TEAM OUTLOOK

p Vanderbilt football enters a new era this fall. When James Franklin took the helm in December, he promised to guide the Commodore football team to championship level competitor. This season, Franklin will lay the foundation for a great college football turnaround story.

"It's time that the football team reflects Vanderbilt University's commitment to excellence," the Commodore head coach said when he landed in Nashville for the announcement of his hiring.

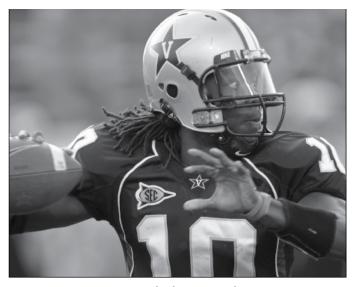

Franklin's arrival generated excitement that has only swelled in advance of the team's home opener. On February 2, Franklin further stoked the community's enthusiasm for Vanderbilt football when he unveiled an impressive recruiting class that included 21 signees from 13 states. Many highly rated high school athletes jumped at the chance to play Franklin's brand of up tempo, high energy football.

During spring ball, Franklin worked with the team to install new systems on offense, defense and special teams, but also to establish what he calls a "championship mentality." Through a rigorous spring practice season, Franklin declined to create a depth chart. "We want to create as competitive an environment as possible. We want players to be fighting for their job," Franklin said in advance of the spring game.

Despite returning 21 starters from a year ago, Franklin has emphasized that players will need to work hard through preseason drills to claim their spot on the starting lineup.

Franklin and his players look forward to restoring energy to Vanderbilt Stadium when they take the field and jump start a tradition of excellence in football.

QUARTERBACK The quarterback position will undoubtedly invite the most speculation, conversation and scrutiny as the Elon opener approaches. Higher completion percentages and eliminating miscues will be a focus for this position. Five players will be fighting to take the snaps for the Dores this season: two-year starter Larry Smith, junior Jordan Rodgers, and freshman signees Josh Grady, Kris Kentera and Lafonte Thourogood.

Franklin noted that Smith "has all the tools you look for in a quarterback. He's physical and has an NFL arm. He also picks up concepts quickly and understands coverages." Smith showed across-the-board improvement during spring drills, throwing with more accuracy and confidence during the Black and Gold Spring Game. Rodgers, younger brother of 2011 Super Bowl MVP Aaron Rodgers, struggled with injuries during his first year on campus, but is expected to be healthy for camp in August.

The coaching staff will also closely monitor the preseason progress of the three quarterbacks signed in February.

RUNNING BACKS The ground game will feature improved depth as a trio of returning juniors and a redshirt sophomore bring experience to the backfield. Warren Norman and Zac Stacy are on pace to enter the team's all-time Top 10 for rushing yards. In 2010, Norman and Stacy rushed for 459 and 331 yards, respectively. Both averaged over five yards per carry last year and bring speed, power, and big-play potential to the rushing attack. Wesley Tate impressed the new coaching staff during spring drills and brings greater size and power to the run game. Junior Micah Powell transitioned from linebacker and made great improvement during spring practice.

The Commodores also welcome 2011 signees Mitchell Hester and Jerron Seymour, as well as two leading fullback prospects: sophomore Fitz Lassing and junior Marc Panu.

WIDE RECEIVERS Despite a campaign in 2010 plagued by youth and inexperience, the receiving corps will enter camp with improved confidence and experience.

ries. Freshman signees Steven Scheu and Dillon van der Wal will also have an opportunity to to impact the position. Versatile sophomore Fitz Lassing will help out at tight end and fullback.

OFFENSIVE LINE In 2010, the Commodores replaced all five starters on the offensive line. This year, all five players will return looking to develop into a cohesive protective unit.

The line is anchored by a pair of talented tackles in redshirt junior Ryan Seymour and redshirt sophomore Wesley Johnson. Both come with experience and determination. The duo played virtually every snap last receptions in 2009, but finished 2010 with only 25 catches. Redshirt senior Udom Umoh also had fewer receptions in 2010 than in 2009. Both finished spring drills poised for a rebound in 2011. Sophomores Jonathan Krause and Jordan Matthews ended 2010 as the teams' top receiving threats and capped spring ball with big catches in the Black and Gold Game. Several others will push for playing time during camp, including junior Jameson Sackey, redshirt junior Akeem Dunham, redshirt sophomore Brady Brown, redshirt freshman Chris Boyd, redshirt freshman Trent Pruitt and freshman signee Jacquese Kirk.

TIGHT ENDS Senior veteran Brandon Barden leads all SEC tight ends with 91 career receptions, earned all-conference honors in 2010 and should easily surpass the 1,000-yard mark for career receiving yards this season.

The Commodores will support Braden by improving depth at the position with the return of junior Austin Monahan and sophomore Mason Johnston. Both Monahan and Johnston missed time in 2010 due to inju-year and have committed to a rigorous strength and conditioning program. Seymour added speed by dropping 15 pounds, while Johnson gained strength and bulk. Redshirt freshmen Andrew Bridges and Chase White will provide depth at the tackle position.

At guard, redshirt senior Kyle Fischer and redshirt junior Jabo Burrow return and are expected to be on the field for the Commodores' first snap against Elon. Fischer has developed as a leader of the offensive line. Redshirt junior Caleb Welchans, sophomore Mylon Brown, and redshirt freshman Grant Ramsey are expected to compete at the guard position.

Sophomore Logan Stewart was a six-game starter at center in 2010. He enters preseason camp as the only snapper with ingame experience. Johnson, Seymour, Fischer, Welchans and Stewart have the versatility to play multiple line positions.

The Commodores will be aided by five newly signed line prospects: Jake Bernstein, James Lewis, Spencer Pulley, Joe Townsend, and Jose Valedon.

TEAM OUTLOOK

DEFENSIVE LINE The Commodores defense enters the 2011 season poised for an aggressive battle at the line of scrimmage. The defensive front returns most of the key 2010 contributors and adds a number of key prospects.

Redshirt junior Rob Lohr started every game as tackle last yea, ending the season with four sacks and eight tackles for a loss. Redshirt senior T.J. Greenstone battled injuries for most of 2010 and will likely play alongside Lohr at tackle.

Junior Colt Nichter, redshirt junior Josh Jelesky, sophomore Jared Morse, and redshirt junior Taylor Loftley return for the 2011 campaign on the heels of a successful spring. Nichter turned heads during the Black and Gold game with a pair of sacks and two pass deflections. Morse gained experience as a true freshman last year with appearances in seven games. Jelesky and Loftley also contributed in reserve roles in 2010.

Redshirt freshman Vince Taylor and incoming signee Barron Dixon are interior prospects that will garner preseason attention from coaches. Redshirt senior Tim Fugger leads the Commodore defensive ends. The two-year starter paced the SEC with four forced fumbles as a junior.

During spring drills redshirt freshman Kyle Woestmann registered one big play after another during the Black and Gold game and will compete with redshirt sophomore Walker May and redshirt junior Johnell Thomas for a starting job across from Fugger. Redshirt junior Dexter Daniels moved to defensive end in the spring and will compete for playing time.

Other prospects at end are redshirt sophomore Thad McHaney and incoming freshman Darien Bryant and Jimmy Stewart.

LINEBACKERS Redshirt senior interior linebacker Chris Marve will anchor the corps of promising though inexperienced linebackers.

Marve is the first SEC linebacker to register over 100 tackles as a freshman and sophomore in a decade. Marve battled injuries as a junior but still finished with 80 tackles. Marve's accolades include a second straight second team All-SEC honor in 2010 and also a preseason all-league pick for

Defensive end Tim Fugger

2011. He's been named to watch lists for several individual awards, including the Lott IMPACT, Nagurski and Bednarik trophies. Redshirt junior DeAndre Jones also will compete for time at the position.

At the outside linebacker positions, several returnees will compete for the starting roles, including redshirt juniors Archibald Barnes and Tristan Strong and sophomore Chase Garnham. Also expected to challenge for playing time are redshirt junior AI Owens and senior walk-on Bobby Jewell.

Jimmy Stewart and Darien Bryant are talented signees that could play either linebacker or end.

CORNERBACKS

Senior Casey Hayward returns as one of the SEC's most reliable playmakers after a breakthrough junior year. A preaseason candidate for the Thorpe and Nagurski defensive awards, Hayward earned second team all-SEC honors in 2010 after topping the league with 17 deflections. He also ranked among the NCAA leaders with six interceptions.

On the opposite side, junior Eddie Foster started in 11 games in 2010, posted 53 tackles, and returned an interception for a touchdown against Ole Miss. Junior Trey Wilson stepped up during spring drills, showcasing his speed and impressive coverage ability.

Sophomores Steven Clark and Andre Hal

played in every game last year and should continue to develop and compete for key roles.

Two others expected to compete in camp are sophomore Reggie Ford and freshman signee Derek King.

SAFETIES Senior free safety Sean Richardson returns to lead the talented and deep group of safeties. Richardson was Vanderbilt's lead tackler in 2010 garnering 67 solo tackles and 98 total stops.

Sophomore Kenny Ladler started the final eight games at free safety and earned freshman All-SEC recognition from league coaches. He is expected to fill the role beside Richardson in the defensive backfield.

Several talented players will keep Richardson and Ladler fresh in supporting roles. Redshirt junior Eric Samuels posted 27 tackles in 2010 after moving to the defense from running back. Redshirt sophomore Javon Marshall moved to safety from cornerback during spring drills.

Sophomores Karl Butler and Andre Simmons are physical players who provide solid support against the rush.

New signees Larry Franklin, Jahmel McIntosh and Andrew Williamson will get in on the action in 2011 as well.

PLACEKICKER Redshirt junior Ryan Fowler and sophomore Carey Spear are expected to compete for placekicking duties. As a two-year starter, Fowler has made 70 percent of his career field goal attempts, but hit just eight of 13 tries last year. Fowler looks to return to his 2009 form when he earned freshman All-SEC and freshman All-America recognition. Spear impressed coaches during spring drills with a powerful leg and improved accuracy. Walk-on junior Eric Frieman provides depth at the position.

PUNTER Junior Richard Kent performed admirably as a first-time punter in 2010, averaging 41.8 yards on a team-record 84 attempts. Kent's superb hang time allowed opponents to only average just 6.8 yards per return. Kent was also accurate, dropping 28 punts inside the opponent's end zone. Either Fowler and Spear are expected to serve as the second team punter.

RETURN SPECIALISTS The Commodores return an All-America candidate in kickoff returner Warren Norman. The junior has a 25.9-yard career average, and three returns for touchdowns. Other potential kickoff returners with collegiate experience are Trey Wilson, Eric Samuels and Andre Hal.

Zac Stacy, Jonathan Krause and John Cole have experience as punt returners. Cole topped the Commodores in 2010 with a 7.9-yard return average.
