What's On Tap

No. 1 Vanderbilt closes out its regular season road campaign this weekend with a three game series against Auburn. Friday's game is set for a 6 p.m. start with a 2 p.m. first pitch on Saturday and a 1:30 start in the series finale on Sunday. The series will be the first for the Commodores at Auburn and Plainsman Park since the 2002 campaign.

Scouting Auburn

Auburn is 28-22 overall and 7-17 in SEC play after getting swept by Mississippi State in Starkville last weekend. The Tigers jumped out to a quick start running up an 18-3 record prior to conference play but have stumbled since. They enter the weekend in last place in the Western Division.

Catcher Josh Donaldson leads the team with a .335 batting average to go with nine homers and 45 RBI, while also successful on 17 of 20 stolen base attempts. Designated hitter Mike Bianucci carries the top power stick with 13 homers and 43 RBI in 41 games.

Auburn is hitting .290 as a team with 32 homers and 342 runs scored in 50 games (6.8 per game).

Southpaw Evan Crawford (4-5, 5.52 ERA) will start for the Tigers on Friday with righthander Taylor Thompson (4-2, 5.57 ERA) taking the hill on Saturday. Auburn's Sunday starter is still to be determined.

Probable Starting Rotation

20	R	T. Thompson	4-2	5.57	vs. Mississippi State (5/5)	L	4.2	10	10	6	4	4

Commodores Look To Clinch SEC East With Sights On Overall Title

Vanderbilt's magic number is two to clinch at least a share of the SEC Eastern Division crown heading into the weekend. A win and USC and Florida loss on Friday would clinch the Commodores first division crown since claiming back-to-back titles in 1973 and 1974.

Vanderbilt also looks to claim the outright league championship for the first time since 1980. VU heads into the weekend with a one-game lead over Arkansas with the Razorbacks taking on Alabama in Tuscaloosa. In the event both teams finish with identical league records they would be declared co-champions with Arkansas getting the No. 1 seed in the SEC tourney by virtue of their 2-1 series win at the end of March.

Commodores Remain No. 1 In National Ranking For Sixth Straight Week

With the series win over Georgia last weekend, Vanderbilt remained the No. 1 team in the country in the four major polls this week.

Baseball America, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and the ESPN/Sports Weekly Coaches Poll all had the Commodores ranked No. 1 for the sixth straight week, while Collegiate Baseball put VU on top in its poll for the second straight week.

The Commodores have been ranked No. 1 in at least one of the polls in 11 of the last 12 weeks. The Commodores at 41-9 are having the best year in school history and the team's 20-0 start was the best start of any sport at Vanderbilt. It bested the 17-0 start of the 1993 women's basketball team.

The 41 wins (39 in 2004) are the most ever for a VU squad in the regular season and the 17 wins in SEC play is also a school record, besting the 16 win years in 2004 and 2006.

The No. 1 baseball ranking joins women's basketball and women's golf as the only NCAA sports to achieve a No. 1 ranking at Vanderbilt. The 1993 women's hoops squad was ranked No. 1 by the AP for six weeks, including the final regular season poll prior to postseason play. The women's golf team was ranked No. 1 for a time in 2004.

Vanderbilt Offense Heats Up

After Vanderbilt lost its only two midweek games of the year in back-to-back days on April 17-18, the Commodores have gone 9-1 and have been on a tear to the top of the SEC statistical standings. The Commodores are hitting .367 as a team with 12 homers, three doubles, 29 dou-

Trio Of Commodores Named Golden Spikes Award Semifinalists

USA Baseball announced last week that third baseman Pedro Alvarez and pitchers David Price and Casey Weathers were named semifinalists for the Golden Spikes Award.

Vanderbilt had the most players named to the 50-man list for an award that honors the nation's premier amateur baseball player.

Alvarez, the 2006 consensus National Freshman of the Year, is among the offensive leaders for the Commodores with a .374 batting average to go along with 13 homers and 53 RBI.

Price, one of five finalists for the award a year ago, is in the midst of his best season at Vanderbilt. The junior from Murfreesboro is 8-0 with a 2.77 ERA and has 143 strikeouts and 24 walks in 97.1 innings this season. He has tallied double-digit strikeouts in nine of his 13 starts this year and is currently second the nation in strikeouts per nine innings.

Weathers leads the team in wins with a 9-2 record to go with a 1.49 ERA. He leads the team with five saves in 23 relief appearances and has 54 strikeouts in 36.1 innings. The California native was recently named the top senior pitching prospect by Baseball America and is projected to be a first round pick in the amateur draft in June.

All three players were on the 2006 USA Baseball National Team that won a gold medal at the World University Championships last August.

The names of the 50 semi-finalists will now be forwarded to a voting body of 125 who will select the five finalists and the eventual 2007 USA Baseball Golden Spikes Award Winner.

This year will mark the 30th consecutive year that the USA Baseball Golden Spikes Award has been presented to the nation's premier amateur baseball player. The winner's name will be announced on June 29, 2007, during the 2007 USA Baseball Golden Spikes Award Show presented by Major League Baseball.

Mike Minor Joins Alvarez and Price On Wallace Award List

Freshman southpaw pitcher Mike Minor joined Pedro Alvarez and David Price on the Brooks Wallace College Player of the Year Award Watch list this week. The award is presented annually to the nation's top collegiate baseball player by the College Baseball Foundation and will be nationally televised on Fox Sports Network.

Price and Alvarez were named to the list of players to watch at the start of the year and Minor joined them as the number of players was updated and reduced to 112.

Minor has enjoyed a stellar freshman campaign posting a 7-1 record with a 3.05 ERA. He began the year as a middle reliever and midweek starter but has since solidified his spot as the Saturday starter in SEC play. The Chapel Hill, Tenn., product is 4-1 with a 3.67 ERA in conference action and is a leading candidate for league freshman of the year honors.

Price Adds To New School Career Strikeout Record

The beat continues for David Price who notched eight strikeouts against Georgia last Friday to add to his school career strikeout record. He now has 390 in his career with two more regular season starts remaining. With nine strikeouts against Kentucky on April 13, the junior lefthander broke a 35-year old school record with 355 career strikeouts. With his fifth strikeout against the Wildcats, he broke Mike Willis' school record of 350 set from 1969-72. Of note, Willis achieved the mark in four years at Vanderbilt, compared to Price in three. The fellow southpaw went on to a five-year career in the major leagues with the Toronto Blue Jays (1977-81) and finished with a 7-21 record and 15 saves with a 4.59 ERA.

Record Watch

With 13 homers this year, Pedro Alvarez is now in a tie for ninth place on the school's career homer list with 35. He needs one homer to move past Greg Smith into ninth place on the all-time list. Alvarez needs 14 more round-trippers to tie Scotty Madison's mark of 49 set from 1977-80.

Casey Weathers Named To Both Roger Clemens Award and Stopper of the Year Watch List

In the last two weeks senior closer Casey Weathers was named to the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA) Stopper of the Year Watch List and the Roger Clemens Award Watch List, an award that recognizes the top pitcher in college baseball.

Baseball America recently tabbed him as the top senior pitching prospect in college baseball and the No. 21 prospect overall.

He only made one relief appearance (inning of scoreless work) in the series sweep against Florida after a stellar weekend against Tennessee two weeks ago. Weathers picked up two clutch saves in the first two games against the Vols and a win in the series finale. In the Friday game he came on in the ninth with no outs and the tying runs on base and retired the side. In Saturday's game he came on with one out in the eighth and the tying run at second base. He struck out a batter to end that threat and then retired the side in order in the ninth to pick up his second save of the weekend. He then came on in relief in the ninth on Sunday with the go ahead run on first and induced a groundout and struck out two to end the threat.

He struck out five with two walks in 3.1 innings shutout innings on the week and now leads the team in wins with an 8-2 record and also leads the team in saves with five.

Head Coach Tim Corbin

In four seasons at Vanderbilt, Tim Corbin has raised expectations of the baseball program into one that is expected to be among the nations best on an annual basis.

Corbin's success and methods of running the Vanderbilt program has earned him respect among the college and international baseball communities.

This past summer he managed the USA Baseball National Team to a 28-2-1 record that culminated with a gold medal finish at the FISU (International University Sports Federation) World University Championship in Havana, Cuba in August. The .919 winning percentage was the highest ever for a national team and it garnered special recognition by the United States Olympic Committee in September.

Those results were probably to be expected, as Corbin has taken Vanderbilt to heights it has rarely seen in its long baseball history.

His overall record of 144-95 (.602) is the fourth best in terms of wins, and first in terms of win percentage for coaches with 100 games or more.

Last year he guided a youthful Commodore squad to a 38-27 record and sixth place finish in the rugged Southeastern Conference. The team was the youngest team in the league, with seven everyday starters either freshmen or sophomores. For the second time in three seasons, Corbin guided the team to the SEC Tournament Championship game and the young squad also gained valuable NCAA experience after advancing to the championship round of the Atlanta Regional.

The 2006 team posted impressive series wins over College World Series participant Georgia, Super Regional participants South Carolina and Ole Miss, and took series on the road against Florida and LSU. The team handed LSU its worst conference loss at home in school history in the process.

With virtually the entire team back, Corbin knows the expectations are there to build upon that success and take the Commodores to their first College World Series in school history. It is a goal that he and his coaching staff are determined to achieve in the near future.

In addition to on the field successes, the baseball program itself has had significant upgrades to the facilities with a brand new fieldhouse, complete with new locker rooms for players, coaches and Commodore alums playing professional baseball. Also included are coach's offices, a classroom that overlooks Hawkins Field and a new weight room. These recent upgrades reinforce the excitement and commitment made to the baseball program due to the successes Tim Corbin has achieved as well as those he will strive to accomplish in the future.

He has already pushed the program to its most successful season, rewritten a significant portion of its record book, and ascended to the ranks of Southeastern Conference and national powers. For him, such excellence has been a constant in a career that covers two decades in both the collegiate and international baseball ranks.

Corbin, along with his coaching staff, are a tireless group that saw their recruiting efforts pay off last fall as the 2005 recruiting class was labeled the nation's best by Baseball America.

Professional baseball has also taken notice of the program as 29 players have been drafted over the last three years including 13 in 2005.

In 2005, Corbin directed the squad to its second consecutive 30-win season, an achievement that had not been done in over 15 years. The campaign was highlighted with series wins over Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina and College World Series participant Tennessee.

In 2004, Corbin not only directed the Commodores to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 24 years, he guided them to their first-ever Super Regional as they swept through the Charlottesville Regional with victories over George Mason, Princeton and host Virginia. In the Super Regional they fell to the eventual national runner-up, Texas, but still carved out a piece of history as the first team in NCAA baseball history to make it that far one year after having finished with a sub-.500 record.

Along the way Vanderbilt racked up a school-record 45 wins, was the only team to rank among the SEC's top five in earned run average (first), batting average (fourth) and fielding percentage (first), and finished with a .703 winning percentage, which was third-best in the highly competitive conference, which sent nine schools to the NCAA Tournament. The Commodores' school-record .978 fielding percentage was second in the nation, and their 30 error-free games were 11 more than the previous season.

Before Corbin was hired as the 21st coach in program history, Vanderbilt had not earned a spot in the conference tournament in a decade. Not only has he led his team there twice, the Commodores made it to the 2004 championship game.

During the 2004 regular season, Vanderbilt swept a series against Mississippi State for the first time. It was one of three conference whitewashes and one of five series wins in all.

His efforts earned him the 2004 Vanderbilt Coach of the Year award and a nomination for the Nashville Sports Council's Sports Person of the Year. Plus, a school-record five players were named to the SEC All-Tournament team, five players were drafted on the first day and seven VU players in all were chosen in the Major League Baseball Draft, topped by No. 6 overall pick pitcher Jeremy Sowers.

His first Vanderbilt team finished 27-28 overall and 14-16 in the SEC, good enough for second in the Eastern Division. It earned a conference tournament berth with a season-ending sweep of Tennessee capped by a dramatic ninth-inning rally in the finale. The overall and conference victory totals were the most by a first-year Vanderbilt coach and were made more impressive by the fact that the Commodores were 12-5 in one-run games.

That squad set school records for fielding percentage (.972), fewest errors in a season (60), most saves in a season (15) and fewest walks allowed in a season (168) — all of which were bettered in 2004. Three different players earned conference Player of the Week honors (the most for VU in a single season), and the team notched series victories over nationally-ranked conference foes LSU, Auburn and Florida, each of which was ranked among the top 15 at the time.

Plus, on May 6, 2003, Vanderbilt recorded the first perfect game in school history, which was a collective effort instead of the product of one dominant player on the mound. Four different pitchers contributed to the 4-0 victory over Western Kentucky University.

Corbin came to Vanderbilt following nine seasons as an assistant coach at baseball power Clemson.

During his time there (1994-2002) the Tigers had more victories than all but four programs. Clemson won more than 71 percent (434 wins, 172 losses) of its games, captured two Atlantic Coast Conference regular season titles, made nine appearances in the NCAA Tournament and reached the College World Series four times (1995, 1996, 2000, and 2002). The Tigers ended the 2002 season with their ninth consecutive top 25 finish and their sixth top 10 finish since 1994.

Prior to his tenure at Clemson, Corbin was head coach at Presbyterian College for six seasons beginning in 1988. There he restarted a baseball program that laid dormant for several years. He directed Presbyterian College from NAIA to NCAA Division II status and had a 106-138 overall record. Along the way, the Blue Hose made three consecutive appearances in the South Atlantic playoffs (1991-93), and Corbin earned South Atlantic Coach of the Year honors in 1990.
