Scouting The Commodores

No. 25/24 Vanderbilt takes a 14-2 record to Knoxville for the first of two annual show-downs with Tennessee. The Commodores are coming off a 66-58 win over Auburn that saw sophomore point guard Christina Foggie score 27 points for the second time in her career. Foggie is the Commodores' leading scorer, posting 17.3 points per contest. Classmate and fellow guard Jasmine Lister is right behind her, posting 12.6 points per game while adding 5.6 assists per contest. Junior forward Tiffany Clarke has come on strong during SEC play for the second season in a row. She's averaging 14.7 points and a team-leading 8.3 rebounds per contest during the three league contests and made her first start of the season against Auburn. Also in double-figures for Vanderbilt is redshirt sophomore center Stephanie Holzer. The reigning SEC Sixth Woman of the Year is posting 10.7 points and 7.3 rebounds per game.

Scouting The Lady Volunteers

No. 6/7 Tennessee comes in looking to rebound from a 61-60 loss at No. 9/8 Kentucky on Thursday night. The Lady Vols are led by the duo of Shekinna Stricklen and Glory Johnson, who are averaging 15.3 and 14.4 points per game, respectively. Johnson is the reigning SEC Player of the Week after becoming just the fourth player in Tennessee history to reach 1,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds. Johnson leads the team in rebounding at 9.7 per contest. Other major contributors for the Lady Vols are Taber Spani, who missed the UK game but is averaging 11.9 ppg, Meighan Simmons, who is posting 10.4 ppg, Vicki Baugh, who scored 16 against the Wildcats, and Ariel Massengale, who is posting a team-high 4.0 assists per game.

Vanderbilt vs. Tennessee - The Series

Sunday's game will be the 65th meeting between Tennessee and Vanderbilt, with UT holding a 57-7 edge in the series. Tennessee is the most common opponent in program history for Vanderbilt. The first meeting came in the 1979-80 season, a 77-53 UT win in Nashville. The first Vanderbilt win came in 1984-85, an 84-77 win at Memorial Gym. The teams have met at least twice during each season since 1993-94. The most recent Vanderbilt win came in 2008-09, when the Dores won 74-58 at Memorial. Lone senior Jordan Coleman is the only Vanderbilt player who was on the team for that victory and she did not see action in the game. Tennessee won both meetings last year (68-56 in Knoxville; 65-57 in Nashville). The second meeting in Nashville saw Vanderbilt hold UT to 15 points in the first half before UT rallied for a 65-57 victory. The top Commodore returner from that game is Stephanie Holzer, who scored 10 points and grabbed six rebounds. Shekinna Strickler led UT with 14 points and nine rebounds. Vanderbilt has not won in 26 tries in Knoxville.

Last Time Out

"It wasn't pretty." Words not often used to describe a game that saw someone score 27 points on 7-of-11 shooting, but those are exactly the words sophomore guard Jasmine Lister chose to describe No. 25/24 Vanderbilt's 66-58 win over Auburn on Thursday, January 12, at Memorial Gym. Lister's backcourt mate Christina Foggie scored 27 points for the third time this season, equaling a career high. In addition to going 7-11 from the field, she was 6-8 from behind the three-point line and 7-7 from the free throw line. Lister added 11 points of her own, along with five assists, four rebounds and three steals, to help the Commodores improve to 14-2 on the season and 2-1 in SEC play. Junior forward Tiffany Clarke added 12 points and eight rebounds. She's now averaging 14.7 points and 8.3 rebounds in SEC play. Auburn was led by 14 points from Tyrese Tanner. Chantel Hilliard added 11 points, while Camille Glymph scored nine. Najat Ourdad had six assists and a career high seven steals. The Tigers fell to 9-8, 1-3 in league action. Foggie scored 22 points in the second half to help Vanderbilt pull away, then hold on. Commodore Head Coach Melanie Balcomb was glad to see Foggie put her team on her shoulders, despite an adjustment in roll due to injuries. "She's sharing responsibilities with Kady (Schrann at the point)," explained Balcomb. "She had to do a lot and play a lot of minutes, but to knock down those big threes, I thought it was really impressive." Balcomb also echoed Lister's sentiments about the ugliness of the game, but was not the least bit surprised. "I don't think I've ever had a team that in the first three SEC games felt pretty," said Balcomb. After Auburn slugged its way to a 9-8 lead, the Commodores used a 17-0 run to open up a 25-9 lead. Vanderbilt held the Tigers off the scoreboard for 7:45 in the process. Balance was the key for Vanderbilt in the first half, as Clarke led the way with eight points, Lister scored seven and Foggie and Elan Brown added five each. Clarke made her first start of the season, in place of Schrann, who rolled her ankle earlier in the week. Schrann was a game time decision. It marked the first time this season Balcomb deviated from a starting five of Schrann, Foggie, Lister, Holzer and Brown.

On-Deck

Vanderbilt will stay on the road, traveling to Fayetteville, Ark., to face Arkansas on Thursday, January 19. Tipoff with the Razorbacks is set for 7:00 p.m. Central.

High Percentages

The Tennessee match-up will feature the SEC's top two players in field goal percentage during league action. Tennessee's Vicki Baugh leads the conference with a .667 shooting percentage during four league games, while Vanderbilt's Tiffany Clarke is second with a .652 mark through three games. The next closest player is South Carolina's Aleighsa Welch at .618.

Facing The Best Of The Best

In the current SEC scheduling format, each SEC team plays 16 games, facing five teams twice in during the season. Vanderbilt always faces rival Tennessee twice and this season drew South Carolina, LSU, Georgia and Auburn as other repeat opponents. Of the five repeat opponents, three are ranked in at least one poll (UT, USC, UGA). They have combined for a record of 14-6 in SEC play this season.

Foggie Does It Again

Sophomore guard Christina Foggie scored a career-high 27 points for the second time against Auburn on Thursday. Foggie reached the number on 7-11 shooting, including 6-8 from three. She was also 7-7 from the free throw line and added a pair of steals in 33 minutes. Foggie already scored 27 points against Western Carolina this season. She has scored at least 20 points in seven games this season, including a stretch of five-straight earlier in the year.

Tiffany Clarke Shows Up For The SEC

Junior forward Tiffany Clarke is second in scoring and leading the team in rebounding through its three SEC contests. Clarke is posting 14.7 points and 8.3 rebounds in league action thus far. After scoring 12 points and grabbing eight rebounds against Auburn on Thursday night, Clarke has reached double-digits in nine of the last 10 league games, including last year's SEC Tournament at which she earned All-Tournament honors.

Shuffling The Deck

Head Coach Melanie Balcomb altered her starting lineup for the first time this season on Thursday night against Auburn. After going all season with Kady Schran, Christina Foggie, Jasmine Lister, Elan Brown and Stephanie Holzer, Balcomb was forced to change things after Schran rolled an ankle in practice and saw limited playing time. The 10th-year head coach inserted Tiffany Clarke into the starting lineup for Schran and moved Brown to the three-guard against the Tigers.

Home Cooking

Vanderbilt currently stands 12-0 at Memorial Gym this season, including a 10-0 mark during the non-conference portion of the schedule. It marks the second consecutive season Vanderbilt has gone undefeated at home during non-conference play. The Commodores went 7-0 during that portion of the schedule last year, the first undefeated run through non-SEC play since 2006-07. After winning its first 12 games at home last season, Vanderbilt lost the final three home games to Tennessee, Kentucky and Florida.

Tops From Field & Three

As of the NCAA's most recent national statistics update which includes all games play through Thursday, January 12, Vanderbilt found itself in the top-six in the nation in both field goal percentage and three-point field goal percentage. The Commodores are shooting 48.2% from the field, which is sixth in the nation. The Commodores percentage of 44.1 from beyond the three-point arc leads the nation. In fact, the next closest team in that category, Illinois State, is a full four percentage points behind Vanderbilt at 40.1%. Vanderbilt is also in the top-15 in the nation in scoring (14th at 76.8 ppg), assists per game (13th at 17.6 per game) and assist/turnover ratio (15th at 1.07).

SEC Starters

Vanderbilt lost its SEC opener for the second consecutive season on Thursday, January 5, at South Carolina. The Commodores fell at Ole Miss a season ago, 72-67. The Commodores are now 6-4 in SEC openers under Melanie Balcomb. Every season Vanderbilt has lost its league opener under Balcomb, it has come on the road. Vandy rebounded to win its home opener against Ole Miss on Sunday. The Commodores have won their home SEC opener every season since 2003-04.

200 SEC Wins

Vanderbilt became the fourth program in Southeastern Conference history to reach 200 conference wins when it defeated Mississippi State on February 17, 2011. The Commodores joined Tennessee, LSU and Georgia as 200-win programs in the league. Vanderbilt is currently 203-145 all-time in SEC play.

Night Of Highs

The final non-conference game saw several career highs be set or equalled for Vanderbilt. Christina Foggie set a career high with 27 points. The sophomore guard shot 9-13 from the field and 5-8 from three to match her output versus High Point on Dec. 4. In addition, freshman Kady Schrann scored 20 points, the first 20-point outing of her young career, while adding career highs in assists (six) and blocks (three).

Holzer Finds Her Game

Through out her career, redshirt Stephanie Holzer has had a big impact whenever she has been on the floor, earning SEC Sixth Woman of the Year honors as a freshman. The problem has been staying out of foul trouble. She committed four fouls in the loss at NC State, however was able to stay on the floor for a then-career-high 30 minutes. Holzer's impact helped Vanderbilt fight back from 14-points down to pull with in three with just 44 seconds remaining. She finished the contest with 15 points and eight rebounds. The Vanderbilt comeback effort began when she knocked down a pair of free throws following a flagrant foul by the Wolfpack's Kody Burke with 6:19 remaining, starting a 12-3 VU run. Holzer followed that up by recording her sixth career double-double versus Florida State (17 points, 13 rebounds), while setting a career-mark for minutes played with 31. The center again committed four fouls against the Seminoles. She ran into foul trouble again versus Western Carolina, scoring nine points in 16 minutes while committing four fouls, and in the SEC opener against South Carolina scoring 10 points and grabbing five rebounds, but only play 19 minutes while committing four fouls.

Holzer On The Floor

Stephanie Holzer's impact on the game continues to be significant, when she is on the floor. After earning SEC Sixth Woman of the Year honors in a rookie season that saw her foul out five times and collect at least three fouls in 17 contests, Holzer continues to struggle with foul trouble. The center is third on the team in scoring at 11.3 points per game, while adding 6.8 rebounds per contest, but she has also committed 47 fouls in 16 games and fouled out of the Oklahoma contest. If her stats were projected out over 40 minutes, she would be averaging 23.6 points and 14.2 rebounds per game, but also 6.2 fouls per contest.

Smith Back In Black And Gold

Junior guard Gabby Smith returned to action against South Carolina for the first time since the Western Illinois game on November 14. Smith suffered a concussion during pre-season practice and missed the exhibition game and the season-opener before scoring nine points against the Leathernecks. Her post-concussion symptoms then recurred and Smith missed the next 11 games before returning against the Gamecocks. She hit Vanderbilt's only three-pointer of the game against USC, playing 26 minutes.

Foggie Just Keeps Rolling

Sophomore guard Christina Foggie leads Vanderbilt in scoring, averaging 17.1 points per contest. She had scored at least 20 points in each of the five games before scoring 13 in Vanderbilt's loss at NC State. The five straight 20-point games marked the first time since the 1990-91 season a Commodore put together a streak of at least five contests with 20-plus points. Wendy Scholtens, who is Vanderbilt's second all-time leading scorer (2,604 points), had nine-straight 20-point performances during her senior campaign. Foggie became just the second Vanderbilt player in program history to score 20 points in at least five-straight contests, but it is the eighth such streak, with the other seven belonging

A Perfect 10

The Commodores 10-0 record to start the season matched their best start in 10 years under Head Coach Melanie Balcomb. Balcomb's 2003-04 squad, which advanced to the Sweet 16, also opened with a 10-0 mark. The record ties for the fourth-best open to a season in program history, trailing the 1993 Final Four team (17-0), the 1996 Elite Eight team (14-0) and the 1992 Elite Eight team (11-0). Every Vanderbilt squad to win their first 10 games has gone on to advance to at least the Sweet 16 of that year's NCAA Tournament. The Commodores are currently 14-2, 2-1 in SEC play.

Injuries Hit Does

In addition to Gabby Smith missing 12 games, Vanderbilt lost freshman guard Maggie Morrison for the season prior to the NC State game. The team's reserve point guard, Morrison suffered a torn ACL from a contact injury during practice. Morrison was eighth in the SEC in assists per game (3.8) and sixth in assist-turnover ratio (1.6) at the time of the injury. Without Morrison, Vanderbilt has nine scholarship players available.

Back-To-Back POTWs

Christina Foggie was named SEC Co-Player of the Week on December 5 for her performance in games Nov. 28-Dec. 4. Foggie scored 20 points in three contests on the week, averaging 24.7 points while shooting 52.6% from the field and 50.0% from three-point range. The week included a career-high 26 points in a win over High Point. It marked the second-straight conference Player of the Week award for a Vanderbilt player, as classmate and fellow guard Jasmine Lister took home the award the previous week. Foggie shared the award with Kentucky's A'dia Mathies. It also marks the first time the same school had back-to-back players of the week since Jan. 31 & Feb. 7, 2010, when Kentucky's Victoria Dunlap won consecutive awards.

Lister Gets Attention

Sophomore guard Jasmine Lister earned SEC Player of the Week honors for her play Nov. 21-27. The Corona, Calif., native averaged 13.3 points, 4.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists over three games on the week, all Commodore victories. She shot 55.5% from the field (15-27), while shooting an identical percentage from three-point range (5-9). She opened the week with a nine-point, six-assist performance against Sam Houston State, before scoring seven points and grabbing five rebounds in the win over Lipscomb. Lister saved her best for the final game of the week, scoring a career-high 24 points versus No. 12/14 Oklahoma in the championship game of the Vanderbilt Thanksgiving Tournament. She added six assists in the 78-66 win over the Sooners and took home tournament MVP honors. A Vanderbilt player last won SEC Player of the Week on Feb. 7, 2011, when Stephanie Holzer earned the nod.

Commodores Return To Top 25

Vanderbilt returned to the Top 25 on November 28, fresh off its win over No. 12/14 Oklahoma. The re-appearance marked the first time Vanderbilt had been ranked since the fourth week of 2010-11. It snapped the longest drought without appearing in the top 25 (17 weeks) since a 30 week absence during the 1998-99 and 1999-2000 seasons. The Commodores are currently ranked 25th in the AP poll and 24th in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll.

Commodores Versus The Top 25

Vanderbilt's game versus No. 12/14 Oklahoma was its first against a ranked opponent this year, giving it a 1-0 mark against ranked foes. The schedule features three opponents currently ranked in the Associated Press Top 25. The Commodores went 2-6 against ranked opponents in 2010-11.

It's The Frontcourt's Turn

After guard play dominated Vanderbilt's first three contests of the season, the frontcourt got a chance to play a greater role in the win over Sam Houston State. Forwards Tiffany Clarke and Clair Watkins, along with center Stephanie Holzer, combined for 45 of the Commodores' 79 points. Another way to look at it is that 27% (three of Vandy's 11 players) of the roster contributed 57% of the points in the contest.

28 x 2 = History

For the second-straight time against USC Upstate, the Commodores dished out 28 assists. The last time Vanderbilt had back-to-back games with more than 25 assists was 2006-05. The 'Dores dished out 25 assists versus Dartmouth on Nov. 18, 2006, before recording 27 helpers against Texas A&M-Corpus Christi on Nov. 20. Vanderbilt had not even had consecutive games with 20-plus assists since 2009-10, when they recorded 25 against Tennessee State on December 20, before dishing 20 assists in the next game against East Tennessee State on December 28. It also marked the highest two-game assist total for Vanderbilt in over a decade. The 56 assists in two games were the most since the 2000-01 season, when the 'Dores handed out 68 helpers in games versus UNC-Asheville (33 assists on Dec. 17, 2000) and Portland State (Dec. 23, 2000).

400 And Counting

Vanderbilt's win over Sam Houston State on November 22 marked the 400th in program history at Memorial Gymnasium. The only home the Commodores have known as a program, they have posted an all-time record of 408-92 at Memorial, good for a winning percentage of .816.

A Dish Best Served Often

In the 95-51 win over Western Illinois on November 14, Vanderbilt had one of its best games distributing the basketball under Head Coach Melanie Balcomb. The 'Dores dished out 28 assists, their highest total since March 2006 when they served up 32 against Alabama (the highest total under Balcomb). It also marked the first time Vanderbilt had at least 25 assists in a game since December 20, 2009, when it had 26 against Tennessee State. They then matched that total in the win over USC Upstate on November 16. Leading the way was sophomore guard Jasmine Lister, who dished out seven assists in each of the first three games this season. Lister is 21st in the nation in assists per game at 5.6 per contest.

Assists Don't Come Without Field Goals

On the receiving end of those 28 assists, which game on just 37 field goals, Vanderbilt also had one of its best shooting performances of late. The Commodores shot 62.7% (37-59) from the field, their best mark since shooting 64.1% (25-39) on Feb. 8, 2009 at Kentucky. Vanderbilt is currently ranked sixth in the nation in field goal percentage at 48.2%

70 Is The Magic Number

After going 19-3 when holding its opponent under 70 points and 14-1 when scoring at least 70 points last season, 70 has continued to be the magic number for Vanderbilt this season. Vanderbilt has held its opponent to under 70 points in all but one contest this season, going 12-1 in those games. In addition, the Commodores are 11-0 when scoring 70 points. They did not reach 70 in losses at NC State or South Carolina, but won games versus Florida State, Ole Miss and Auburn without reaching 70.

2011-12 Vanderbilt opponents in bold.

Strong Out The Gate

The Commodores jumped out to a 55-17 halftime lead in their contest versus Western Illinois on November 14. That marked the highest first half output for Vanderbilt since leading Belmont, 56-27, at the half on Nov. 23, 2007. In addition, the half-time margin of 38 points marked the largest since January 5, 2004, when the Commodores took a 52-6 lead into the break against Savannah State.

The Still Young 'Dores

After fielding one of the youngest teams in the SEC a season ago, Vanderbilt again features one of the most youthful teams in the league. The Commodores have just one senior (Jordan Coleman) and three juniors (Elan Brown, Tiffany Clarke, Gabby Smith) on their 11-player roster. Only Alabama and Georgia join Vanderbilt in having one senior. By the measure of juniors and seniors combined, Vanderbilt returns fewer than any team in the league with four. Ole Miss has five juniors and seniors, while every other team in the conference returns at least six. While the Commodores may be young, they are certainly talented, as four returners earned SEC All-Freshman honors during their respective rookie campaigns (Brown, Clarke, Jasmine Lister and Stephanie Holzer).

Preseason Honors From Coaches

Stephanie Holzer and Tiffany Clarke each picked-up preseason honors from the SEC's head coaches. They selected Holzer to the Preseason All-SEC First team, while placing Clarke on the second team. The coaches also picked Vanderbilt to finish sixth in the conference this season. Holzer was joined on the first team by C'eira Ricketts (Arkansas), Jasmine James (Georgia), A'dia Mathies (Kentucky), LaSondra Barrett (LSU), Glory Johnson (Tennessee), Meighan Simmons (Tennessee) and Preseason Player of the Year Shekinna Stricklen (Tennessee). In addition to Clarke, the second team included Ericka Russell of Alabama, Arkansas' Sarah Watkins, Georgia's Jasmine Hassell, Adrienne Webb of LSU, Valencia McFarland from Ole Miss and South Carolina's La'Keisha Sutton and leasia Walker.

Preseason Honors From Media

Stephanie Holzer was named Preseason Second Team All-SEC by regional and select national media, it was announced by the league on October 25. Holzer, who was honorable mention and SEC Sixth Woman of the year as a redshirt freshman in 2010-11, returns after averaging 11.1 points and 6.0 rebounds per game. She was joined on the second team by C'eira Ricketts and Sarah Watkins of Arkansas, Valencia McFarland of Ole Miss, and Tennessee's Meighan Simmons. The media also slotted the Commodores fifth in the SEC, behind Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky and LSU.

Vanderbilt Basketball Is Equal Opportunity

The Vanderbilt women's and men's basketball teams have made their respective NCAA Tournament fields each of the last two seasons, something only accomplished by 15 NCAA Division I institutions. 2010-11 was the ninth time both teams made the NCAA Tournament, but just the second time both teams went in consecutive years (2007, 2008). Both teams made the tournament in 1989, 1991, 1993, 1997, 2004, 2007, 2008 and 2010.

The 20 Standard

Vanderbilt reached the 20-win mark for the 12th consecutive season versus Mississippi State in the SEC Tournament Quarterfinals. It was the 25th time in school history the team reached 20 wins, and the 19th time in the last 20 years.

The Tournament Standard

The 2010-11 season saw Vanderbilt make the NCAA Tournament for the 24th time and 12th in a row. The Commodores have posted a 37-24 mark in the tournament and won at least one game in each tournament during 11 of the 12 appearances. Vanderbilt has made 14 appearances

Junior forward Tiffany Clarke played her best basketball at the end of last season, earning SEC All-Tournament honors. She posted 20.5 points and 13.0 rebounds in Vanderbilt's two games at the tournament. She was the only player named to the All-Tournament squad not from Kentucky or Tennessee. She matched her season high with 23 points against Mississippi State before grabbing a career-high 17 rebounds against Kentucky. Clarke moved into the starting lineup on January 30 and averaged 13.3 points and 9.0 rebounds through the remainder of the season, including four double-doubles and three 20-point performances. On Feb. 20 against Kentucky, she became the first Commodore with 20 points and 10 rebounds in a game since 2005.

Melanie Balcomb

Head Coach

Vanderbilt's women's basketball program has been a model of consistency under 10th-year Head Coach Melanie Balcomb. In nine seasons at the helm, Balcomb has guided the Commodores to nine NCAA Tournaments, nine 20-win seasons, eight top 25 finishes, three SEC Tournament Championships and four Sweet 16 appearances.

Since her hiring in 2002, Balcomb has elevated an already tradition-rich program and guided it to new heights. Just last season, Balcomb became the third coach in school history to reach 200 career wins, while also becoming the fastest to reach the milestone. Balcomb accomplished the feat in 275 games, five games sooner than Jim Foster.

With a 215-84 record at Vanderbilt, Balcomb's winning percentage of 71.9% is greater than any coach in school history. In her nine seasons at the helm, Balcomb has averaged 23.8 wins per season, won 83.0 percent of games played at Memorial Gym, posted an 8-1 record in the NCAA first round, developed eight WNBA Draft picks, and most importantly, graduated 100% of her players.

An 18-year head coaching veteran, Balcomb is a renowned offensive strategist. In her nine seasons at Vanderbilt that reputation has only been enhanced. Each season under Balcomb, Vanderbilt has ranked in the top 20 in field-goal percentage and has an average national ranking of 8th (47.5%). The offensive success also extends beyond the arc where the Commodores have an average national rank of 14th (38.1%) in three-point field goal percentage.

The Commodores have finished in the top five nationally in field-goal percentage four times and in the top five in three-point field-goal percentage three times under Balcomb. Her teams have also finished in the top five in assists per game, free-throw percentage and scoring offense.

Balcomb's teams have found success throughout every season on West End, but specifically seem to click down the home stretch. In nine seasons, Balcomb's teams have won 73.6% (56-20) of its final nine regular season games.

Balcomb's success as a head coach is not limited to Vanderbilt. Before arriving at Vanderbilt, Balcomb had successful coaching tenures at Ashland (Ohio) and Xavier. In total, she has coached 500-plus games, winning 67% of the time and averaging 22 wins per season.

Last season featured many obstacles that Balcomb successfully maneuvered through to reach another NCAA Tournament and finish third in the SEC. Injuries took an unfortunate toll on the team throughout the year with at least one of Vanderbilt's five leading scorers unavailable for 14 out of the team's 32 games. Injuries coupled with matching Georgia for the fewest upperclassmen in the SEC challenged Balcomb to use different personnel groupings regularly.

Despite the challenges, Balcomb again reached 20 wins, finishing 20-12 and 10-6 in the SEC. Individually, Balcomb helped Jence Rhoads earn honorable mention All-America honors from the Associated Press in addition to first team All-SEC recognition. Rhoads was also a WBCA Region 3 All-American. Freshman center Stephanie Holzer was named honorable mention All-SEC, SEC Sixth Woman of the Year and to the SEC All-Freshmen team. Freshman point guard Jasmine Lister was also named to the SEC All-Freshman Team.

Balcomb started at Vanderbilt in 2002 and wasted no time in implementing her own style of winning. Working to transition veteran players into a new system while building new team chemistry, Balcomb's first year saw the Commodores win six of their last seven regular season games, earn an NCAA Tournament berth, and lead the nation in field goal percentage (51.3) against the fourth toughest schedule in the country. She was named a finalist for the Naismith Coach of the Year award.

In 2003-04, Balcomb led the Commodores to their fourth Southeastern Conference Tournament title. She masterfully balanced strong upper-class leadership with exciting freshmen talent, winning 10 consecutive games and advancing to the program's 11th Sweet 16 appearance. One year later, her team made its second consecutive trip to the NCAA Sweet 16. The Commodores posted the most wins (10) in the program's history in Southeastern Conference play finishing with a 10-4 record.

The Commodores were ranked seventh in the final AP poll of the 2006-07 season, and earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament after winning another SEC Tournament title. That Vanderbilt squad was the nation's best three-point shooting team, and ranked among the top 10 in points scored. The team's 28-6 mark was the best record for a VU squad in 14 years.

The 2008 season was also one of Balcomb's most impressive coaching jobs. Despite graduating three All-SEC seniors, she led the Commodores to a 25-9 record and the school's 13th appearance in the NCAA Sweet 16, all with two freshmen and no seniors in the starting lineup.

In 2009, Vanderbilt won its sixth SEC Tournament title, the third for Balcomb in the last six years. The team also advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the 14th time in school history -- Balcomb's fourth trip with the Commodores. Vanderbilt finished the year ranked No. 8 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll after narrowly missing an upset of No. 1 seed Maryland in the Raleigh Regional Semifinal.

National accolades came flooding in for Vanderbilt, including senior Jennifer Risper being named the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) National Defensive Player of the Year. Risper and classmate Christina Wirth, who herself was named an All-American and the SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year, were both selected in the 2009 WNBA Draft.

In 2010 Balcomb was faced with one of her most challenging tasks. Faced with replacing National Defensive Player of the Year Jennifer Risper and All-American Christina Wirth, Balcomb guided an undersized team back to the NCAA Tournament, where they narrowly missed advancing to their third consecutive Sweet 16.

Despite having to overcome numerous injuries throughout the season and a size disadvantage in almost every game, Vanderbilt finished the season 23-11 overall. Individually, Balcomb helped junior point guard Jence Rhoads earn first team All-SEC honors, while senior shooting guard Merideth Marsh earned second team All-SEC accolades. Elan Brown and Tiffany Clarke were also named to the SEC All-Freshman Team.

In nine seasons at Vanderbilt, Balcomb has won 12 games in the NCAA Tournament, which ranks 13th among active coaches for most wins in the NCAA Tournament during that time. She holds a winning percentage of 67.1 against SEC opponents. In all, Balcomb owns series advantages over 10 of the 11 schools in the SEC.

Before arriving at Vanderbilt, the Cranbury, N.J., native spent seven seasons at Xavier University. Beginning in 1995, her up-tempo style wreaked havoc on the Atlantic 10 while building the Musketeers into a national contender. In 1998, Xavier recorded its second post-season appearance in school history with a selection to the Women's National Invitational Tournament. Each of the next three seasons, Xavier competed in the NCAA Tournament, capped in 2001 by a victory over perennial power Tennessee and a run to the Elite Eight.

En route to earning three invitations to the NCAA Tournament and compiling a 136-78 record during her tenure, Balcomb's offensive schemes helped push Xavier onto the national stage. Musketeer field-goal percentages ranked among the top three in the nation during three different seasons while the 1999 squad led the country in 3-point accuracy at 40.1 percent. Her 2000-01 squad averaged 79.4 points per game, the highest total in program history. Individual records were rewritten as well. Of the 15 Musketeers who have scored at least 1,000 points in a career, six of them played on Balcomb-coached teams.

Before her accomplishments at Xavier, Balcomb took her first head coaching position at Ashland University. Prosperity was immediate as Balcomb's first unit matched the best record in school history at 18-9 while registering its first winning season in the Great Lakes Valley Conference with an 11-7 mark.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Balcomb served three years as an assistant at Providence College (1990-93), during which the Friars went 62-30, made two NCAA Tournament appearances and once (1990-91) led the nation in scoring while they amassed a 26-6 record. In 1989-90, Balcomb was an assistant at Ohio University and she began her coaching career with a four-year stint (1985-89) on the staff at Niagara University.

In all, Balcomb has coached 19 players who have received All-SEC accolades. Nine of her players have been drafted by the WNBA, including VU's Chantelle Anderson, Ashley McElhiney, Jenni Benningfield, Ashley Earley, Carla Thomas, Dee Davis and Christina Wirth. Her Xavier teams won two league tournament titles (2000 and 2001) and one regular-season championship in the Atlantic 10 Conference (2001).

Xavier's successes during the Balcomb era helped push for construction of the Cintas Center, a state of the art facility which became home to Xavier basketball at the start of the 2000-01 season and - ironically - was dedicated with a victory over Vanderbilt. That season the program posted a school record for attendance with a total of 40,098 fans, who thrilled in the Musketeers' style of play and their results. Commodore followers have enjoyed the entertainment as well.

Her basketball education began at an early age among some of the most well respected coaches in the game. Balcomb's father, Alan, was a varsity boy's coach for 30 years at South Brunswick (N.J.) High School, and then served as an assistant for four years at Princeton University under Pete Carril, the master of the half-court game.

For Balcomb, however, a complete education goes far beyond the hardwood. Every eligible, four-year player during Balcomb's coaching tenure has earned her degree. In May of 2011, Balcomb's team earned a Public Recognition Award for finishing among the nation's top 10 percent in multi-year Academic Progress Rates (APR). Six of seven squads at Xavier earned team grade point averages that ranked in the Top 25. In 2004-05, 40 percent of the Commodore basketball team was named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll. Vanderbilt led the SEC with eight players being named to the honor roll in 2003-04.

Two Commodores have been named SEC Scholar Athletes of the Year under Balcomb. Hillary Hager received the honor in 2004 and Christina Wirth won it in 2009. With was also named a 2009 Lowe's Senior CLASS All-American, while receiving WBCA and NCAA post-graduate scholarships. Hager recently returned to Vanderbilt and received her doctorate in 2010.

Balcomb also stresses the importance of community service to her teams. VU logged more than 95 hours of community service last season, including numerous opportunities to visit with young patients at the Vanderbilt Children's Hospital. After the devastating Nashville flood in 2010, Balcomb and her coaching staff volunteered in helping to clean up flood-damaged areas. Balcomb herself has been active in outreach to the surrounding area, participating in numerous fundraising events for local and national organizations, including Coaches vs. Cancer, the Race for the Cure, Mercy Ministries, Vanderbilt Children's Hospital and the Girl Scouts of America. She joined colleagues to represent the SEC in the 2008 4Kay Golf Classic to benefit the Kay Yow Cancer Fund.

An avid golfer, Balcomb finds time to make it to beach on her rare weeks off, and also enjoys reading.

NASHVILLE - The Vanderbilt women's basketball team used an impressive shooting night to score an 86-55 victory over Alabama A&M in its season opener. The Commodores improved to 1-0 on the season, while the Bulldogs fell to 0-1. Guards Jasmine Lister and Christina Foggie led the way for Vanderbilt with 22 and 18 points, respectively. Lister added seven assists, while committing no turnovers. She was also 4-of-6 from 3-point land. Three other Commodores were in double-figures. Tiffany Clarke picked up 11 points, while grabbing seven rebounds. Freshman Maggie Morrison had an impressive collegiate debut with 10 points, five assists and four rebounds. Junior Elan Brown narrowly missed a double-double with 10 points and nine rebounds. Alabama A&M was led by 25 points and eight rebounds from Whiquitta Tobar. Shundray Davis added 13 points and nine rebounds. Outside of their two guards, the Bulldogs did not get much scoring output, as no one else on the squad recorded more than five points. Morrison's play was especially important to Vanderbilt Head Coach Melanie Balcomb, as her team was without junior guard Gabby Smith (concussion, day-to-day) and saw freshman guard Kady Schrans roll an ankle late in the first half. The Commodores shot 48.5% from the field, including 45.0% from three. Size and depth both proved to be a factor, as Vanderbilt outscored Alabama A&M in the paint, 38-28, as well as off the bench, 23-9. Vanderbilt nearly doubled-up on the Bulldogs in the first half, taking a 45-23 lead into the break. Three-point shooting helped open up the lead, as the Commodores were 7-10 from beyond the arc. Lister was an impressive 6-7 from the field, as well as 3-3 from 3-point range in the frame.

NASHVILLE - The Vanderbilt women's basketball team moved to 4-0 with a 79-56 victory over Sam Houston State in action on Tuesday, November 22, at Memorial Gymnasium. The Bearkats fell to 2-1. The frontcourt led the Commodores, including a double-double from junior forward Tiffany Clarke (19 points, 10 rebounds). Redshirt sophomore center Stephanie Holzer added 13 points and five rebounds, while redshirt freshman forward Clair Watkins notched 12 points and six rebounds, both career highs. The Commodores led, 36-30, at the break. After starting 1-8 from the field and trailing, 6-2, Vanderbilt started to heat up, going on an 11-0 run to take a 17-7 lead. The deficit marked the first time this season Vanderbilt trailed by more than one point. Sam Houston State was led by 19 points from Britni Martin, who also grabbed five rebounds. Sequeena Thomas added a double-double with 16 points and 11 rebounds, while Angela Beadle contributed 13 points and six rebounds. After continuing to struggle from the field, the Commodores again used great defense to open a lead. They held the Bearkats scoreless for a stretch of 8:06, going on an 18-0 run to open up a 57-36 lead. Vanderbilt was able to hold on from there, leading by as many as 23 points during the second half. The Bearkats managed to stay in the contest by taking advantage of 23 Vanderbilt turnovers to the tune of 22 points. However, post play and depth helped the Commodores wear Sam Houston State down. Vanderbilt outscored the Bearkats in the paint, 48-18, as well as off the bench, 40-1.

NASHVILLE - Head Coach Melanie Balcomb added that her team's most complete performance of the year, as Vanderbilt used a 17-0 run to open the game before cruising to an 81-39 win over Lipscomb in the opening game of its annual Thanksgiving Tournament. The Commodores stand at 5-0, while the Lady Bisons fall to 0-6. Vanderbilt played some of its best defense of the year, holding the Lady Bisons to 26.4% shooting (14-53) in the contest and forcing 26 turnovers, good for 31 Vandy points. Redshirt sophomore Stephanie Holzer led the way for the Commodores, scoring 17 points while adding four rebounds, four steals and a pair of blocks. Junior Tiffany Clarke was right behind with her second-straight double-double, scoring 15 points and pulling down 10 rebounds. Vanderbilt also had a pair of guards reach double-figures in sophomore Christina Foggie and freshman Kady Schran, who each scored 11 points. Freshman Maggie Morrison had an outstanding game at point guard, dishing out seven assists. Every Vanderbilt player who dressed scored at least two points, including freshman walk-on Nadine Ndip, who hit her first collegiate free throws. Gabby Smith missed her fourth game of the season with a concussion. Lipscomb was led by nine points from Anna Bowers. Sasha Robinson led the Lady Bisons on the boards with nine rebounds, while Morgan Faulkner dished out three assists. Vanderbilt's defense was outstanding right out of the gate, holding Lipscomb without a point until the 11:46 mark when O'Neisha Smith connected on a free throw. The first Lipscomb field goal came three seconds later when Smith rebounded her own missed free throw and scored. The Commodores' athleticism was just too much for Lipscomb to overcome. Vanderbilt scored 31 points off turnovers, outscored the Lady Bisons in the paint, 44-14, and off the bench, 28-13. Vanderbilt led at the half, 37-11. The 11 points marked the lowest total for an opponent at the half since it held Alabama A&M to eight in the opening stanza on November 22, 2005.

NASHVILLE - The Vanderbilt women's basketball team put an undefeated record in its annual Thanksgiving Tournament on the line against No. 12/14 Oklahoma on Saturday, November 26, and came away with a 78-66 victory over the Sooners. The Commodores used strong guard play to move to 6-0 on the season, led by a 24-point, six-assist effort from Jasmine Lister, who earned tournament MVP honors. It was a career-high in points for the sophomore. Christina Foggie, who joined Lister on the All-Tournament Team, poured in 21 points. She added five rebounds and three assists. The Sooners, who dropped to 3-1, were led by All-Tournament selection Aaryn Ellenberg, who scored 22 points. Morgan Hook, also an All-Tournament team member, scored 16 for OU, while grabbing six rebounds. Joanna McFarland had a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds. It was a back-and-forth affair over the first few minutes before Foggie connected for a pair of threes to put the Commodores up for good. Oklahoma made several runs during the contest, but the Sooners were not able to pull ahead or tie after Vanderbilt took a 7-6 lead. After using post play to dominate Lipscomb in the opening game of the Tournament, the guards stepped-up. It became even more important when redshirt sophomore center Stephanie Holzer found herself in foul trouble. The Commodores drew several momentum shifting charges underneath, keeping the Sooners frustrated. The Commodores' defense was also evident in the turnover numbers. Vandy forced 24 Oklahoma turnovers and scored 27 points off those miscues. The win marks the highest-ranked opponent Vanderbilt has defeated since January 14, 2010, when the Commodores downed No. 6 Georgia, 66-44, at Memorial Gym. Vanderbilt now stands at 26-0 all-time in its Thanksgiving Tournament.

NASHVILLE -- "It wasn't pretty." Words not often used to describe a game that saw someone score 27 points on 7-of-11 shooting, but those are exactly the words sophomore guard Jasmine Lister chose to describe No. 25/24 Vanderbilt's 66-58 win over Auburn on Thursday, January 12, at Memorial Gym. Lister's backcourt mate Christina Foggie scored 27 points for the third time this season, equaling a career high. In addition to going 7-11 from the field, she was 6-8 from behind the three-point line and 7-7 from the free throw line. Lister added 11 points of her own, along with five assists, four rebounds and three steals, to help the Commodores improve to 14-2 on the season and 2-1 in SEC play. Junior forward Tiffany Clarke added 12 points and eight rebounds. She's now averaging 14.7 points and 8.3 rebounds in SEC play. Auburn was led by 14 points from Tyrese Tanner. Chantel Hilliard added 11 points, while Camille Glymph scored nine. Najat Ouardad had six assists and a career high seven steals. The Tigers fell to 9-8, 1-3 in league action. Foggie scored 22 points in the second half to help Vanderbilt pull away, then hold on. Commodore Head Coach Melanie Balcomb was glad to see Foggie put her team on her shoulders, despite an adjustment in roll due to injuries. "She's sharing responsibilities with Kady (Schrann at the point)," explained Balcomb. "She had to do a lot and play a lot of minutes, but to knock down those big threes, I thought it was really impressive." Balcomb also echoed Lister's sentiments about the ugliness of the game, but was not the least bit surprised. "I don't think I've ever had a team that in the first three SEC games felt pretty," said Balcomb. After Auburn slugged its way to a 9-8 lead, the Commodores used a 17-0 run to open up a 25-9 lead. Vanderbilt held the Tigers off the scoreboard for 7:45 in the process. Balance was the key for Vanderbilt in the first half, as Clarke led the way with eight points, Lister scored seen and Foggie and Elan Brown added five each. Clarke made her first start of the season, in place of Schrann, who rolled her ankle earlier in the week. Schrann was a game time decision. It marked the first time this season Balcomb deviated from a starting five of Schrann, Foggie, Lister, Holzer and Brown.
