Ronnie Woodard is entering her ninth season as the head coach of the Vanderbilt women's soccer program.

Last season Woodard guided the Commodores to a nine-win season with a team comprised of mainly freshmen and sophomores.

Woodard led Vanderbilt to back to back NCAA tournament appearances in 2005 and 2006 and armed with back-to-back stellar recruiting classes looks forward to continuing the program's upward progression.

Soccer Buzz tabbed Vanderbilt soccer's 2006-07 recruiting class as the best in the Central Region and the SEC and ninth best in the country, the highest ever achievement for the program. The 2007-08 class was rated No. 5 in the Central Region and SEC and No. 35 nationally.

After losing the majority of starters from the two NCAA clubs, Vanderbilt fell a notch in 2007 to 6-10-3 overall and 3-6-3 in SEC play. The youthful team was competitive throughout the year with six of the losses by just a goal, including three in overtime.

In 2006 Vanderbilt went 10-4-7 overall and tied for second in the SEC with a 6-3-2 mark in league play.

The team also advanced into NCAA play for the second straight year, an achievement that had not been done at the school since the 1997-98 seasons.

In 2005, Vanderbilt sported a 16-3-3 record, which more than doubled the number of wins from the previous two seasons combined. This accomplishment did not go unnoticed by her conference peers, as she was named SEC Co-Coach of the Year. In addition, SoccerBuzz also named her Coach of the Year.

The 2005 season, which ended in a dramatic double-overtime shootout against Samford in the first round of the tournament, marked the team's second-strongest performance since 1998.

The 2005 team notched the program's best-ever winning percentage (.795), ended the season ranked among the country's top 21 in three separate polls, first in the Central region by Soccer Buzz magazine, and was second in the nation for shutout percentage (0.73).

Woodard has made great strides in building the Commodore soccer program back up in her eight years here.

Since her start with the Commodores in 2001, she has brought the team steadily closer to becoming an elite national team, rising from 5th in the SEC East in 2001 and 2002, to 4th in 2003 and 2004, 3rd in 2005 and tied for second in 2006.

Woodard has also taken the 'Dores to the SEC tournament four times. And, most recently, her team advanced to back-to-back NCAA tournaments in 2005 and 2006 for the first time in her Vanderbilt career.

In 2005-06, her team won Vanderbilt's coveted "Tolbert Cup," named in honor of Vanderbilt's former national track champion Ryan Tolbert. The Tolbert Cup is presented annually to the varsity team that sports the best combination of athletic, academic, and community service success.

Woodard and her husband Tom gave birth to their first child, Thomas Woodard IV at the end of August.

Series History (LSU)

Vanderbilt leads the all-time series with LSU 9-4-2. The Tigers have won the last three meetings. VU won the first four meetings between the Tigers a combined 21-0, including a 6-0 win over LSU in the school's first meeting in 1995. The Commodores last win against LSU came on September 25, 2005 when VU shutout the Tigers 2-0 in Nashville. VU won seven of the first nine meetings but has since lost three straight in the series. Vanderbilt has faced LSU only once in the SEC Tournament, posting a 3-0 win over the Tigers in the first round of 1998 tournament.
