TEAM NOTES

Limbaugh finishes fourth season

Vanderbilt head coach Scott Limbaugh, who is in his fourth season with the Commodores, has led Vanderbilt to ten team titles in his tenure, including four in 2015-16 - the DICK's Sporting Goods Challenge, the Schenkel Invitational, the FarmLinks Collegiate Match Play, and the Mason Rudolph Championship - the most in a single season in the history of the program. In 2015-16, Limbaugh led the Commodores to their fourth consecutive regional and their third appearance in the NCAA Championship - both program firsts. The Commodores have finished second and fourth, respectively, in the last two NCAA Championships in stroke play and have advanced to match play in each of the seasons. Limbaugh was named as one of five finalists for the Dave Williams Collegiate Coach of the Year in 2015, and in 2016, was named the GCAA Southeast Region Coach of the Year.

All-Americans

Matthias Schwab became the third Commodore to be honored as a first-team All-American by the Golf Coaches Association of America, joining Hunter Stewart in 2015 and Brandt Snedker in 2004. Additionally, two of the five Freshmen All-Americans were Commodores - Will Gordon and Patrick Martin. Gordon and Martin became the program's first freshmen All-Americans.

Commodores storm to second at Franklin Regional

The Commodores finished second at the NCAA Franklin Regional behind a stellar third round performance. Vanderbilt counted a pair of 66's from junior Matthias Schwab and freshman Will Gordon, a 67 from freshman Patrick Martin, and a 69 from sophomore Theo Humphrey to card a 20-under par, 268, to secure their place in Eugene. The 268 tied for the second lowest team round in the history of the program.

Commodores fourth in GolfStat rankings for second consecutive season

Vanderbilt finished fourth in the GolfStat end of the season rankings for the second consecutive season. The fourth-place finish is the best ranking in a season for a Commodore golf team.

Three at 71.18 stroke average or better

Three Commodores averaged 71.18 strokes per round or lower, with junior Matthias Schwab leading the way with a 70.53 stroke average. Freshmen Will Gordon (70.88) and Patrick Martin (71.18) each averaged 71.18 strokes per round. Combined, the three won two individual championships, carded eight top five finishes, and posted 17 top 10's. Four of the top 12 single-season stroke averages in program history happened in 2015-16 - Schwab (6), Gordon (6), Martin (8), and Humphrey (71.89 stroke average, 12th).

All Five Players...

That finished the NCAA Championship have been honored on an All-SEC team. Matthias Schwab has been honored three times and was chosen to the first team for the last two seasons, Carson Jacobs and Theo Humphrey were second-team All-SEC members in 2015, and freshmen Will Gordon and Patrick Martin were honored on the 2016 All-Freshman and All-SEC second team.

All five are also in the top 10 in Vanderbilt's career scoring average list (minimum of 30 rounds):

COACHING STAFF

Scott Limbaugh, Head Coach

Scott Limbaugh, who spent five years as the assistant coach/recruiting coordinator at the University of Alabama and played a major role in one of collegiate golf's most dominating runs, brought his experience and enthusiasm to the Commodore men's golf team after being hired as the head coach in June of 2012. His successful ways have continued at Vanderbilt.

Limbaugh, who just finished his fourth season with the Commodores, has pushed the Vanderbilt program to new heights under his leadership. Since his arrival prior to the 2012 campaign, Vanderbilt has won 10 team tournaments, the most by a head coach in Vanderbilt golf history, had nine medalist winners, coached two first-team All-Americans, four Palmer Cup selections, a Walker Cup member, and had six All-American selections altogether, while also garnering three consecutive NCAA Regional bids and three consecutive NCAA Championship appearances from 2014-16 for the first time in program history. He has also led Vanderbilt to two consecutive appearances in NCAA Championship Match Play in 2015 and 2016. Limbaugh also had one of his players participate in a PGA Tour event - Hunter Stewart in 2014 at the RBC Heritage, where he barely missed the cut, while also placing Matthias Schwab on the All-Freshman Team in 2014, the first time a Vanderbilt golfer had been honored by the league since 2010.

Limbaugh has quickly established himself as one of the nation's best coaches. In 2015, he was a finalist for the Dave Williams National Coach of the Year, and in 2016, was named the 2016 GCAA Southeast Region Coach of the Year.

2015-16 picked up where the 2014-15 season left off, with the Commodores once again putting together one of the nation's best seasons. Vanderbilt won four tournaments, with the wins coming at the DICK's Sporting Goods Challenge, the Schenkel Invitational, the FarmLinks Collegiate Match Play, and the Mason Rudolph Championship. Matthias Schwab claimed a share for the individual championship at the Carmel Cup, while Will Gordon tied for the individual lead at the Schenkel. Vanderbilt finished in second at the NCAA Franklin Regional held at the Vanderbilt Legends Club's North Course, a finish which included a final-round 20-under par, 268, the team's lowest round of the season and tied for the second-lowest round in program history. At the NCAA Championship in Eugene, Oregon, Limbaugh's Commodores finished in a tie for fourth in the four-round stroke play and advanced to match play for the second time in two years, the only two years in the program's history the team has advanced to match play.

In 2014-15, Vanderbilt had one of the most successful seasons in the history of the program, with Stewart leading the way by winning the SEC Player of the Year, the first by a Commodore men's golfer, and being named as a first-team All-SEC selection and a first-team All-

American. He also ended the season as the number one ranked golfer in the nation according to Golfstat, and became the Commodore's first ever Walker Cup member in August of 2015. Schwab was also named as an all-SEC first-team member and a third-team All-American by the GCAA, and Zack Jaworski was named an honorable mention All-American selection. Schwab and Stewart, who each played in the Palmer Cup in 2015, were named recipients of the Michael Carter Award, which is presented to the Palmer Cup participant that best represents the qualities and ideals sportsmanship, integrity and upholding of the game.

Carson Jacobs was named to the All-SEC second team and Theo Humphrey to the All-SEC Freshman team. 2014-15 marked the most selections to the All-American and All-SEC teams in the history of the program.

The Commodores also made a splash at the 2015 NCAA Championship, finishing in second place in stroke play competition before falling in the quarterfinals of match play to eventual national champion LSU in their first ever appearance in the Elite Eight. The exploits of the 2014-15 season earned Limbaugh a spot among the nation's top collegiate coaches when he was named one of five finalists for the Dave Williams National Coach of the Year in the spring of 2015.

Astonishingly, five of the top seven single-season stroke averages in the history of the program have been with Limbaugh at the helm, with Stewart posting the program's all-time best stroke average at 69.49.

Prior to his arrival in Nashville, Limbaugh spent the last five seasons serving as the recruiting coordinator and assistant coach for the SEC and national powerhouse Crimson Tide, who finished as the NCAA runner-up (2012), captured SEC championships in two seasons (2008, 2012) and won two NCAA East Regional titles (2009, 2012). Alabama also played in four NCAA Championships and claimed 20 team tournament titles during his tenure.

"I believe that Vanderbilt is a special place and we can build champions on and off the golf course," said Limbaugh after his hire. "There are many things that attracted me to Vanderbilt: First of all, Vanderbilt is a great university and Nashville is such an awesome location. We will have the opportunity to build champions in the classroom, on the golf course, and have young people that represent Vanderbilt in a way that Vanderbilt needs to be represented."

Individually, Limbaugh has helped mentor 13 All-Americans on the course, with four of those being first-team selections (Michael Thompson, 2008; Bud Cauley, 2009, 2010, 2011; Justin Thomas, 2012; Hunter Stewart, 2015). Thomas, who was recruited by Limbaugh, claimed the prestigious Jack Nicklaus and Phil Mickelson awards, while also earning SEC Player of the Year and SEC Freshman of the Year honors. He has also coached two Walker Cup team members (Bud Cauley, Hunter Stewart), six Palmer Cup members (Michael Thompson, Bud Cauley, Justin Thomas, Hunter Stewart, Matthias Schwab, Will Gordon), three SEC Players of the Year (Michael Thompson, 2008; Thomas, 2012; Stewart, 2015), and two additional SEC Freshmen of the Year (Bud Cauley, 2009; Cory Whitsett, 2011).

Off the course and in the classroom, Limbaugh also helped recruit and tutor some of the nation's best. In 2012, he coached the NCAA Elite 89 winner in Whitsett, and in 2008, Joseph Sykora claimed the H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Student-Athlete of the Year honor. In all, he has coached 58 Academic All-SEC team members and five Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA) All-America Scholar members.

Limbaugh is considered one of the nation's best recruiters. On the recruiting trail, Alabama recruited two of the top-ranked junior golfers in America in his tenure with the Crimson Tide (Bud Cauley (2008) and Bobby Wyatt (2010)), one U.S. Junior Amateur Champion (Cory Whitsett, 2010), and six American Junior Golf Association All-Americans. The Crimson Tide, according to Golfweek, also landed three top 10 recruiting classes (2008, 2010, 2011) in his time in Tuscaloosa.

A 2003 Huntingdon College (Ala.) graduate, Limbaugh played for the Hawks for two seasons after helping lead Central Alabama Community College to two NCAA Junior College National Championships. Limbaugh was a co-captain on that 2000 National Champion team for Central Alabama. As a golfer at Huntingdon, he competed at nationals and was team captain in 2002. After his playing career was over, Limbaugh was hired as an assistant coach at his alma mater and was elevated to head coach in June of 2004, where he served until Alabama men's golf hired him as an assistant in 2007.

Limbaugh, a Childersburg, Ala., native, was the 2005-06 Eaton/Golf Pride South Region NCAA Division III Coach of the Year. He coached Huntingdon to a fourth-place NCAA Division III men's golf finish in 2007, which was its best finish in school history. It was Huntingdon's third straight NCAA appearance as Limbaugh's teams qualified in all three of his seasons as head coach.

His first Huntingdon team in 2005 finished ninth before the 2006 team finished 15th. His 2006 team was ranked No. 1 for almost the entire season in Division III.

He produced three All-Americans during his time at Huntingdon, including Alex Balog, Jacob Collinsworth and Matt Mahanic. Collinsworth was a first-team selection after finishing second individually at the NCAA Division III Championships.

Limbaugh and his wife, Kate, have two daughters, Malley (4), and Annie (2), and one son, Thomas, who was born in December of 2015.

COACHING STAFF

Dusty Smith, Assistant Coach

Dusty Smith joined the Vanderbilt men's golf staff in the summer of 2011. Smith had previously served as an assistant coach with the men's and women's golf teams at Lamar University for three seasons before his arrival in Nashville.

Smith is the Commodores' recruiting coordinator and is in charge of the annual Vanderbilt Golf Camp at Legends Club every summer and also spearheads Vanderbilt's golf fundraiser, Vanderbilt Golf Day, every spring.

Smith has coached six All-Americans at Vanderbilt, including first-team All-American and 2015 SEC Player of the Year Hunter Stewart and 2016 First-Team All-

American Matthias Schwab, and has helped head coach Scott Limbaugh lead the Commodores to unparalleled heights as a program. Vanderbilt has finished fourth in 2015 and 2016 in the final Golfstat rankings, and in both seasons, the Commodores advanced to match play at the NCAA Championship. Both appearances marked the best-ever finish at the championship and the program's first foray with match play, which pits the top eight teams from the four-round stroke-play competition. In all, Vanderbilt has won 10 team titles and nine medalists since his arrival on the Commodore staff.

Smith, a former Ping All-American, served as an assistant coach with the men's and women's golf teams at Lamar, his alma mater.

During Smith's three years at Lamar, the Cardinals men's team won the 2009 Southland Conference Championship and finished second in 2011, advancing to the NCAA Regional at Virginia Tech in May. Smith helped lead eight men's golfers to the All-Southland Conference team during his tenure, and also coached Southland Conference Player of the Year M.J. Daffue in 2011.

The Lady Cardinals picked up six tournament victories in his tenure at Lamar, and finished second in the 2011 Southland Conference Tournament. Five Lady Cardinal golfers earned All-SLC honors, with Therese Nilsson (2009) and Stine Pedersen (2011) being named the SLC Academic Student-Athlete of the Year for women's golf.

"I'm very excited and this is a great opportunity for me," said Smith. "It was hard to leave my alma mater, and Lamar is, and will always be, a very special place to me. But, to get an opportunity to coach at an outstanding institution like Vanderbilt and in a great conference like the SEC was too good for me to pass up."

A native of The Woodlands, Smith earned honorable mention Ping All-America honors as a junior at Lamar after tying for 10th at the NCAA Championships. The following year, Smith earned All-Southland Conference honors for the third time as Lamar finished third at the NCAA Championships.

Smith, who helped The Woodlands High School win the 2002 Class 5A state championship, is a 2007 graduate of Lamar with a degree in business administration.

Smith resides in Nashville with his wife Janie and daughter Adella Jane, who was born in June of 2016.
