 38 games.
- Previously, Cait McMahan earned a start at point guard versus Louisiana Tech during her freshman season.
- Prior to Cait's starting nod, then-redshirt freshman Candace Parker played and started in all 36 games her rookie season in 2005-06.
- A season earlier, Tennessee coach Pat Summitt liked what she saw out of the 2004-05 rookie class as two players earned starting nods during the season. Nicky Anosike played in all 35 games with 25 starting assignments and Alexis Hornbuckle played in all 35 games with 21 starts.
- This duo became the 48th and 49th rookies all-time to earn starting assignments at UT as rookies.

Fourth Earliest Opener

- The game against Pepperdine was the fourth earliest date the Lady Vols have ever opened the season. UT's earliest opening game was during the 2002-03 season with first tip on Nov. 10, 2002, taking on #22/19-ranked Oklahoma and registering a 94-68 win.

KNOXVILLE -- It took over two minutes for the first shot to finally fall. Pepperdine never led, but kept within two baskets until an 8-0 run capped by Meighan Simmons' jumper with 10:32 left in the first half gave Tennessee a 20-9 lead.

Summitt played her entire bench in the first half, including freshmen Cierra Burdick and Isabelle Harrison, and the Tennessee reserves scored 20 points.

Glory Johnson led the Lady Vols with 17 points and 13 rebounds. Shekinna Stricklen and Simmons each had 13 points, Taber Spani contributed 11 points and Briana Bass had 10.

Pepperdine's tough defense came at a cost. The Waves had 14 personal fouls in the first half, though the Lady Vols were uncharacteristically sloppy at the charity stripe, making just two of six foul shots before halftime.

Still, it forced Rousseau to go deep into her bench, which was responsible for just four points in the first half and 19 total. Jazmine Jackson had 17 points for the Waves, who shot 28.4 percent to the Lady Vols' 49.2 percent shooting.

Tennessee outrebounded Pepperdine 54-34, but couldn't turn them into points. The Lady Vols gained control of the game with their 20 fast-break points and by sinking eight of their 10 3-point baskets in the second half.

Summitt gave a starting nod to point guard Ariel Massengale, making her just the 14th Lady Vol to start her very first career game. The coach was so convinced of Massengale's talent and frustrated by a lack of a bona fide point guard last season that she dubbed Massengale a starter back in March.

Massengale sat for more than 13 minutes in the first half after picking up two fouls and finished with just one field goal, but had five assists to just one turnover and came up with two steals and three rebounds in 20 minutes.

KNOXVILLE - Junior Taber Spani hit a game-high four three-pointers, but none bigger than the one she drained from the top of the key as the shot clock expired with 6:36 remaining in the game.

The swish ignited an 11-0 Tennessee run and ultimately helped lift the No. 3 Tennessee women's basketball team (2-0) to a 92-76 victory over No. 7 Miami (1-1) on Tuesday evening at Thompson-Boling Arena.

The pair of top ten teams were tied, 42-42, at halftime before Tennessee scored the second half's first nine points and 18 of the first 22 to take a 60-46 lead.

But the Hurricanes came storming back, eventually getting as close as 73-68. That's when Spani saved her best for her last shot.

After her three-pointer, the Lady Vols forced a shot clock violation on the other end, and freshman Isabelle Harrison scored her first points of the evening off of on an offensive rebound.

Tennessee went on to score 19 of the game's final 27 points to notch its second win in as many tries this season.

After Miami's Riquna Williams went off for 17 first-half points, UT limited her to just seven in the second. Although she finished with a game-high 24 points, the Lady Vols made her use 28 shot attempts to get there.

Tennessee had five players in double-figures. Joining Spani were Meighan Simmons (18), Johnson (16), Shekinna Stricklen (15) and Ariel Massengale (11). Johnson also chipped in a team-high nine rebounds, while Massengale led the game with the second-highest assist total by a UT freshman all-time with nine.

In the first half, it was the Hurricanes that got off to a strong start. After Baugh scored the game's opening bucket on a layup, Miami went on a 10-2 run for its largest lead of the contest, 10-4.

The Hurricanes made four of their first six three-point attempts, and led until a try from Simmons put the Lady Vols back ahead, 18-16, with 13:41 left in the first half.

After UM's Stefanie Yderstorm responded with a three-pointer of her own complemented by a Krystal Saunders layup, the Lady Vols scored eight consecutive points to take a 26-21 lead with 10:21 left in the first half and would not trail again.

UT matched its biggest lead of the first 20 minutes, 38-31, on a jumper from Spani, who led the team with 13 first-half points. UM closed the first half with an 1

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - Chelsea Shine scored 18 points, including a key basket in overtime, and Virginia stunned turnover-prone No. 3 Tennessee 69-64 on Sunday.

The Cavaliers (4-0) came into the game allowing just over 42 points a game under first-year coach Joanne Boyle, and dictated the pace against a Lady Vols team averaging 90.5 points.

Taber Spani led the Lady Vols (2-1) with 22 points, including a 3-pointer 59 seconds into overtime that gave Tennessee a 61-58 lead, but the Cavaliers scored the next 11 points, the crowd at John Paul Jones Arena getting more excited with each basket.

China Crosby had 13 points and Ataira Franklin 12 for Virginia, which beat Tennessee for just the third time in 16 games. Lexie Gerson and Ariana Moorer each scored 10. Shekinna Stricklen had 16 and Glory Johnson 15 for the Lady Vols, who missed 10 of 21 free throws.

In the overtime, after Spani's 3-pointer, Moorer hit a pair of free throws, and then a foul-line jumper, one of only three baskets she made in 16 tries. Shine followed a turnover the Tennessee with a short baseline jumper, and Crosby hit 3 of 4 free throws to make it 67-61.

The Lady Vols never had an answer, and each time they failed to score and Virginia came away with the ball, the crowd of 6,450 at John Paul Jones Arena got louder and more excited.

Stricklen had a chance to give the Lady Vols the lead near the end of regulation when she was fouled while scoring, but she missed the free throw, one of 10 misses in 21 tries for Tennessee. The Lady Vols also had 24 turnovers that the Cavaliers turned into 27 points.

Crosby broke a 56-all tie with 36.6 seconds to go in regulation, hitting a desperate shot from the baseline with the shot clock running down. After a timeout, Spani calmly swished a 12-footer from the left baseline with 22.8 seconds to go, pulling Tennessee even again.

Moorer's last chance drive in regulation was cleanly blocked just before the buzzer. The Cavaliers tightened their defense and Tennessee continued to be sloppy early in the second half as Virginia opened the half on a 14-6 run. The Cavaliers led by as many as nine and by 47-40 when the Lady Vols began asserting themselves on the offensive glass and rallied.

Tennessee scored eight straight points, taking its first lead since the first half, but Shine scored inside and Crosby's three-point play boosted the Cavaliers' edge back to 52-48.

The Lady Vols pulled even three times, but only led once thereafter.

Virginia used a 12-2 run to take a 24-20 lead in a sloppy first half. The Lady Vols turned the ball over at least seven times in the drought, and went almost 5 minutes without scoring.

Spani, who hit the floor hard at one point and went back to the locker room, led Tennessee with 12 points in the half, and Gerson led the Cavaliers with eight.

KNOXVILLE - The No. 6 Lady Vols led for much of the second half, but No. 1 Baylor took the lead late in the second half and went on to a 76-67 win before an electric crowd at Thompson-Boling Arena. The contest was the first "WE BACK PAT" game as the Pat Summitt Foundation was launched at halftime and $150,000 was presented to the Alzheimer's Tennessee and the UT Medical Center with money raised from sales of "WE BACK PAT" shirts.

Baylor All-American Brittney Griner scored 17 of her game-high 26 in the second half to lead the Bears' comeback as they moved to 6-0. UT's All-American Shekinna Stricklen led the Lady Vols with 25 points and 12 rebounds. Vicki Baugh also had 17 points and 10 rebounds.

With the loss, the Lady Vols' 38-game home win streak comes to an end as Tennessee falls to 2-2 overall. The last time UT started a season 2-2 was the 1990-91 season. That year, Tennessee went on to win its third NCAA Championship with a 30-5 record.

Odyssey Sims (23 points) knocked down a 3-pointer with 7:20 left in regulation to give Baylor the lead it would never relinquish, 56-53. Glory Johnson (9 points, 11 rebounds) swooped in for a layup with 6:40 left to bring UT back within one at 56-55, but that was as close as it would be the rest of the way.

Tennessee continued to pressure in the final minutes, but missed several shots as the Lady Vols shot just 29.3 percent in the game.

KNOXVILLE - A pair of freshmen, Cierra Burdick and Ariel Massengale, each scored a career-high 14 points and keyed a pair of first-half runs as the No. 8 Tennessee women's basketball team defeated in-state rival Middle Tennessee, 82-43, Tuesday evening at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Massengale logged just 23 minutes, but led the Lady Vols in both scoring for the first time in her career, tying Burdick. Massengale has led Tennessee (3-2) in assists in all five games to open her collegiate career, and had zero turnovers for the first time Tuesday night.

Massengale, and UT's other four starters, had a light night after controlling the action throughout the game's entirety. Johnson played a starter-high 25 minutes and tallied nine points and nine rebounds.

Despite the Lady Vols' largest win this season of 39 points, UT matched its least amount of double-figure scorers this season with two. Senior preseason All-American Shekinna Stricklen also chipped in 12 points.

Over the first 10 minutes of the second half, Tennessee extended its 48-24 halftime lead to a 62-30 margin and the Lady Vols never looked back.

UT limited the Blue Raiders (4-3) to 19 points in the second half. Middle Tennessee was led by a game-high 16 points from Kortni Jones. Ebony Rowe also had 10 points for MTSU.

In the first half, Middle Tennessee jumped out to a 5-2 lead before the Lady Vols scored 20 of the game's next 22 points to take a 22-7 lead at the 11:47 mark, setting the tone for the rest of the game.

During that stretch, Massengale played a role in 14 of UT's 20 points, contributing nine points and assisting on a pair of baskets. The freshman standout also had one of her two steals in the run. She had already matched her career high with 11 points by halftime.

The Blue Raiders responded with an 11-5 run to bring their deficit back within single digits at 27-18 with 7:08 left.

UT reinforced its dominance, scoring 21 of the opening stanza's final 27 points, to take a 48-24 halftime lead. Burdick scored all seven of her first-half points in the run as the Lady Vols' 24-point advantage at intermission was their largest of the season.

KNOXVILLE — Clutch three-point shooting and powerful rebounding lifted #8 Tennessee to a 73-57 victory over #21/22 Texas on Sunday afternoon.

From three-point range Tennessee shot 52.4 percent, making 11-of-21 while being led by Shekinna Stricklen (20 points) and Meighan Simmons (10 points), who combined to make 8-of-16 from behind the arc. Stricklen was a career-high 5-of-9 from three-point land.

The Lady Vols (4-2) outrebounded the Longhorns (5-2), 49-38, led by Vicki Baugh's 11 boards.

Baugh (17 points) and Glory Johnson (11 points and 10 rebounds) both posted double-doubles. Ariel Massengale also scored in double-figures with 10 points while handling out five assists.

The Longhorns were led by Ashleigh Fontenette and Chassidy Fussell, who tallied 22 and 14 points, respectively.

Stricklen's fifth three-pointer of the game was the final dagger as it put Tennessee up 64-53 with 6:15 to play on a trey as the shot clock was winding down.

The Lady Vols held Texas scoreless for 6:20 late in the game as the Lady Vols went on a 10-0 run while forcing the Longhorns into five turnovers during the spurt. Texas ended the drought on Fontenette's jumper with 2:40 left in the game, as the Longhorns had fallen behind by 16.

Down by as many as 14 early in the second, the Longhorns cut the deficit to six at 59-53 on a three-pointer by Chelsea Bass with 8:50 left in the second half. That would be Texas' final points for more than six minutes

NEW YORK - Glory Johnson scored 16 points and Cierra Burdick added 15 to help No. 7 Tennessee beat No. 20 DePaul 84-61 on Sunday in the Maggie Dixon Classic at Madison Square Garden.

Shekinna Stricklen added 12 points while Alicia Manning had season-highs of 12 points and 12 rebounds for the Lady Vols (5-2), who saw their 12-point halftime lead cut to 41-37 before using an 15-4 run to take control. Stricklen had six points during the burst.

Her layup made it 56-43 with 11:19 left and DePaul (8-2) couldn't get within single digits the rest of the way.

Tennessee coach Pat Summitt was honored during No. 1 Baylor's 73-59 victory over St. John's with the Maggie Dixon Courage award. Summitt announced in August that she had been diagnosed with early onset Alzheimer's. Both the Lady Bears and Red Storm came out of their timeouts to applaud the winningest coach in college basketball.

Jasmine Penny scored 16 points and Keisha Hampton added 14 for DePaul.

It was the second time Tennessee played in the Classic named for the former Army women's coach. The Lady Vols beat Rutgers two years ago. The Scarlet Knights had played in all four of the previous Garden events. Army hosted Ohio State at West Point the first year.

The 28-year-old Dixon died April 6, 2006, of arrhythmia, probably caused by an enlarged heart. Her death came three weeks after she finished her first season as Army coach. She won the admiration of the academy and all of college basketball for leading Army to its first NCAA berth, where the Cadets lost in the first round to Summitt's Lady Vols.

Tennessee was playing its first game without freshman point guard Ariel Massengale. She had started every game averaging 7.2 points and 5.8 assists.

She injured a finger on her left hand while diving for a loose ball at the end of practice on Thursday and will be sidelined for a few weeks.

PISCATAWAY, N.J. - The sixth-ranked Tennessee women's basketball team used a pivotal 13-0 run late in the second half to propel the Lady Vols to a 67-61 victory over No. 11 Rutgers on Tuesday evening at the Louis Brown Athletic Center.

The sixth-ranked Lady Vols lost all of a 13-point lead and found themselves down by three before taking control with a late run to seal their 67-61 victory over the Scarlet Knights. Sophomore guard Meighan Simmons hit two clutch 3-pointers during the game-changing spurt.

Trailing 54-51 with 8:33 left, Tennessee (6-2) scored 13 straight points, holding Rutgers without a point for nearly 8 minutes. Vicki Baugh started the burst with a layup and Simmons hit consecutive 3-pointers to give the Lady Vols a 61-54 lead. Taber Spani hit another 3 with 1:52 left to seal the victory.

The game featured two Hall of Fame coaches with Pat Summitt and C. Vivian Stringer of Rutgers. The long-time friends have combined for nearly 1,950 victories during their illustrious careers. They stand first and third on the women's basketball all-time victory list.

Summitt received a warm standing ovation from the crowd before the game and shared a long embrace with Stringer. Rutgers players wore warmup shirts that said "We Back Pat" in honor of Summitt's battle with Alzheimer's. The school also presented Tennessee with a collage of Stringer's favorite photos with Summitt and a commemorative jersey at the half.

Tennessee held Rutgers scoreless over a 7:55 span as April Sykes connected from downtown with 38 seconds left. As the Lady Vols squandered free throw opportunities, the Scarlet Knights made things interesting, coming as close as 65-61 before a pair of free throws from Shekinna Stricklen sealed the victory for UT.

The Lady Vols got off to a quick start behind Stricklen. The senior preseason All-American had 10 straight points for Tennessee during one stretch. Her jumper with 5:48 left in the half gave the Lady Vols a 33-20 lead. That would be their last points before the half as Rutgers turned up its defensive pressure, scoring the final eight points before the break, including four by Sykes.

Rutgers continued the run to start the second half scoring 11 of the first 14 points. Sykes' layup 2 1/2 minutes in gave Rutgers its first lead of the game at 37-36. Khadijah Rushdan's basket moments later capped the 19-3 burst.

Neither team could pull away. Rutgers built a 54-51 lead on consecutive scores by Rushdan and a layup by Sykes with 8:33 left. That would be the Scarlet Knights' final points until Sykes hit a 3-pointer with 35.9 seconds left that made it 64-57. Rutgers would get within four on Monique's Oliver's lay-in with 12.6 seconds left.

Rushdan finished with 16 points. Spani and Simmons each had 13 points for Tennessee.

LOS ANGELES - Meighan Simmons scored 18 points, Glory Johnson added 17 and No. 6 Tennessee made 18 of its first 20 shots in beating UCLA 85-64 on Saturday.

Vicki Baugh had 14 points and 12 rebounds, Taber Spani added 14 points and Shekinna Stricklen scored 11 for the Lady Vols, who shot 36 of 52 (69.6 percent) from the floor -- not far off the school record of 72.1 percent against Old Dominion on Jan. 4, 1989.

Rebekah Gardner scored 15 of her career-high 24 points in the first half for UCLA (5-4), and Thea Lemberger and Markel Walker added 11 points each for the Bruins.

The win was the fourth straight for the Lady Vols (7-2) and their 18th in 19 meetings all-time against UCLA. It also raised Lady Vols coach Pat Summitt's career record to 1,078-201.

The 59-year-old Hall of Famer, in her 38th season at Tennessee, is the only coach in NCAA men's and women's basketball history to reach 1,000 wins.

The Lady Vols never trailed, making their first eight shots, including three 3-pointers, for a 19-8 lead. The Bruins went on a 10-3 run to draw within four points before Tennessee had a 21-9 burst to make it 43-27. The Lady Vols then missed five of six shots, leaving them shooting 19 of 25 (76 percent) and with a 45-34 lead at halftime.

Tennessee outscored the Bruins 9-2 to begin the second half for a 54-36 lead. UCLA wasn't closer than 13 points after that. A layup by Baugh with 7:29 remaining made it 74-52, with Tennessee shooting 32 of 43 (74.4 percent) from the field at that stage.

There were only four fouls called and just one free throw in the first half, and 17 fouls and 18 free throws in the game.

Tennessee played its third straight game without starting point guard Ariel Massengale, who dislocated her left middle finger during practice earlier this month.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) - Nnemkadi Ogumike scored a career-high 42 points and dazzled in what might have been the most meaningful home game of her senior season, and No. 4 Stanford beat sixth-ranked Tennessee 97-80 on Tuesday night in one of women's basketballs best rivalries.

The Cardinal extended their school-record home winning streak to 68 games at Maples Pavilion, where a sellout crowd of 7,329 waved red "We Back Pat" rally towels in support of Hall of Fame Lady Vols coach Pat Summitt, who revealed in August she has early onset Alzheimer's.

Shekinna Stricklen scored a career-high 27 points to lead the Lady Vols, who had their five-game winning streak snapped.

Glory Johnson added 18 points, six rebounds, two blocks and two steals and Meighan Simmons scored 13 for Tennessee on a night Ogumike put on a show for national television.

Ogumike's basket that hit the rim and bounced in with 10:59 left gave the Cardinal their first double-digit lead of the game at 65-55 - and they only built on that the rest of the way. Ogumike's two free throws with 3:49 left topped her previous best outing of 38 points on April 4, 2010, against Oklahoma.

Her sophomore sister, Chiney, added 14 points as the Cardinal shot 53.6 percent.

Tennessee shot a sizzling 61.5 percent in the first half to stay within 48-41 at the break before going a cool 37 percent in the second half to finish at 49.1 percent.

The Cardinal, riding a streak of four straight Final Fours without a championship, haven't lost on their home floor at raucous Maples Pavilion since falling to Florida State in the second round of the NCAA tournament on March 19, 2007.

Stanford has beaten Tennessee three times during that span - also a 73-69 win on Dec. 22, 2007, and a 67-52 victory on Dec. 19, 2009. There also was that monumental 71-59 victory last Dec. 30 that snapped top-ranked Connecticut's record 90-game winning streak.

Summitt walked onto the court a few minutes before tipoff to a rousing standing ovation from the sellout crowd.

Fellow Hall of Famer VanDerveer was shown on the main elevated center-court scoreboard offering her support to Summitt while acknowledging how much Stanford cherishes the rivalry and regular non-conference meetings with the Lady Vols.

VanDerveer said Stanford's program "is behind her 100 percent." Summitt was not yet on the court with her team to see the presentation.

"Pat, we love you, we care about you and we wish you the very best in your battle with Alzheimer's," said the video with VanDerveer, who walked to the opposite bench to greet Summitt. They posed for a few photos together.

KNOXVILLE - Behind double-doubles from seniors Vicki Baugh and Glory Johnson, the seventh-ranked Tennessee women's basketball team topped Old Dominion, 90-37, Wednesday evening at Thompson-Boling Arena. The Lady Vols spent their practices since last week's 17-point loss at No. 4 Stanford focused on regaining the defensive excellence that coach Pat Summitt expects of them. The result was a near perfect effort in a 90-37 win over Old Dominion on Wednesday night. "Tonight, it was about Tennessee," associate head coach Holly Warlick said. "It was about what was across our chest. We focused on getting better. I think what we did today was indicative of how hard we've practiced on the defensive end."

Warlick estimated the team had spent all of two minutes total working on offense during practices on Monday and Tuesday. The coaches and players used the rest of the time to work on rebounding, pass deflections and preventing transition baskets -- all things that haunted them in the 97-80 loss to the Cardinal on Dec. 20.

The Lady Vols (8-3) outrebounded the Lady Monarchs 54-32, limited them to 25 percent shooting, forced 23 turnovers and gave up just one basket on the fastbreak.

Tennessee now has won 16 straight and 31 of the last 32 against the Lady Monarchs, whose 37 points was the lowest total scored by either team in the 45-game annual series.

Tennessee appeared a bit rusty on the offensive end early against Old Dominion (3-10), which scored the first two baskets of the game.

The Lady Monarchs were leading 8-7 when Alicia Manning hit a jumper with 16:14 in the first half that launched a 14-2 run to give the Lady Vols control of the game. Ariel Massengale, who hadn't started a game since dislocating her left middle finger in practice Dec. 8, hit back-to-back 3s in the span of 28 seconds during the stretch.

"I was really happy with our play at the very beginning because Tennessee is such a big place to play and it's really big-time," Old Dominion guard Jackie Cook said. "I was really proud of how we stepped up and played from the very start. We just couldn't finish."

Tennessee took a commanding 50-20 halftime lead against Old Dominion by shooting 50 percent from the field and hitting 6 of 12 from 3. The Lady Vols turned the ball over just twice and posted 15 assists before the break.

Their improved defense led to balanced offense, with Johnson logging 16 points and 11 rebounds. Baugh had 11 points and 12 rebounds. Meighan Simmons added 12 points, Massengale scored 11, Isabelle Harrison had 10 and Alicia Manning grabbed 15 rebounds.

"I like a game like this because we're working on ourselves," Johnson said. "We're working on ourselves as a team and we're trying to get better and work on our defense. We have so many things that we have to work on outside of the big games. We only have so much time."

Cook led Old Dominion with 13 points, as the Lady Vols managed to frustrate Old Dominion's top player, Tia Lewis. Lewis entered the game averaging 18.1 points and 9.7 rebounds but finished with eight points, eight rebounds and four fouls.

By the end of the game, Tennessee had scored 46 and had 26 points off turnovers. Old Dominion only scored eight points inside and had just a single point off the Lady Vols' 11 giveaways.

AUBURN, Ala. - The seventh-ranked Tennessee women's basketball team opened the new year and SEC play with a 73-52 win against Auburn on Sunday afternoon at Auburn Arena, marking UT's 34th consecutive SEC win dating back to the 2009-10 season.

The Lady Vols won going away in a game when their shots weren't falling. Hounding Auburn into mistakes helped.

Meighan Simmons scored 20 points and the Lady Vols (No. 8 ESPN/USA Today, No. 7 AP) closed on a big run.

Tennessee (9-3, 1-0 SEC) came into the game last in the league in scoring defense, giving up 63.5 points a game, but forced 25 turnovers and had 12 steals.

It was more than enough to earn the Lady Vols a 34th-consecutive SEC win.

The Lady Vols closed the game on a 19-6 run to turn a tight contest into a blowout and win for the 27th time in the last 30 meetings with the Tigers

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - The #6/7 Lady Vols used a 30-0 run in the first half to run away with a 90-47 victory over Chattanooga on Tuesday night at Thompson-Boling Arena. Tennessee moved to 10-3 with the easy win in its final home non-conference game this season. The Lady Vols will play their third game in five nights on Thursday as Georgia comes to Knoxville for a 7 p.m., tip-off on CSS.

Freshman Ariel Massengale (19 points) and Isabelle Harrison (13 points) each scored career-highs in the win as four Lady Vols scored in double-figures. Glory Johnson tallied a double-double with 10 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Meighan Simmons also scored 10 points.

For Johnson, it was her third straight double-double and sixth of the season.

The Lady Vols outrebounded the Lady Mocs, 55-28, while shooting 47.2 percent from the floor. Chattanooga was limited to just 30.4 percent for the game including 20.7 (6-of-29) in the first half.

The game marked the return of junior guard Kamiko Williams, who missed the first 12 games recovering from a torn ACL. Williams played 16 minutes and had two points, four assists, two steals and three rebounds.

The Lady Mocs (8-4) were led by former Lady Vol Faith Dupree, who had 17 points on 7-of-10 shooting.

Tennessee led 10-8 with 16:34 left in the first half before that 30-0 run, which made it 40-8 with 5:48 left in the half on a jumper by Cierra Burdick.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. - Shekinna Stricklen made sure she went out in style in her last performance in her home state. Stricklen scored 19 points, and Glory Johnson recorded her fifth straight double-double, as Tennessee (No. 7 ESPN/USA Today, No. 6 AP) routed Arkansas 69-38 on Sunday.

The win was the 36th straight in Southeastern Conference play for the Lady Volunteers (12-3, 3-0), who opened the game with a 25-3 run and never looked back.

Tennessee hasn't lost an SEC game since a 53-50 loss at Georgia on Jan. 21, 2010, and it was in no jeopardy of doing so while holding the Razorbacks to a season-low point total.

Arkansas, meanwhile, remained winless in SEC play. The Razorbacks (11-4, 0-3) hit only 3 of 30 shots in the first half, and their 10-of-55 shooting for the game (18.1 percent) was the worst in school history.

Stricklen, who starred in high school in Morrilton, Ark., scored what was a career-high 26 points in a win at Arkansas last season, and the Lady Volunteers' leading scorer was equally impressive this time around. The senior scored six points early as Tennessee opened with a 14-0 run, including one of her two 3-pointers for the game.

She finished 8 of 12 from the field and had eight rebounds in front on a sizeable and vocal cheering section behind the Tennessee bench. The strong effort came after Stricklen had shot just 32 percent over her last four games.

Stricklen's performance was hardly the only dominant one.

Johnson, who entered the game only four rebounds short of 1,000 for her career, didn't need long to reach that mark against the Razorbacks (11-4, 0-3). She grabbed her fourth rebound and scored on a putback late in the first half to put Tennessee up 31-8 -- finishing with 15 points and 14 rebounds.

The game was well out of hand at that point.

Arkansas didn't score until Lyndsey Harris' 3-pointer 6:24 into the game, and it opened 1 of 19 from the field. Harris, who finished with 14 points, hit two first-half 3-pointers, and the Razorbacks' only other basket was a putback by Quistelle Williams.

Arkansas' previous worst shooting half was a 3-of-26 performance against Wichita State in 1981. Its previous worst game was 8 of 41 against Louisiana Tech in 1978.

The Razorbacks entered the game shooting just 38 percent as a team for the season. The previous worst performance this season was a 17-of-53 effort against Florida State in November, but they managed to win that game 55-52.

They had no such chance against the suffocating defense of Tennessee, which held Arkansas' leading scorer C'eira Ricketts to two points on 1-of-11 shooting. Harris didn't fare much better at 4 of 14.

Johnson joined an elite group of Lady Vols to reach the 1,000/1,000 club. Also achieving 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in their UT careers were Chamique Holdscraw, Sheila Frost and Tamika Catchings.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - A 21-4 run over a six-minute span midway through the second half helped lift the #6/7 Lady Vols to a 87-64 victory over #25/24 Vanderbilt on Saturday before 17,879. Shekinna Stricklen led the way with 20 points and Glory Johnson posted her sixth double-double in the last seven games with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Vicki Baugh contributed 16 points and seven rebounds for the Lady Vols, who rebounded from a 61-60 loss at #9 Kentucky on Thursday night. Tennessee improved to 13-4 overall, 4-1 in the SEC.

Meighan Simmons chipped in with 10 points and Ariel Massengale set her career-high in assists with 12 to go along with six points. The 12 assists tie for the fifth-most in Tennessee history. That mark was first accomplished by Associate Head Coach Holly Warlick in 1980.

Christina Foggie led all scorers with 28 points for the Commodores (14-3, 2-2). Stephanie Holzer added 14.

After a very tight game for the first 25 minutes, where neither team led by double-figures, the Lady Vols turned up the defensive intensity and created offensive opportunities. Tennessee had 14 steals and shot 52.9 from the floor. It was the third time this season, Tennessee shot 50 percent from the floor. Johnson tied her career-high with five steals.

The Lady Vols limited the NCAA's best 3-point shooting team to just 31.3 from beyond the arc (5-of-16). Vanderbilt came into the game making 44.1 percent of its shots from trifecta land.

As part of the 21-4 run, the Lady Vols used a 10-0 run to break open the game midway through the second half. Tenacious defense helped create easy offensive opportunities for UT. After neither team led by double-figures for the first 28 minutes of action, the Lady Vols ballooned to a 15-point lead with 10:26 left in the game.

A Stricklen 3-pointer with 14 minutes left in the second half, gave the Lady Vols a 51-43 advantage after the teams had played even early in the second half. Tennessee then took the first double-figure lead of the game on a pair of Baugh free throws with 11:44 left. Just seconds later Johnson stole the ball and layed in home for a 57-45 lead for Tennessee. On the next possession, Simmons stole another pass and Massengale finished 10 consecutive points for the Lady Vols.

The lead ballooned to 20 on a Baugh jump shot with 4:30 left, giving the Lady Vols a 77-57 lead.

Tennessee held a 39-36 advantage at halftime thanks to 50 percent shooting from the floor (16-of-32) with eight points apiece from Baugh and Johnson. The half featured three ties and team led by double-figures.

Johnson went down with an apparent shoulder injury with 1:49 left in the half as she got tangled up with Elan Brown going after a loose ball. After halftime, she returned with vengeance and as she racked up the double-double.

A Briana Bass 3-pointer followed by a Baugh lay-up gave the Lady Vols a 35-26 lead with 3:34 left in the first half. Vanderbilt came right back with consecutive 3-pointers by Foggie to cut the UT lead to 35-32 with 2:49 left.

Johnson's putback with 6:30 left in the first half gave Tennessee the first lead larger than six points in the first half, 25-19. That finished a mini 6-0 run for UT.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - In a physical game that saw both teams playing without key players due to injury, #9 Tennessee battled to a 65-56 victory over LSU on Thursday night before 13,107 at Thompson-Boling Arena. The Lady Vols moved to 14-4 overall and 5-1 in the SEC. The Lady Tigers, coached by former UT star Nikki Caldwell, fell to 13-5 and 4-2 in the league.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) - Skylar Diggins matched a season high with 27 points Monday night and No. 2 Notre Dame beat No. 7 Tennessee 72-44, holding the Vols to their lowest scoring output in school history.

Devereaux Peters had 16 points and 16 rebounds for the Irish (20-1), who have won 17 straight. Tennessee (14-5) got 13 points from Meighan Simmons, but shot just 27.9 percent in the lopsided loss.

Notre Dame was 0-20 all-time against the Vols before a 73-59 victory in the NCAA regional finals last March in Dayton, Ohio. The Irish haven't lost since Nov. 20 to top-ranked Baylor and have now beaten both UConn and Tennessee on their home floor this season after toppling both in last year's NCAA tournament.

Leading at the half, the Irish jumped out early in the second as Diggins sank a 3-pointer and Peters had three inside baskets in an 11-3 run that opened up a 39-21 lead three minutes in. Tennessee continued to miss on everything, from both the field and the free-throw line.

Diggins made a nice strip of an inside pass, dribbled the length of the court, passed to Peters and then got it back for a layup to make it 44-26 with just over 14 minutes left. Then after picking up her third foul, Diggins hit her fourth 3-pointer of the game to make it a 21-point lead. Diggins was 10 of 17 from the field and 5 for 7 on 3-pointers.

After Tennessee closed to within 16 with about seven minutes to go, the Irish went on one final run to put it away. Kayla McBride added 17 points for the Irish.

The Vols made just 17 of 61 field-goal attempts and were only 7 for 16 from the free-throw line.

Rebounding, including eight early offensive caroms, kept the Vols close in the early stages of the game because they could not make a shot. They missed 14 of their first 17 attempts from the floor and finished the first half 7 for 35 (20 percent). And the poor shooting extended to the line, where the Vols were only 4 for 10. The field-goal percentage and total points were first-half lows for the Vols this season.

McBride, showing an ability to break for the basket, had nine straight Notre Dame points at one juncture and scored 11 in the first half. Diggins ended up with 10 at the half, hitting two free throws with 2 seconds left to put the Irish up 28-18.

Tennessee's leading scorer, Shekinna Stricklen, who missed the previous game against LSU with a sprained knee, returned to the lineup and managed five points - five points under her average. And Vols guard Taber Spani, who has been sidelined with a bone bruise in her left knee since Dec. 26, was also able to play.

Meighan Simmons was the only Lady Vol to score in double-figures, recording a team-high 13 points. Glory Johnson chipped in nine points and nine rebounds, while Vicki Baugh tallied eight points and six boards.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. - The #7/9 Tennessee women's basketball team got back on the winning track with a convincing 86-56 victory at Alabama. Shekinna Stricklen led four players in double-figures with 14. The Lady Vols improved to 15-5 overall with a 6-1 mark in the SEC. The Crimson Tide dropped to 10-11 and remain winless in the league at 0-7.

The Lady Vols unveiled a new starting lineup featuring Glory Johnson, Cierra Burdick, Briana Bass, Vicki Baugh and Ariel Massengale and it proved successful. Johnson tallied 13 points and grabbed eight rebounds. Burdick added nine while both Bass and Baugh tallied eight. Massengale was a sensational distributor handing out 11 assists -- one shy of her career-high.

Coming off the bench, Kamiko Williams and Isabelle Harrison each chipped in with 10. Kyra Crosby led Alabama with 15 points in defeat. She was Alabama's lone double-figure scorer. The Tide was held to just 1-of-14 from 3-point territory.

"We were happy with the pace we played," Tennessee associate head coach Holly Warlick said. "Obviously, we wanted to score. We wanted an up-tempo game. I thought the first half, Alabama hung tough with us."

Tennessee jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the game's first 2 minutes and was comfortably ahead for most of the opening half. The Vols led by 15 points at the break.

"To have a good start, I think that helps our team a lot, gives us a lot of confidence and warns people for next time," Johnson said.

The Vols had only four turnovers compared to Alabama's eight. Tennessee also won the rebounding battle 24-17.

"What I thought happened in the first half is if we'd made some free throws, maybe kept the score a little bit closer, it might've been a different type basketball game," Alabama coach Wendell Hudson said. "But from the effort standpoint, Tennessee is a very good basketball team, and I thought we competed."

Tennessee scored 25 points off 22 turnovers, including 11 steals.

The Vols shot 45 percent from the field (32-of-71) but just 21 percent on 3-point attempts (4-of-19). Alabama's performance from long range was much worse; the Tide went 1-for-14.

ATHENS, Ga. - After leading by just one point at halftime, #7/9 Tennessee outscored #17/15 Georgia in the second half, 38-22, to claim a 67-50 victory at Stegman Coliseum on Sunday evening. The Lady Vols (16-5, 7-1 SEC) scored the first 11 points of the second half to take a 40-28 lead and never looked back. The closest Lady Dogs (16-6, 5-4) got for the remainder of the game was eight points. Shekinna Stricklen led all scorers with 24 points. Ariel Massengale was Tennessee's only other double-figure scorer with 16.

Georgia was led by Meredith Mitchell (13) and Jasmine Hassell (11). The Lady Vols' defensive was stifling as it limited Georgia to just 28.8 from the floor (17-of-59) and a 2-of-18 from 3-point range.

Taber Spani returned to action and scored three points. Glory Johnson was the top rebounder with eight to go along with five points.

Stricklen keyed that 11-0 run to start the second half as she scored six points in the spurt that started with a Meighan Simmons 3-pointer just 15 seconds into the second half.

Tennessee led 29-28 at halftime after Georgia cut its deficit to one just before halftime on a layup by Erika Ford with 30 seconds left in the half. The Lady Vols built a 19-11 lead on a 3-pointer by Spani with 10:50 left in the half, but Georgia answered with the next six points. To get back to within two at 19-17.

The Lady Vols return to action on Thursday as South Carolina comes to Thompson-Boling Arena for a 7 p.m. Tip. That game will air on CSS and can be heard on the Lady Vol Network.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - The #8 Lady Vols saw their 28-game home conference win streak come to an end as South Carolina handed Tennessee a 64-60 defeat. The Gamecocks finished the game on a run 9-0 run to claim their first-ever win in Knoxville after being 0-20 all-time. Markeshia Grant scored a career-high 27 points including seven 3-pointers for USC (18-5, 7-3 SEC).

The Lady Vols (16-6, 7-2) were led by Glory Johnson, who had 13 points. Ariel Massengale added 12.

All-time USC was 2-44 against the Lady Vols. The last time South Carolina beat Tennessee was on Jan. 23, 1980, a 56-52 USC win at home.

The last time Tennessee dropped a home SEC game was on Feb. 14, 2008, a 78-62 defeat at the hands of #7 LSU.

Ieasia Walker put home a lay-up with 2:15 left to take the lead for good, 61-60. Walker then knocked down one of two free throws with 1:00 left to make it a 62-60 game. The Gamecocks forced a jumpball and took possession with 45 seconds remaining. After Grant missed a 3-pointer with 21 seconds left La'Keisha Sutton grabbed an offensive rebound. Sutton then knocked down two free throws with 12 seconds left to seal the win. Those free throws were just the fourth and fifth made foul shots for South Carolina, which started 3-12 from the free-throw line in the game.

After being down by five, the Lady Vols rallied to tie the game at 46 all on a Shekinna Stricklen layup with 10:23 left in the second half. A Taber Spani 3-pointer -- Tennessee's first trey of the game -- with 9:57 left gave the Lady Vols a 49-46 wrapping an 8-0 run. A Kamiko Williams 3-point play extended the advantage to 52-48 with 8:48 left.

Tennessee took the first lead of more than five points in the game on a Williams' jumpshot with 5:00 left in the game. That put the Lady Vols up 57-50.

USC rallied back as Grant nailed her seven 3-pointer of the game with 3:41 left to cut the Gamecocks deficit to 57-55. That added to Grant's career-high, but was her first basket in 10 minutes.

South Carolina trimmed the lead to one at 60-59 after a steal by Ashley Bruner and a lay-in by Aleighsa Welch with 2:49 left.

The game was close throughout with neither team leading by seven points all night. Tennessee didn't score for the final 3:38 of the game on a Johnson lay-up.

The Gamecocks went on an 8-0 run over a two-minute span to take a 43-38 lead with 14:28 left in the second half.

South Carolina held a narrow 29-28 lead at halftime thanks to 15 points from Grant, who tallied 15 points on 6-of-9 shooting. The remainder of the USC squad shot just 7-of-24 from the floor (29.1 percent). Massengale had nine points in the first stanza to lead all Lady Vols. Tennessee did not have a steal in the game and made just one 3-pointer, that Spani trey in the second half.

KNOXVILLE - No. 8 Tennessee started a new homecourt conference win streak on Sunday afternoon with an 82-61 victory over Auburn. Glory Johnson and Ariel Massengale led all scorers with 14 points each. Johnson also grabbed a game-high 11 rebounds and had four blocks for her ninth double-double of the season, while Massengale added four assists and four steals.

Shekinna Stricklen posted a double-double as well, her third of the season and first since Nov. 27 against Baylor, with 11 points and 10 rebounds.

UT moves to 17-6 overall and 8-2 in the SEC while Auburn lost for the fourth time in five games and fell to 11-13 and 3-8 in the league. Tennessee has won 14 games in a row at home vs. Auburn, dating to 1989.

After trailing very early in the game, Tennessee made easy work of Auburn, pulling away in the second half. A layup by Vicki Baugh with 4:05 left in the first half gave the Lady Vols their first double-figure lead of the afternoon (38-27) and they continued to hold a margin of at least eight for the remainder of the game.

Five consecutive points by Massengale gave UT a 56-39 lead with 13:24 left in the game. That was Tennessee's largest lead to that point. Auburn cut the deficit to 11 at 58-47 on a lay-up by Morgan Jennings with 9:57 left, but Massengale answered with her own hoop with 9:30 left in the game.

Hasina Muhammad's lay-up with 6:53 left cut the Auburn deficit to eight at 61-53 but Meighan Simmons came right back to regain a 10-point and Johnson's putback expanded the lead back to 12 at 65-53. A Lady Vols' 11-0 run late in the game put the contest out of reach. Shekinna Stricklen's lay-up off a feed from Massengale ballooned UT's lead to 72-53 with 4:27 left.

A Taber Spani 3-pointer with 5:00 left in the first half gave the Lady Vols a 34-25 lead. Tennessee continued to pull away as the Lady Vols took a 44-31 lead into halftime on an Massengale lay-up with 1:45 left in the half.

Auburn held an advantage as large as five points early on, but Tennessee took the lead for good at 16-14 on an Alicia Manning lay-up with 13:54 left in the first half. A jumper by Spani with 12:15 left finished a 7-0 run for the Lady Vols and gave them an 18-14 lead.

The Lady Vols had their 28-game home SEC win streak come to an end on Thursday night as South Carolina rallied late to beat UT, 64-60. In that game, Tennessee did not record a steal. Against Auburn, the Lady Vols came away with 13 thefts.

The Lady Vols head to Vanderbilt for a Thursday night game at 9 p.m. ET. That game will air on CSS and can be heard on the Lady Vol Network.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - The No. 11 Lady Vols trailed most of the night, but took a brief lead in the second half before No. 25 Vanderbilt regained control and posted a 93-79 victory at Memorial Gym.

Four Commodores scored in double-figures as Tiffany Clarke had 23 and Christina Foggie netted 22. Stephanie Holzer tallied 19 while Jessica Lister had 19 points and 13 assists. Vanderbilt moved to 19-5 overall and 7-4 in the SEC.

The Lady Vols (17-7, 8-3 SEC) were led by Meighan Simmons, who had 20 points. Glory Johnson scored 19 before fouling out with six minutes left in the game. Shekinna Stricklen also scored 17.

The game marked the second time Tennessee allowed 90 points this season, as the Lady Vols gave up 97 to Stanford on Dec. 20, 2011. It was the most points ever scored by Vandy against Tennessee as the Commodores shot 55 percent for the game and 58 percent in the second half alone.

Vanderbilt used a 17-2 run after the Lady Vols climbed all the way out of a 12-point hole to take a commanding 69-56 lead with 7:49 left in the game on a Clarke lay-up. The Commodores lead ballooned to 14 points as Foggie's fastbreak lay-up put Vanderbilt up 80-66.

After being down by as many as 12 points, Tennessee rallied to take a short-lived lead at 54-52 with 11:42 left in the second half on a Johnson jumper. Cierra Burdick had tied the game at 52 all with 12:33 left in the game.

The Lady Vols lost to Vanderbilt for the first time in eight games and just the second time in the last 25 meetings dating to 2001-02.

Tennessee returns to action in a rematch with Kentucky on Monday night at 7 p.m. The Wildcats handled the Lady Vols their first conference loss of the season, 61-60 on Jan. 12.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - The No. 13 Lady Vols gained a measure of revenge on Monday night as they handed No. 7 Kentucky their largest defeat of the season as Tennessee routed the Wildcats 91-54 in front of 14,807 at Thompson-Boling Arena. The game served as the focal point for Live Pink, Bleed Orange an initiative as part of the "Play 4 Kay" raising awareness for breast cancer in honor of the late Kay Yow.

The win moved the Lady Vols record to 18-7 overall and 9-3 in the SEC. Kentucky dropped its second game in a row after losing to LSU last Sunday and stands at 21-4 overall and 10-2 in the league.

Meighan Simmons tallied a season-high 25 points. Shekinna Stricklen scored 18. Glory Johnson added 10 and grabbed seven rebounds.

The Lady Vols shot a sensational 59.0 from the floor and held Kentucky to just 33.3 from the floor. Tennessee outrebounded UK, 45-27.

Back on Jan. 12, Kentucky edged the Lady Vols, 61-60 in Lexington to take the lead in the SEC. Tennessee inched back to within a game of the league lead with Monday's victory.

Kentucky's leading scorer A'dia Mathies tallied 12. Back in January, she netted a career-high 34. The Cats' top scorer on Monday was Bria Goss, who had 15.

The Lady Vols' lead expanded to 28 on a putback layup by Johnson with 11:51 left in the game as the onslaught continued. The lead ballooned to 40 on a Kamiko Williams jumper with 4:32 left in the game.

Tennessee dominated the first half, leading 46-28 at intermission behind 12 points apiece from Simmons and Stricklen. The Lady Vols shot 60 percent from the floor while holding the Wildcats to 30.3 from the floor and 1-10 from 3-point range.

The Lady Vols went on a 14-0 run over 2:12 late in the first half to build a 39-18 advantage with 4:39 left in the first half. Vicki Baugh, Simmons and Williams each had four points in the spurt.

After being down by 12, Kentucky cut the deficit to five at 21-16 on a give-and-go lay-up from Bernisha Pinkett with 9:20 left. But the Lady Vols responded.

Tennessee came out strong building an 18-6 lead after an Ariel Massengale lay-up with 13:36 left in the first half. The Lady Vols made eight of their first 10 shots including Stricklen starting 3-of-3. Kentucky began the game just 2-of-16 from the floor.

The Lady Vols return to action on Thursday night as Tennessee plays at Mississippi State at 9 p.m. The game will air on CSS and can be heard on the Lady Vol Network.

OXFORD, Miss. - The size and strength of Tennessee (No. 10 ESPN/USA Today, No. 13 AP) ended up trumping the speed of Mississippi for a 66-56 victory on Sunday.

With Tennessee (20-7, 11-3 Southeastern Conference) struggling to connect from 3-point range, the inside duo of Glory Johnson and Shekinna Stricklen bailed out the Lady Volunteers, who have struggled with their effort and energy level from game to game.

Johnson and Stricklen both went 5 of 9 from the floor and combined to score 25 points. Johnson, who finished with 13 points, also grabbed eight rebounds for the Lady Volunteers.

"I thought Ole Miss really focused on taking away our inside game early. Credit to Glory and (Stricklen), they kept working," Tennessee assistant coach Holly Warlick said. "They probably weren't getting as many touches as we normally get, and that's due to Ole Miss, but I thought we kept working hard, and when we needed a basket inside, we got them the ball. They made plays."

In a game that Tennessee never led by more than 12 points, Warlick talked about why the Lady Volunteers struggled to put away an Ole Miss team (12-15, 2-12) that played its most complete game of the season.

"We did some good things and then we turn the ball over at crucial times and they took advantage of it," Warlick said. "We didn't get to loose balls that we normally do, and I thought Ole Miss was capitalizing on our mistakes. We needed buckets, we needed stops and we got them, but we let somebody score 21 points. We were just too inconsistent."

Valencia McFarland was the Lady Rebel who finished with 21 points. The point guard, who was 4 for 6 from 3-point range, was praised by Johnson following the game for her effort and her ability to lead her team.

"She's really quick. She was a player that her team needed to play well to be successful, and she did her job," Johnson said. "She made it hard on our guards, and when she drove and we went to help, she was able to dish and find her teammates. She played a great game."

Tennessee led 32-21 at the half. The Lady Rebels cut into that lead early in the second half with a 13-6 run that brought them within four points, 38-34, at the 14:27 mark.

Ole Miss got within four points twice more but never got any closer as Tennessee withstood the Lady Rebels' best punches with inside buckets from Johnson and Stricklen as well as a key 3-pointer by Stricklen with just under 7 minutes left. Tennessee has won three straight games since falling out of the Top 10 last week and leads the SEC by a half-game over Kentucky, which hosts Vanderbilt on Monday night.

The Lady Vols return home to host Arkansas on Thursday at 7 p.m. The game airs on Fox Sports South and can be heard on the Lady Vol Network. UT closes the regular-season vs. Florida on Sunday, Feb. 26 in a game that airs on ESPNU with a 3:30 p.m., tip-off.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - Arkansas handed the No. 10/9 Lady Vols a tough 72-71 defeat in overtime on Thursday night. It was the Razorbacks' first-ever win in Knoxville and just their second win ever against the Lady Vols in 25 meetings.

Arkansas (21-6, 10-5) outscored Tennessee 10-9 in the extra session after sending the game to overtime on a lay-up with eight seconds left in regulation. The Lady Vols (20-8 overall) fell to second place in the SEC at 11-4 as first-place Kentucky (12-3) knocked off South Carolina, 53-50, on Thursday.

Shekinna Stricklen (17 points, 8 rebounds) and Glory Johnson (13 points, 9 rebounds) and combined for 30 points and 17 rebounds -- all in the second half and overtime.

The Razorbacks were led by Lyndsay Harris (20) and Sarah Watkins (18). The Razorbacks won for the 10th time in 11 games. C'eira Ricketts had 16 points as Arkansas gained a measure of revenge after suffering a 69-38 defeat to Tennessee on Jan. 8.

Harris made two free throws with 6.2 seconds remaining in overtime to put Arkansas ahead 72-69. Arkansas fouled Ariel Massengale with 3.0 on the clock and the point guard made both foul shots to make it 72-71. Quistelle Williams missed two free with 2.6 seconds left but Tennessee's desperation half-court shot came after the final buzzer.

Kamiko Williams' putback with 1:50 left in regulation gave the Lady Vols a 60-58 lead. Stricklen's short jumper with 1:04 left put UT up by four, 62-58. Ricketts came right back with an Arkansas lay-up 17 seconds later to cut the margin to two at 62-60. Watkins tied the game at 62 with eight seconds left as she swooped to the hoop and laid the ball in to send the game to overtime.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - With all five seniors in the starting line-up on Senior Day, the No. 10/9 Lady Vols rolled past Florida, 75-59, on Sunday afternoon before 18,563 at Thompson-Boling Arena.

The Lady Vols (21-8, 12-4 SEC) enter SEC Tournament as the No. 2 seed and will face the winner of the No. 7-No. 10 seed game in the second game of the second round on Friday, March 2 at 2:30 p.m. That game will be televised on Fox Sports Net and can be heard on the Lady Vol Network.

In her final regular-season home game, Glory Johnson led the Lady Vols with 21 points and 10 rebounds. It was her 10th double-double of the year. Senior Shekinna Stricklen added 15 points and Meighan Simmons tallied 12.

Alicia Manning made the most of her Senior Day as she scored 11 points, grabbed eight rebounds and had five assists.

It was also the final home game for Vicki Baugh and Briana Bass.

Lily Svete led the Gators (18-11, 8-8) with 12 points while Jennifer George had 11 points and 11 rebounds.

Tennessee jumped out to a 15-3 lead to start the game and never trailed the rest of way despite Florida staying within in striking distance throughout the game.

Back-to-back hoops by Manning and Stricklen regained a double-figure lead for the Lady Vols at 59-48 with six minutes left. The teams then traded 3-pointers by Jones and Stricklen for a 62-51 UT lead with 5:18 left in game.

Florida continued to hang around and cut the deficit to seven at 51-44 on a jumper by Ndidi Madu with 9:43 left in the second half.

Tennessee led 35-25 at halftime as Johnson tallied 12 points prior to intermission including a last-second lay-up for the double-figure advantage.

After Florida opened the game with a 3-pointer by Jones, the Lady Vols ran off 15 points in a row to take a 15-3 lead 6:07 into the action. Johnson had eight of those 15 points.

Florida showed grit as they retaliated with a 10-2 run to cut the deficit to four at 17-13 on another 3-pointer by Jones with 10 minutes left in the first half.
