HEAD COACH STEPHANIE WHITE

Stephanie WHITE

Head Coach / First Season

Stephanie White was named the head coach for Vanderbilt women's basketball program on May 24, becoming just the fifth all-time head coach in the history of the Vanderbilt program.

Having enjoyed success at virtually every level of basketball as a player and coach, White arrived at Vanderbilt after spending two seasons as the head coach of WNBA's Indiana Fever. White took the Fever to the playoffs in each of her two seasons, including a trip to the WNBA finals in 2015.

"The opportunity to lead Vanderbilt's women's basketball program is an opportunity that I simply could not pass up," White said. "The combination of Vanderbilt's culture, where achievement -- both on and off the court - is so highly valued, together with the institution's fan support, and a legacy of winning basketball to build upon, is incredibly exciting to me. I appreciate the support and understanding that I have received from the Indiana Fever, from management to the players, regarding my passion to coach college basketball at an elite institution."

White -- who played five seasons in the WNBA after a decorated playing career at Purdue -- was named head coach for the Fever in September 2014. In 2015, she guided the Fever to the WNBA finals, becoming the first rookie coach in league history to lead a team to the finals.

As a collegiate player, White enjoyed a highly successful career at Purdue, where she earned national Player of the Year honors after helping lead the Boilermakers to the 1999 NCAA championship as a senior. That season, she also received the Wade Trophy (given to the nation's top female player) and was named Big Ten Conference Player of the Year.

"Stephanie White has been a winner in every phase of her career," Vanderbilt athletic director David Williams said. "She was the nation's high school player of the year, she was the NCAA's Player of the Year on a national championship team and she led her WNBA team into the finals in her first year. She was an outstanding scholar. She wants to coach at Vanderbilt and we believe she is just the person to lead our program back into national prominence."

White averaged double-figure scoring in all four seasons of her college career, including 20.2 points per game as a senior, and amassed 2,182 points for her career. White was inducted into the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame on April 21, 2006.

She was also a star in the classroom at Purdue. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was an Academic All-American.

White was an assistant coach with the Chicago Sky from 2007-2010, then joined the Fever staff as an assistant in 2011. She was promoted to associate head coach in 2014 before being named head coach after Lin Dunn's retirement. While coaching in the WNBA, White served as a college basketball analyst for ESPN and the Big Ten Network. She also covered the NBA's Indiana Pacers for FOX Sports Indiana.

Prior to coaching in the WNBA, White coached in the college ranks, serving as an assistant at Toledo (2005-07), Kansas State (2004-05) and Ball State (2003-04).

Before beginning her coaching career, White enjoyed a productive five-year WNBA career, spending one season with the Charlotte Sting and four with the Indiana Fever, before retiring in 2004.

At the completion of her four seasons with the Fever, she ranked third in games played (112) and 3-pointers (92), and fourth in scoring (684). She was named to the Fever's All-Decade Team that was announced in 2009.

White and her wife, Michelle, have three boys: Landon, age 5, and twins, Aiden & Avery, age 2.

THE LOWDOWN ON TODAY'S GAME

With hopes of generating some momentum for March, the Vanderbilt women open a two-game homestand on Sunday, hosting Ole Miss at 2 p.m. in a contest that will be part of Equality Weekend on the Vanderbilt campus (full details next page).

The Commodores come into the game having won two of their past three home games -- beating Alabama on Jan. 26 and LSU on Feb. 13 -- and they'll have history on their side when they take on the Rebels. Vanderbilt has won 17 consecutive games against Ole Miss at Memorial Gym -- a winning streak that dates back to 1987.

LOOKING TO MAKE A MOVE

With three regular-season games remaining, the Commodores need to climb five spots in the conference standings, from 14th to 10th, in order to avoid playing on the opening day of the SEC Tournament for the third consecutive season.

Making such a move is still a mathematical possibility, although Vanderbilt will need some outside help in order for it to happen.

Producing a strong finish, coupled with making some noise in the SEC Tournament, would put the Commodores in position to earn a postseason berth for the first time since 2013-14.

UPDATE ON THE 'DORES

Here's the latest scoop on the Commodores as they head into today's game:

♦ Vanderbilt will be looking to bounce back from Thursday's 82-51 road loss to No. 6-ranked South Carolina. The Commodores were limited to 12 field goals in the loss, and shot a season-low 22.6 from the floor (finishing 12-of-53). Vanderbilt was outscored 50-10 in the paint by the Gamecocks.

♦ Vanderbilt has been one of the most accurate and most prolific 3-point shooting teams in the country throughout the season. The Commodores are ranked No. 5 in the nation in 3-point accuracy (39.3 percent) and are averaging an SEC-best 7.2 three-pointers per game. Vanderbilt has made eight or more 3-pointers in 11 games this season, including four of the past six games.

♦ Vanderbilt's touted freshmen class -- Kayla Overbeck, Kaleigh Clemmons-Green, LeaLea Carter, Cierra Walker, and Erin Whalen -- is combining for 32.4 points, 16.4 rebounds and 7.6 assists per game. The five players have accounted for 46.9 percent of Vanderbilt's scoring, 41.4 percent of VU's rebounds and 52.2 percent of the team's assists. The numbers would likely be even higher if it weren't for an injury to Cierra Walker that has caused her to be sidelined for much of the past month. (For more on the freshmen, see chart on page 8).

♦ Vanderbilt owns a combined record of 29-4 at Memorial Gym against Ole Miss and Arkansas -- the two teams that VU will face during this week's homestand). The Commodores are 17-3 against the Rebels and 12-1 against Arkansas in Nashville.

WEBB REPRESENTS SEC AT NCAA CONVENTION

Vanderbilt senior forward Marqu'ees Webb was selected to be one of three student-athletes to represent the SEC at the NCAA Convention in Nashville in late January.

While there, Webb was able to vote on proposed governance rule changes under the NCAA's Division I autonomy process.

Webb, a four-year starter for the Commodores, was joined by Brady Bramlett, a former member of the Ole Miss baseball team, and Antoine Marc, a former member of the Texas A&M men's swimming and diving team, as the SEC representatives at the convention.

Webb, a senior from Montgomery, Ala., has been on the Dean's List at Vanderbilt and is a two-time recipient of the Women's Basketball Most Improved Academic Award. Webb, who majors in Sociology with a minor in Corporate Strategy, is chair of the SEC Women's Basketball Leadership Council.

RUNNING HOT AND COLD

As would be expected of a team learning a new system, Vanderbilt has battled inconsistency this season. Here's a look at some of the numbers that the Commodores have compiled in the 12 games they've won compared to the 14 games they've lost:

	Wins	Losses
Points per game	78.2	61.2
Points allowed per game	64.8	77.4
FG percentage	45.9	36.1
3-point percentage	44.2	34.7
3-pointers per game	8.6	6.1
FT percentage	78.5	70.6
FTs made per game	16.8	13.6
Rebounding margin	+6.0	+/-0.0
Assists Per Game	17.5	12.1

CHALLENGING STRETCH

Vanderbilt's game against No. 6 South Carolina on Thursday night marked the third time in the past four games that the Commodores faced a team ranked in the AP poll, including two match-ups against Top 10 teams. All three games were on the road.

The stretch started with the Commodores falling to then-No. 25 Kentucky 71-63 on Feb. 5, followed by an 86-41 loss to No. 4 Mississippi State on Feb. 9 and an 82-51 loss to the sixth-ranked Gamecocks on Thursday night.

The challenging slate in February has been a new twist for the Commodores, who didn't face any ranked teams in the entire month of January. In fact, prior to the game against Kentucky, the Commodores had gone 10 straight games -- spanning 44 days (from Dec. 22 to Feb. 4) -- without meeting a ranked opponent.

For the season, the Commodores are 0-5 against ranked opponents, with losses to Indiana, Louisville, Kentucky, Mississippi State and South Carolina. All but one of the games (vs. Louisville) has been on the road.

Vanderbilt WBB, MBB teams to honor Nashville Civil Rights leaders

In celebration of Black History Month, Vanderbilt athletics is set to honor 21 of Nashville's leading civil rights figures at its men's and women's basketball games as part of its equality weekend by wearing special Nike uniforms during its basketball games this weekend.

The university will honor the 21 individuals, as well as celebrate the 50th anniversary of Vanderbilt's Perry Wallace and Godfrey Dillard breaking the color barrier in SEC basketball, with special events surrounding its men's basketball game against South Carolina on Saturday, Feb. 18 and women's game against Ole Miss on Sunday, Feb. 19. The equality weekend uniforms, created exclusively for Vanderbilt by Nike, serve as a way to recognize those who fought for social justice and civil rights in the South, and beyond.

"It is going to be a special (weekend) at Memorial Gym," said women's basketball coach Stephanie White. "It's a tremendous honor to be a part of this initiative. We are both proud and humbled to have the opportunity to recognize and celebrate the men and women who helped shape our country and opened so many doors that were previously closed."

The Vanderbilt men host South Carolina on Saturday, Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. CT. The Vanderbilt women will then wear their special uniforms when they face Ole Miss on Sunday at 2 p.m. CT.

"As I watch our sporting events, I realize how important athletics is to the concept of diversity in our society," Vanderbilt Vice Chancellor for Athletics and University Affairs and Athletics Director David Williams said. "In many ways athletics is a leader in that area and certainly can and should be a pacesetter. It is important that we stop and think about how all of this happened."

"Who were the people in our history and society that allowed the basketball games we watch today to have the diversity we see among the young people playing the game and attending our universities? Who were those folks who worked hard to make the city of Nashville and Vanderbilt University an open and welcoming place for all of us? I am honored to be a part of this great university as we take the time to recognize these icons, for they are truly heroes. I am humbled to stand on their shoulders for it is their leadership and courage that paved the way for all of us."

Alongside Dillard and Wallace, the honorees include a civil rights attorney, a newspaper reporter, a former state senator, a former Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court and many more historic figures. The university plans to recognize each honoree and/or his or her family before and during both basketball games at Memorial Gymnasium.

ognize each honoree and/or his or her family before and during both basketball games at Memorial Gymnasium.

"I am really thankful as a coach to be part of such an awesome opportunity at Vanderbilt," men's basketball coach Bryce Drew said. "This is a great compliment to individuals like Perry Wallace, as well as the people around him who supported him and gave him strength to do what he did. There will be a lot of smiles and tears this weekend, and it's all for a great cause."

SPEARS SELECTED FOR "SO YOU WANT TO BE A COACH" PROGRAM IN DALLAS

Vanderbilt senior guard Minta Spears has been selected to participate in The Women's Basketball Coaches Association's 15th annual "So You Want To Be A Coach" program. Each selected member will participate in the three-day workshop held during the Final Four from March 29-31 in conjunction with the WBCA Convention in Dallas.

Spears, who joined the Commodore WBB team in May of 2015 after being accepted into grad school, is interested in the possibility of entering the coaching field when she completes her time at Vanderbilt -- and the "So You Want To Be A Coach" program will be a valuable tool in her preparation.

"I've had the unique experience of having four head coaches and close to 20 assistants during my collegiate career, and I've seen the impact coaches can have on their athletes," said Spears, who transferred to Vanderbilt from Texas Tech.

"While I love the X's and O's and the strategy behind the game of basketball, I'm also interested in how basketball can be used as a platform to connect to the community, teach transferable skills like leadership and teamwork, and develop young people on and off the court to pursue their passions. I'd be honored one day to be a coach and provide opportunities to young women, just as my coaches have done for me."

In order to be considered as a candidate for the "So" program, players have to be nominated by their head coach. Each participant is selected based on her academics, contributions to women's basketball on and off the court and professional résumé, along with other criteria.

WHALEN DOING HER PART

Erin Whalen has been doing some big things for the Commodores in the past few weeks.

Although she was limited to two points in the loss to South Carolina, the 6-1 freshman has averaged 10.9 points and 3.9 rebounds over the past eight games after averaging only 1.4 points and 0.8 rebounds in the first five SEC games.

Making her first career start against Alabama (1/26), she scored a game-high 22 points to fuel Vanderbilt's 87-80 win.

Whalen is shooting 41.0 percent from long range for the season.

WALKER SLOWED BY INJURIES

Freshman Cierra Walker continues to be slowed by stress reactions in both of her feet.

Walker was limited to just two minutes of playing time in Monday's win over LSU.

Prior to that game, the freshman from Oregon had missed four of the past five games.

Walker leads the team in assists per game (3.1) and her assist-to-turnover ratio (2.3) ranks fourth in the SEC.

HOLDING FIRM

After making numerous adjustments to the starting lineup during the first three months of the season, Vanderbilt head coach Stephanie White has used the same combination for the past six games.

The group features two seniors (Marques Webb and Minta Spears) and three freshmen (Kaleigh Clemons-Green, Kayla Overbeck and Erin Whalen).

For the season, the Commodores have used seven different starting lineups and 10 of the 12 players on Vanderbilt's roster have started at least one game.

Good things come in 3s for the Commodores

★ Vanderbilt ranks No. 5 in the nation in 3-point accuracy at 39.3 percent

★ The Commodores are averaging an SEC-best 7.2 three-pointers per game

THE BOMB SQUAD

	3FG/3FGA	PCT
K. Clemons-Green	18-39	46.2
Christa Reed	35-75	46.7
Rebekah Dahlman	25-56	44.6
Erin Whalen	32-78	41.0
Rachel Bell	33-83	39.8
Cierra Walker	31-88	35.2

44.2 3-point percentage by the Commodores in their 12 wins this season

4 Vanderbilt players shooting 40 percent or better from 3-point range this season.

53.1 Christa Reed's 3-point percentage in SEC games. The junior guard has made 17-of-32 attempts from behind the arc during the Commodores' SEC games.

6 Games in which the Commodores have made 10 or 3-pointers this season, including three games in SEC play.

Surging Overbeck leads all SEC freshmen in rebounds

Freshman forward Kayla Overbeck has been a force for the Commodores throughout the season, and in the past month, she has taken her game to an even higher level. Overbeck, who is the SEC's top rebounder among freshmen, is averaging a team-high 10.4 points and 7.9 rebounds in the past 10 games.

In the road loss to Kentucky on Feb. 5, Overbeck scored a season-high 19 points and collected a team-high 11 rebounds to notch her second consecutive double-double. She has posted six double-doubles on the season, four of which have come in SEC play. Overbeck is shooting 53.0 percent from the field for the season, second on the team behind Marques Webb (53.6).

Beyond the Court

Commodores spend day doing farm work for food project

The Vanderbilt WBB team had a day off from practice on Jan. 31, but the Commodores still put in some work. And they were glad to do it.

Showing their continued commitment to being involved in the community, the Commodores volunteered at the Hands On Nashville farm, harvesting vegetables for The Nashville Food Project.

"It was a lot of hard work, but we really enjoyed it," said Vanderbilt freshman guard Kaleigh Clemons-Green.

"For me, it was a totally new experience because I haven't really been exposed to the organic side of life. But I was so glad that I was able to be a part of it. It took me out of my comfort zone -- in a good way."

Hands On Nashville is an organization that works to meet community needs through volunteerism. Annually, Hands On Nashville connects thousands of volunteers to support the needs of schools, nonprofits, community centers, libraries and more. As Middle Tennessee's volunteer resource center, Hands On Nashville builds stronger communities through service.

The Vanderbilt WBB players did their part by helping winterize the farm, which included pulling up bermuda grass, making new walkways, and harvesting turnips and carrots.

"It was a great experience," said senior guard Minta Spears, "and I have a new appreciation for the people of Hands on Nashville."

It was awesome to see how what we helped with will go directly to people in the Nashville community through the Nashville Food Project."

LAST SEASON'S GAME: SOUTH CAROLINA 71, VANDERBILT 61 (Jan. 7, 2016)

Rebels rally past Vanderbilt in Oxford; 'Dores get even in tourney

Vanderbilt and Ole Miss split a pair of games last season, with the Rebels posting a 55-52 win in Oxford and the Commodores rolling to a 74-59 victory in the opening round of the SEC Tournament in Jacksonville, Fla.

Here's a look at the two games:

Ole Miss 55, Vanderbilt 52 (Jan. 3, 2016):

Ole Miss junior Erika Sisk converted a 3-point play with 1.5 seconds remaining as the Rebels sent the Commodores to a stinging 55-52 loss in the SEC opener for both teams last season. Ole Miss outscored Vanderbilt 20-5 during the final 7:03 of the fourth quarter to earn the comeback win in the last-ever basketball game played at Tad Smith Coliseum.

Vanderbilt owned a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter and a five-point lead with 2:02 remaining but couldn't hold on.

The Commodores committed 26 turnovers in the loss, including two crucial miscues in the final 48 seconds. The second turnover in that stretch set up Sisk's game-winning basket, which gave Ole Miss the lead for the first time since the opening minute of the game.

Sisk finished with a game-high 18 points. Christa Reed scored 16 to lead the Commodores.

Vanderbilt 74, Ole Miss 59 (March 2, 2016):

Fueled by an explosive shooting performance from Christa Reed, the No. 11-seeded Commodores opened last season's SEC Tournament with a convincing 74-59 victory over No. 14 Ole Miss in Jacksonville, Fla.

Reed finished 8-of-10 from the floor, including 4-of-5 from 3-point range, while scoring a game-high 21 points for Vanderbilt.

Minta Spears and Marqu'ees Webb had 13 points each and Morgan Batey added 10 for the Commodores, who roared out to an 18-2 lead in the first quarter, owned a 42-19 lead at the half, and were up by as many as 33 points in the third quarter.

Ole Miss put together a 20-0 run down the stretch but the surge was not nearly enough for the Rebels, who never trimmed the Commodores' lead to less than 13 points.

Vanderbilt finished 7-of-10 from 3-point range.

LAST-MINUTE DECISIONS

Detailing Vanderbilt's close games in conference play

The Commodores have had a series of close games since the start of conference play, including losing five games that were decided by a combined 21 points -- an average margin of 4.2 points. In all five of those games, Vanderbilt was either in the lead, tied or trailing by three points or less entering the final minute. Vanderbilt reversed that trend against LSU, however, as the Commodores rallied for a 70-68 victory at Memorial Gym. Here's a closer look at the Commodores' close calls this season:

Vanderbilt 70, LSU 68 (Feb. 13)

The lowdown: The Commodores trailed 59-50 early in the fourth quarter before closing the game on a 20-9 run to steal the win.

With one minute remaining: Vanderbilt trailed 68-67.

How it unfolded: Following a timeout, Minta Spears found Rebekah Dahlman open in the corner, and Dahlman knocked down a 3-pointer to give Vanderbilt the lead with 27 seconds to play. LSU then had two more possessions, but came up empty each time, including missing two shots in the final six seconds.

Arkansas 59, Vanderbilt 56 (Jan. 19)

The lowdown: Vanderbilt owned a 48-41 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but couldn't hold off the Razorbacks in the final 10 minutes.

With one minute remaining: The score was tied 56-56.

How it unfolded: Neither team made a field goal in the final 60 seconds, but Arkansas went 3-of-4 at the foul line to build a 59-56 lead, and Vanderbilt's Rachel Bell missed a desperation 3-pointer at the buzzer on the Commodores' final possession.

Missouri 74, Vanderbilt 68 (Jan. 15)

The lowdown: In a typically intense SEC game, Vanderbilt and Missouri battled through 16 ties and 12 lead changes. The Commodores held a three-point lead with 2:15 remaining in the fourth quarter, but Missouri closed the game on a 13-4 run, which included Amber Smith's pivotal 3-pointer with 1:17 to go that put the Tigers on top.

With one minute remaining: Vanderbilt trailed 66-64.

How it unfolded: Rachel Bell's potential go-ahead 3-pointer spun off the rim with 57 seconds to play. Missouri then made eight free throws down the stretch to hold off the Commodores.

Auburn 64, Vanderbilt 59 (Jan. 12)

The lowdown: After building a 17-point lead in the third quarter, the Commodores struggled late against Auburn's pressure defense, and Tigers closed the game on an 18-8 run over the final 6:54 to grab the win.

With one minute remaining: Vanderbilt trailed 61-59.

How it unfolded: Vanderbilt's Rebekah Dahlman missed a 3-pointer with 46 seconds to go, and Cierra Walker missed a 3-pointer with 29 seconds to play. Auburn's Brandy Montgomery went 3-of-4 from the foul line in the final 21 seconds to seal the win for the Tigers.

Georgia 70, Vanderbilt 68 (Jan. 8)

The lowdown: Stephanie Paul's short jumper with three-tenths of a second to play was the game-winner for Georgia. The Commodores, who owned a 13-point lead early in the second quarter, made just 18-of-30 attempts from the foul line in the loss.

With one minute remaining: Vanderbilt led 68-65.

How it unfolded: Georgia scored the game's last five points, beginning with a game-tying three-point play with 54 seconds remaining. Vanderbilt then missed a contested layup on its ensuing possession, and Paul hit the game winner on UGA's next possession.

Texas A&M 77, Vanderbilt 72 (Jan. 2)

The lowdown: Vanderbilt led by as much as 13 points in the third quarter and owned a seven-point lead going into the fourth quarter. But the Commodores were outscored 27-15 in the final 10 minutes.

With one minute remaining: Vanderbilt trailed 72-69.

How it unfolded: The Commodores pulled within 73-72 after freshman Erin Whalen knocked down a 3-pointer with 33 seconds to play, but Vanderbilt didn't score again the rest of the way. The Aggies sealed the win with four straight free throws.

Beyond the Court

3-pointers mean more this season

Head coach Stephanie White and the Vanderbilt women's basketball team announce that they are teaming up with Papa John's to support the Make-A-Wish Foundation during all home basketball games for the remainder of the season.

Each time that the Commodores make a 3-pointer at Memorial Gym, Papa John's will make a $100 donation to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

At the final home game of the season, the Commodores will present a check to the Make-A-Wish Foundation to help a grant a wish to a child dealing with illness, and head coach Stephanie White will match the donation with one of her own.

"We are truly honored to have the opportunity to support the Make-A-Wish foundation, and we are thrilled to be partnering with Papa John's in this initiative," said White. "Our coaches and players know that we can make an impact in ways that are bigger than basketball, and teaming up with Make-A-Wish is a perfect example of that."

Lynn McQuillen, Operations Vice President of Papa John's, said: "Papa John's is honored to partner with Vanderbilt Women's Basketball and Make-A-Wish by offering the Make-A-Wish Special, a fundraising offer that is available now through Feb. 23."

Hipps selected as SEC Tournament Co-Chair

Former Vanderbilt great Caroline (Williams) Hipps has been named the Co-Chair of the 2018 SEC Tournament, which will be held in Nashville.

Hipps, who played for the Commodores from 2004-07, was one of the most accurate 3-point shooters in the history of women's college basketball.

Williams shot 46.5 percent from 3-point range (238-of-512) in her career, which is the best in SEC history and ranks No. 5 on the NCAA's all-time list for career 3-point percentage.

Williams remains close with the WBB program, and was a member of the search committee that paved the way for the hiring of head coach Stephanie White. Hipps also served as a color analyst for the Commodores' home games on SEC Network Plus during the 2014-15 season.

MOST RECENT GAME: SOUTH CAROLINA 82, VANDERBILT 51

Feb. 16, 2017 • Columbia, S.C. • Colonial Life Center

Gamecocks use fast start to sail past Commodores

No. 6 Gamecocks sprint out to early 20-3 lead, stretch winning streak against VU to eight

The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, S.C. -- Kaela Davis and Alaina Coates each scored 15 points to help No. 6 South Carolina beat Vanderbilt 82-51 on Thursday night.

A'ja Wilson added 10 points and eight rebounds for the Gamecocks, who rebounded nicely from Monday's loss to top-ranked UConn by defeating Vanderbilt for the eighth consecutive time.

Christa Reed finished with 11 points and Minta Spears had 10 for Vanderbilt. Marquès Webb had 12 rebounds before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

South Carolina (22-3, 12-1) outscored Vanderbilt 50-10 in the paint.

Vanderbilt (12-14, 2-11) shot just 22.6 percent from the floor and were limited to 12 field goals for the game (finishing 12-of-53). Vanderbilt was just 4-of-18 from 3-point range, but went 23-of-28 from the foul line.

The Gamecocks never trailed in the game. They opened the first quarter on a 20-3 run, and led 23-6 at the end of the period. The Commodores had 10 turnovers and attempted just 10 shots in the first 10 minutes, and were outscored 16-0 in the paint during the quarter.

Vanderbilt climbed back into the game by putting together an 11-2 run early in the second quarter to trim South Carolina's lead to 27-17. The surge started with a pair of free throws by Lealea Carter and was capped by a jumper from Spears at the 5:31 mark of the quarter.

South Carolina, however, answered back with a 12-2 spurt -- which began with a jumper by Davis and ended with a 3-pointer by Bianca Cuevas-Moore -- to rebuild a 20-point lead, 39-19, with 2:17 to play in the first half. Vanderbilt never got closer than 18 points the rest of the way.

NASHVILLE (AP) --Vanderbilt's new-look offense hit a couple of speed bumps Friday night, but it was mostly a smooth ride for the Commodores in Stephanie White's debut as head coach.

Paced by Rebekah Dahlman's 19 points, Vanderbilt rolled to an 86-54 victory over Kennesaw State in the season opener for both teams. The Commodores scored almost half their points from behind the 3-point arc, making 14 shots from long range in the win.

Marqu'ees Webb had a big night for the Commodores (1-0) inside, going 6-of-6 from the floor and producing a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds.

Vanderbilt committed 18 turnovers, but shoot the ball effectively enough to overcome the miscues.

The Commodores were 8-of-11 from 3-point range in the second half -- 72.7 percent -- and finished 14-of-26 (53.8 percent) for the game. Overall, 10 players reached the scoring column for Vanderbilt, and the Commodores compiled 24 assists on 31 field goals.

It was just the type of offensive performance that White was expected to bring to Vanderbilt in her inaugural season.

After spending the past two seasons as the head coach of the WNBA's Indiana Fever, she is implementing an up-tempo style with the Commodores, who sprinted out to a 23-12 lead at the end of the first quarter against the Owls (0-1) and stretched the lead to 42-20 at the half.

Clara Young and Allison Johnson finished with 15 points each to pace Kennesaw State.

Vanderbilt's touted five-member freshmen class combined for 38 points in their Commodore debuts: Erin Whalen had 11 points, Kaleigh Clemmons-Green had nine, LeaLea Carter had seven, Cierra Walker had six and Kayla Overbeck had five. combined to hit just 8 of 34 shots.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. -- Stephanie White picked a tough place -- even though it was familiar territory -- to have her first road game as head coach at Vanderbilt.

Traveling to Bloomington, Ind., the Commodores suffered a 94-61 loss to the No. 23 Hoosiers on Sunday afternoon. It was the 16th consecutive home win for the Hoosiers, who went 14-0 at Assembly Hall last season.

Indiana's Alexis Gassion scored a team-high 22 points and Amanda Cahill added 17 for the Hoosiers (2-0). For Vanderbilt (1-1), Rachel Bell had 11 points and Marqu'ees Webb had nine before fouling out.

White, the first-year Vanderbilt head coach, had a big gathering of friends, family and fans at the game. She came to Vanderbilt after spending the past six seasons with the WNBA's Indiana Fever, including the past two as head coach. She also was a fan favorite in Indiana during her playing career, when she was Miss Indiana Basketball as a high school player and was the national player of the year during her career at Purdue.

But Sunday's homecoming didn't go as well as White had hoped for her young Commodores, who have five freshmen that are seeing significant playing time. Vanderbilt shot just 36 percent from the floor, and never owned the lead in the game.

"We didn't play very relaxed basketball today," said White. "Indiana is a very good team, and they played exceptionally well in the second half. But have to do a better job of playing our game, and not letting the opponent dictate the game."

With Webb and Bell providing the bulk of the scoring punch, the Commodores stayed within striking distance for much of the first half, and trailed only 35-31 after a bucket by Webb with 4:40 to play in the second quarter.

Then Indiana made its move.

The Hoosiers put together a quick 13-4 run -- which featured a 3-point play by Gassion and a three-pointer by Cahill -- to extend the lead to 48-35, and the Hoosiers carried a 50-38 lead into the locker room.

Indiana then opened the second half with a 12-0 surge, fueled by three 3-pointers, to take command, 62-38. Overall, it was a 27-7 run by the Hoosiers.

NASHVILLE -- The Vanderbilt freshmen continue to be impressive, but it was an upperclassmen who made the biggest impact in the Commodores win on Wednesday night.

Rebekah Dahlman, a redshirt junior, scored a career-high 25 points -- including going 15-of-18 at the foul line -- to help Vanderbilt fight off Drexel, 73-63, at Memorial Gym. The Commodores closed the game on a 10-1 run over the final 2:28 to stretch a one-point lead into the double-digit victory.

Marqu'es Webb finished with 12 rebounds, and freshman Kayla Overbeck had 10 points and six rebounds for Vanderbilt (2-1), which bounced back in strong fashion from Sunday's 94-61 road loss to No. 23 Indiana. Sarah Curran scored 19 points for Drexel (2-1), and Jessica Pellechio had 18.

Dahlman battled flu-like symptoms earlier in the week and had to miss practice. But she showed no signs of illness against Drexel, logging 33 minutes of playing time and filling up the stat sheet with six rebounds and five assists to go with her 25 points.

Christa Reed added 10 points, including a couple of big baskets in the fourth quarter that helped the Commodores hold off the Dragons.

Drexel finished 9-of-35 from 3-point range (25.7 percent). The Dragons finished just 2-of-3 at the line in the loss.

Vanderbilt fell behind 11-2 in the first 3½ minutes of the first quarter and trailed 19-15 at the end of period. The Dragons owned an eight-point lead late in the second quarter, but the Commodores closed the period on a 10-0 run to take a 34-32 lead at the half. Overbeck capped the surge with a short jumper with six seconds remaining in the period to give Vanderbilt its first lead of the night.

That set the stage for an intense second half during which the teams were never separated by more than five points until the final three minutes. Drexel took a one-point lead on two occasions in the fourth quarter, and the Dragons trailed only 63-62 with 2:28 to play.

Dahlman then provided one of the night's biggest plays when she converted a 3-point play with 1:39 remaining to extend Vanderbilt's lead to 66-62. The Commodores sealed the win by making 7-of-8 free throws in the final 51 seconds. Vanderbilt finished 22-of-29 at the foul line.

NASHVILLE -- The Vanderbilt women faced a distinctive height disadvantage on Sunday. But it didn't prevent the Commodores from winning the rebounding battle -- or, more importantly, from winning the game.

Hosting a Duke team that has size to spare, the Commodores made a series of big plays down the stretch and notched a 77-73 victory over the previously undefeated Devils.

Christa Reed scored a game-high 19 points, and Marqu'es Webb added 10 points and matched her career high with 13 rebounds -- her third double-digit rebounding effort of the season -- for the Commodores (3-1). Cierra Walker and Rachel Bell had 12 points each, and Rebekah Dahlman had 11.

Lexie Brown led Duke (4-1) with 21 points, and Rebecca Greenwell added 17 for the RV/RV Devils.

The game was tied 71-71 after a pair of free throws by Brown with 1:16 to play in the fourth quarter. From there, the Commodores' defense came up huge -- including a pivotal steal by Reed with 1:01 to go -- to help Vanderbilt get to the finish line.

Webb hit a pair of free throws with 48 seconds left to give Vanderbilt a 73-71 lead, and the Commodores stayed in front of there. Vanderbilt secured the win with a couple of big rebounds, one on the defensive end by Webb with 26 seconds to play, followed by an offensive rebound by Walker -- after her own missed free throw -- with 23 seconds to go.

The Commodores made only 4-of-8 free throws in the final 23 seconds, but that proved to be just enough.

Neither team made a field goal in the final 2:06 of the fourth quarter.

Vanderbilt, which led 35-32 at the half, earned the win in large part due to a relentless effort on the glass. The Commodores collected 18 offensive rebounds in the game, and out-rebounded Duke 43-34 overall despite being outsized.

Duke had five players see action who are listed as 6-2 or taller, including a pair of 6-4 players (Oderah Chidom and Erin Mathias) in the starting lineup. Vanderbilt, by comparison, doesn't have any players taller than 6-1 on the roster.

NASHVILLE -- It hasn't taken long for first-year head coach Stephanie White and the five freshmen on her roster to catch on to the concept of Memorial Magic.

With a 75-59 victory over Robert Morris on Tuesday, the Commodores (4-1) grabbed their third home victory in the span off six days -- a stretch that also included wins over Duke and Drexel -- and improved to 4-0 at home overall.

The game, which was the first-ever meeting between Vanderbilt and Robert Morris (3-2), tipped off at 11:30 a.m. as the Commodores held their annual Education Day contest. A large collection of local schools attended the game.

Rachel Bell scored a game-high 20 points for Vanderbilt, and freshman Kayla Overbeck added 15 points, finishing 7-of-8 from the floor. Rebekah Dahlman had 11 points and Marqu'es Webb pulled down a game-high eight rebounds.

Vanderbilt has now won 13 consecutive non-conference games at Memorial Gym, and has posted a 49-3 record against non-con foes since the start of the 2010-11 campaign. Dating back to the start of the 2002-03 season, VU owns a 99-8 record on its home floor in regular-season, non-conference games, including an 18-1 mark since the start of the 2014-15 season.

Tuesday's win was methodical in nature, with the Commodores building a seven-point lead at the end of the first quarter and then gradually extending the lead from there. Vanderbilt led 38-26 at the half and built its largest lead of the game, 51-33, near the midway mark of the third quarter. Vanderbilt maintained a double-digit lead the rest of the way.

The Commodores shot the ball effectively, especially from long range and at the foul line. They finished 12-of-14 from the foul line (85.7 percent) and were 9-of-21 behind the arc (42.9 percent). Vanderbilt shot 48 percent from the floor overall.

Robert Morris senior guard Anna Niki Stamolamprou, the No. 5 all-time scorer in the Colonials' history, finished with a team-high 18 points. Stamolamprou, who came into the game averaging 15 points per contest, was 8-of-16 from the floor.

NASHVILLE -- With Sunday's game hanging in the balance, Rachel Bell came up big -- on both ends of the floor.

Bell scored 14 points in the fourth quarter and also came up with a crucial blocked shot in the final five seconds to help Vanderbilt escape past UT Martin, 79-77. Bell finished with a team-high 22 points for the Commodores (5-1), who won their fourth straight game.

Bell made 5-of-6 shots from the floor in the fourth quarter, including 4-of-5 from 3-point range.

Rebekah Dahlman finished with 17 points while helping Vanderbilt stretch its winning streak in the series to 11 games. The Commodores finished 13-of-22 from 3-point range.

Emanye Robertson scored a game-high 23 points for UT Martin (1-5).

The Commodores owned a 76-70 lead with 2:38 to play after two free throws by Christa Reed, but UT Martin used a 7-2 run to pull within 78-77 with 39 seconds left. UT Martin's Kendall Spray, who is ranked among the national leaders in 3-point proficiency, appeared to have an open look from long range with five seconds remaining, but Bell stepped up and blocked the shot.

Vanderbilt's Cierra Walker then hit the back end of two free throws with 1.1 seconds remaining to give the Commodores a 79-77 lead. On UT Martin's final possession, Emanye Robertson missed a contested shot under the basket.

"I am proud of our team for gutting it out and finding a way to win," said first-year head coach Stephanie White, who posted her first road win with the Commodores. "This was a chance for us to learn and get better. And hopefully that's what we did."

The intense game featured 11 lead changes and five ties.

Vanderbilt appeared to be pulling away early in the second half, building a nine-point lead in the first two minutes of the third quarter. But UT Martin roared back to take a six-point lead early in the fourth quarter.

Bell then brought the Commodores back with a series of big shots. She made a pair of pivotal 3-pointers in the final six minutes, and her jumper in the paint with 50 seconds to play gave Vanderbilt a 78-74 lead.

USAF Academy, Colo. -- Freshman Erin Whalen was hot from the floor and fellow freshman Kayla Overbeck was hot from the foul line on Friday night. Together they helped lead Vanderbilt to a 75-49 win over Air Force in the opening round of the Air Force Classic.

Whalen finished 7-of-8 from the floor and scored a season-high 19 points. Overbeck added 15 points, making 11-of-13 free throws, and hauled in seven rebounds to help the Commodores (6-1) extend their winning streak to five games. Whalen fouled out in the fourth quarter, but by then, the Commodores were in command.

Rachel Bell finished with 10 points and six rebounds. Kailin Davis had with 17 points for Air Force (1-6).

The Commodores owned a 34-23 lead at the half and then opened the second half with a quick 6-0 run to extend the lead to 17. Vanderbilt went on to outscore Air Force 24-14 in the period to build a 58-37 lead, with Whalen capping the quarter with a buzzer-beating 3-pointer from the corner.

"I was much more pleased with our energy in the second half," said first-year head coach Stephanie White. "And as for Erin, she had a good week of practice, and I was really happy to see that carry over to the game tonight. She played really well."

Vanderbilt's Marqu'es Webb had a game-high eight rebounds, including pulling down the 500th of her career early in the first quarter.

Whalen filled out the stat sheet with five rebounds, two steals and an assist to go with her 19 points.

The Commodores -- playing without leading scorer Rebekah Dahlman (hamstring injury) -- shot just 33 percent from the floor in the first half and 42 percent for the game. They were especially cold from long range, making just 2-of-11 shots. But Vanderbilt made up for that at the foul line, finishing 27-of-32 (84.4 percent) to continue their season-long trend of effective work from the line.

The Commodore defense also played a key role in the victory, limiting Air Force to just 27 percent shooting.

The teams combined for 57 free throws in the game, with VU making 27-of-32 and Air Force going 15-of-25.

USAF Academy, Colo. --- Fueled by freshman Cierra Walker's explosive performance, the Vanderbilt women captured the first championship of the Stephanie White Era on Saturday afternoon.

Vanderbilt fans hope, and expect, there will be many more to come.

Walker scored 21 points, making 5-of-7 shots from 3-point range, to help the Commodores defeat Southern Illinois-Edwardsville 73-63 in the championship game of the Air Force Classic.

Walker also had a season-high six rebounds and added four assists while logging 37 minutes of playing time for the Commodores (7-1), who stretched their winning streak to six games.

Vanderbilt closed the game on a 9-1 run in the final 2:03 to pull away from the Cougars (2-5) in a tight contest that featured nine lead changes and eight ties.

The Commodores finished 12-of-25 from 3-point range. Walker played a big role in the outside attack, including going 4-of-6 from long range in the first half.

Three other Commodores also reached double figures in the win: Christa Reed had 13 points, Erin Whalen added 12 and Rachel Bell had 10. Whalen and Bell both made the All-Tournament team.

Donshel Beck had 14 points for SIUE (2-5). Marqu'es Webb had 10 rebounds for the Commodores.

Vanderbilt committed 18 turnovers and lost the rebounding battle, 47-37, including surrendering 23 offensive boards to the Cougars. But the Commodores were able to offset those issues with the strong outside shooting.

"I was very disappointed in our effort and our energy in the first half," said White, the first-year head coach. "But I was pleased to see that we found a way to win. We've got some things that we need to clean up, but it's a process."

Perhaps the biggest 3-pointer of the game belonged to Bell, who knocked down a jumper from the corner with 1:13 to play to give Vanderbilt a 69-62 lead. Reed also made a key 3-pointer near the midway mark of the fourth quarter to help the Commodores fend off SIUE.

NASHVILLE -- Tulane's Kolby Morgan had a big night, but it was the Vanderbilt players who hit the biggest shots in the fourth quarter. Erupting for 30 points in the final 10 minutes, the Commodores downed Tulane 74-63 on Monday night and extended their winning streak to seven games. Rachel Bell scored 14 points to lead five players in double figures for Vanderbilt (8-1), and Marqu'es Webb pulled down a career-high 15 rebounds.

Morgan poured in 34 points, going 14-of-26 from the floor, for Tulane (5-3). She also had seven rebounds and five steals. But Vanderbilt overcame Morgan's heroics by generating a dominating second-half performance, during which the Commodores outscored Tulane 48-30.

Vanderbilt was especially sharp in the fourth quarter, making 10-of-17 shots from the floor, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range. For the period, Vanderbilt outscored Tulane, 30-18.

The Commodores trailed by as many as 10 points in the first half and were down 45-44 entering the fourth quarter. But Cierra Walker's 3-point-er in the opening minute of the fourth quarter gave Vanderbilt the lead for good.

Christa Reed finished with 13 points and Walker had 12 points, going 4-of-7 from 3-point range.

Kayla Overbeck added 11 points and eight rebounds, and Erin Whalen scored 10 points and had a team-high four assists for the Commodores, who were playing their third game in the span of four days. (Vanderbilt won the Air Force Classic on Saturday with a win over SIUE after defeating Air Force on Friday).

Vanderbilt's defense limited Tulane to 37 percent shooting from the floor (26-of-70). The Green Wave entered the night shooting 48 percent from the floor -- which ranked among the top 15 in the nation. The Commodores also kept Tulane off the free throw line, as the Green Wave finished just 4-of-6.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. -- Freshman Kayla Overbeck had 18 points and 13 rebounds -- establishing new career highs in both categories -- to help Vanderbilt earn an 80-72 road win over ETSU on Thursday night.

The victory enabled the Commodores (9-1) to extend their winning streak to eight games.

Christa Reed scored a team-high 20 points and Rachel Bell added 19 for the Commodores, who withstood an explosive performance by ETSU's Tianna Tarter. The junior guard scored a game-high 35 points, going 15-of-28 from the floor, for the Bucs (5-5).

Vanderbilt dominated the glass during the comeback victory, winning the rebounding battle 53-27.

The Commodores trailed by as many as 12 points in the first quarter and were behind 50-43 with 6:58 left in the third. But Vanderbilt charged back with a 14-2 run -- which started with a jumper and a 3-pointer from Cierra Walker -- to take a 57-52 lead with 1:07 left in the quarter.

Miaya Seawright helped fuel the surge with a 3-pointer from the corner that gave the Commodores their first lead of the night, 51-50, with 4:53 remaining in the period.

After a pair of lead changes, Vanderbilt carried a 59-57 lead into the fourth quarter, and the Commodores stayed in front from there, outscoring ETSU 21-15 in the final 10 minutes. Vanderbilt made just four field goals in the fourth quarter, but went 12-of-15 from the foul line. VU finished 25-of-31 from the foul line for the game, while ETSU was 8-of-19.

Overbeck scored eight points and pulled down five rebounds in the fourth quarter, and Reed went 5-of-6 from the foul line in the final 10 minutes to help the Commodores secure the win.

For the night, Vanderbilt's bench outscored ETSU's reserves, 30-4.

The Commodores now have a long break for exams before playing their next game on Dec. 18, hosting Tennessee Tech.

NASHVILLE (AP) -- Myisha Hines-Allen, the ACC player of the year last season and preseason pick to repeat, scored 24 points and had a career-high 15 rebounds to help No. 8-ranked Louisville hold off Vanderbilt 78-66.

"That's something that we're going to need," Louisville coach Jeff Walz said. "She has the ability to do that every night. I mean that's what she did the entire ACC season all last year. Now we're going to need that consistency from her."

Rachel Bell scored 21 points for Vanderbilt (10-2), which saw its nine-game winning streak end. Cierra Walker added 12 points, and LeaLea Carter and Kayla Overbeck each had 10.

Walker opened the fourth with a 3-pointer that pulled Vanderbilt within 58-56. But Hines-Allen scored the next five points as Louisville (12-2) finally got some breathing room against the Commodores. Louisville pushed the lead to double digits on a layup by Durr with 44 seconds left.

Hines-Allen had 12 rebounds and hit six of eight shots by halftime, and she played 39 minutes in helping Louisville win its sixth straight. She notched her third double-double in the past seven games. Now the Cardinals can have a few days off before their ACC opener on Dec. 29.

"It feels good going into this break and just knowing that we have Syracuse coming back up, so we can't get too lackadaisical on this break," Hines-Allen said. "We still have to work and get better because there are some things we have to improve on."

Asia Durr added 16 points for the Cardinals.

The teams swapped the lead four times in the opening minutes before Briahanna Jackson's layup broke a 7-7 tie with 7 minutes to go to give Louisville the lead for good.

Bell scored eight straight, including the first seven of the third quarter, to pull Vanderbilt within 48-45. Sydney Zambrotta hit a 3-pointer for Louisville's first bucket of the quarter with 7:24 to go to pad the lead. Louisville led 58-53 after an ugly third quarter when the teams combined to hit just 8 of 34 shots.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Hampered by foul trouble and uncharacteristic cold shooting, the Vanderbilt women suffered a 75-59 road loss to Memphis on Wednesday.

The Commodores (10-3), playing their final non-conference game before SEC play, shot just 35 percent from the floor, including going 4-of-13 (30 percent) from 3-point range. Vanderbilt came into the game shooting an SEC-best 41 percent from behind the arc.

Kayla Overbeck, Cierra Walker, Erin Whalen and Kaleigh Clemons-Green all fouled out for the Commodores, who trailed 43-27 at the half and were unable to cut the deficit under 10 in the second half.

Cheyenne Creighton had 26 points and 13 rebounds, new career highs in both categories, for Memphis (7-6). Whalen finished with a team-high 14 points for Vanderbilt.

Memphis missed 20 free throws -- finishing 14-of-34 -- but made up for it with some surprisingly effective outside shooting, making 7-of-16 shots from 3-point range. The Tigers came into the game shooting just 26 percent from behind the arc for the season, and were averaging only 3.0 three-pointers per game.

Three Memphis players combined to score 55 of the Tigers' 75 points. In addition to Creighton's 26 points, Brea Elmore added 18 and Breigha Wilder-Cochran added 11.

The Commodores collected just six offensive rebounds, and five of those came in the fourth quarter.

Memphis put together an early 14-0 run to build a 16-4 lead with 3:32 left in the first quarter and owned a 43-27 lead at the half. Vanderbilt used a 10-3 surge to trim the margin to 47-37 with 3:40 to play in the third quarter, but Memphis pushed the lead back to 14 at the end of the quarter, and never allowed Vanderbilt to get closer than 12 points in the final 10 minutes.

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas A&M used a balanced scoring attack and a big fourth-quarter surge to down Vanderbilt, 77-72, on Monday night.

Five players finished in double figures for the Aggies (11-3, 1-0), led by Anriel Howard and Jasmine Lumpkin with 17 points each.

Texas A&M outscored Vanderbilt 27-15 in the final 10 minutes to erase the Commodores' seven-point lead and send Vanderbilt (10-4, 0-1) to its third straight loss.

Freshman Kayla Overbeck had 13 points and seven rebounds for Vanderbilt and fellow freshman Kaleigh Clemons-Green added a career-high 13 points. Christa Reed and Rachel Bell had 10 each for the Commodores in the SEC debut for head coach Stephanie White.

Vanderbilt trailed by six in the fourth quarter but battled back to trim the deficit to 73-72 on a 3-pointer by Erin Whalen with 32 seconds to play. But that proved to be the final points for the Commodores, and Texas A&M sealed the deal with four straight free throws.

The Commodores led by as much as 13 points early in the third quarter, but Texas A&M chipped away for the remainder of the period and then put together a surge in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter to move in front.

Vanderbilt owned a 35-26 lead at the half, thanks in large part to some impressive play from the Commodore freshmen, who combined for 26 points in the first 20 minutes. Overbeck lead the way, going 5-of-7 from the floor and scoring 12 points.

The Commodores trailed 18-17 early in the second quarter, but closed the period on an 18-8 run to build a nine-point halftime lead. Cierra Walker capped the first half with a long 3-pointer in the final 10 seconds.

NASHVILLE -- Unable to overcome a cold-shooting first quarter, the Vanderbilt women fell to rival Tennessee, 70-57, on Thursday night at Memorial Gym.

The Commodores (10-5, 0-2), who dropped their fourth straight game, made just 3-of-14 shots from the floor in the opening 10 minutes, and trailed 20-7 at the end of first quarter. Vanderbilt played even with the Lady Vols (10-4, 2-0) the rest of the way, but could not erase the early deficit.

All five starters finished in double figures for the Lady Vols, who won their sixth straight game. Diamond DeShields led Tennessee with 16 points and Mercedes Russell posted a double-double with 15 points and 13 rebounds.

Jaime Nared added 12 points, Jordan Reynolds had 11 and Meme Jackson had 10 to help the Lady Vols defeat the Commodores for the sixth consecutive time.

For Vanderbilt, freshman LeaLea Carter continued her recent surge. She scored a game-high 17 points, representing her third double-digit showing in the past five games. Fellow freshman Cierra Walker added 10 points, and Marqu'es Webb had 11 rebounds and five points.

The Commodores finished just 19-of-55 from the floor (34.5 percent) and were forced into 21 turnovers while being held to their lowest point total of the season.

Tennessee also endured a tough night from the floor, going 22-of-62 (35.5 percent). But the Lady Vols were 21-of-27 at the foul line (77.8 percent), compared to Vanderbilt's 14-of-22 (63.6).

ATHENS, Ga. -- Stephanie Paul's short jumper with three-tenths of a second to play was the difference maker for Georgia on Sunday afternoon. But that's not the only shot that will haunt Vanderbilt in its 70-68 loss in Athens.

The Commodores, normally one of the SEC's best free-throw shooting teams, made just 18-of-30 attempts from the line, and the missed opportunities proved costly, as Vanderbilt (10-6, 0-3) dropped its fifth straight game.

Shanea Armbrister finished with a team-high 18 points for Georgia (10-6, 2-1), and Pachis Roberts added 13 points and nine rebounds. Paul came off the bench to score 12 points -- including the game-winner in the paint -- and Caliya Robinson had 10.

Kayla Overbeck and Marqu'es Webb had 12 points each for Vanderbilt. Cierra Walker and Rachel Bell added 10 points each.

Vanderbilt owned a 68-65 lead after an offensive putback by Webb with 1:18 to play in the fourth quarter, but Georgia scored the game's final five points, beginning with a three-point play by Roberts that tied the game with 54 seconds remaining.

Vanderbilt then missed a contested layup on its ensuing possession, and Georgia grabbed the rebound. The Lady Dogs held the ball for the last shot, and Paul got free in the lane to score the decisive basket just as the horn sounded, setting off a big celebration by the Georgia players and fans.

After watching a replay, the officials put three-tenths of a second back on the clock, but Vanderbilt was unable to get a shot off on the game's final play.

Vanderbilt finished 8-of-15 from 3-point range in the loss, and out-rebounded the Lady Bulldogs, 42-38, despite being outsized.

NASHVILLE -- The Vanderbilt women went cold at the wrong time Thursday night.

After building a 17-point lead in the third quarter, the Commodores struggled late against Auburn's pressure defense and suffered a 64-59 loss at Memorial Gym.

The Commodores (10-7, 0-4), who dropped their sixth straight game, were outscored 22-10 in the fourth quarter by the Tigers (13-5, 3-1). Vanderbilt made just 4-of-12 shots from the floor, including going 0-of-5 from 3-point range, in the final 10 minutes.

Janiah McKay's layup gave Auburn a 61-59 lead with 59 seconds to play, and the Tigers held on for the win by making 3-of-4 free throws down the stretch.

Freshman Kayla Overbeck finished with a double-double for Vanderbilt with 16 points and 10 rebounds. Auburn's Katie Frerking had a game-high 18 points, and Brandy Montgomery scored 14 of her 16 points in the fourth quarter to help fuel the Tigers' comeback.

Rachel Bell also scored 16 points for the Commodores, who led 53-46 with 6:54 to play in the fourth quarter before Auburn closed the game on an 18-8 run to steal the win. The Tigers have now won four straight against Vanderbilt, including the past three match-ups in Nashville.

"We saw glimpses tonight of the way we want to play," said Vanderbilt first-year head coach Stephanie White. "But we can't just keep making the same mistakes over and over again."

Auburn, which ranks No. 3 in the nation in turnovers forced per game, caused the Commodores to commit 24 turnovers. The disruptive defense enabled the Tigers to overcome a poor shooting performance. Auburn missed its first 13 attempts from 3-point range, and went just 2-of-17 from long range for the game.

NASHVILLE -- Vanderbilt and Missouri combined to attempt 52 shots from 3-point range on Sunday afternoon. So it was only fitting that the game's biggest shot came from long range.

With the Commodores owning a one-point lead with just over a minute to play, Missouri's Amber Smith knocked down a 3-pointer that gave the Tigers the lead for good in an eventual 74-68 victory over Vanderbilt.

Missouri (12-7, 2-3), which finished 13-of-28 from 3-point range, closed the game on a 13-4 run over the final 2:15 to send the Commodores (10-8, 0-5) to their seventh straight loss.

The game featured 16 ties and 12 lead changes, and the teams were never separated by more than six points after the first quarter.

Sierra Michaelis finished with a game-high 19 points for the Tigers, who snapped a three-game losing streak.

Freshman Kayla Overbeck led the Commodores with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Senior Marqu'les Webb also registered a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds for Vanderbilt, which went 10-of-24 from 3-point range in the loss.

The Commodores trailed 61-56 with 4:24 to play in the fourth quarter before putting together an 8-0 run -- capped by a pair of free throws by Webb -- to take a 64-61 lead with 2:15 to go. But Missouri answered with five quick points, including Smith's go-ahead 3-pointer with 1:17 to play, to take a 66-64 edge.

On Vanderbilt's ensuing possession, Rachel Bell's open 3-pointer spun off the rim, and Smith pulled the defensive rebound. Cierra Porter then made two free throws with 27 seconds remaining to push Missouri's lead to four, and the Tigers made six straight free throws down the stretch to seal the win.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. -- The Vanderbilt women were saddled with another last-minute loss on Thursday night.

Continuing a theme that has followed them since the start of conference play, the Commodores delivered a gritty effort but came up short on the scoreboard, falling to Arkansas, 59-56, at Bud Walton Arena. It was the eighth consecutive loss for Vanderbilt (10-9, 0-6).

The Commodores owned a 56-53 lead after a layup by Marqu'es Webb with 2:58 remaining, but Vanderbilt went scoreless the rest of the way, and Arkansas (13-6, 2-4) closed the game on a 6-0 run to steal the win.

Malica Monk made 1-of-2 free throws with 10.2 seconds remaining to give the Razorbacks a 57-56 lead. The Commodores then came up empty on their ensuing possession, and Arkansas' Devin Cosper hit two more free throws with four seconds to play to extend the Razorbacks' lead to 59-56.

On Vanderbilt's final possession, Rachel Bell's desperation 3-point attempt was off the mark as the buzzer sounded.

The Commodores' 0-6 mark in the conference has included five games that were decided by a combined 21 points. Each of the five defeats was decided in the game's final minute.

"We seem to get to a certain part of the ballgame where we just clam up," said head coach Stephanie White. "And the teams in this league are just waiting to pounce. Tonight, Arkansas made the hustle plays that made the difference in the game."

Jailyn Mason finished with a game-high 17 points for Arkansas, and Devin Cosper had 11.

Marqu'es Webb had a double-double for Vanderbilt, finishing with 10 points and 11 rebounds. Christa Reed had 12 points, and Bell added 11.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The Vanderbilt women had a tough start and a rough finish on Sunday during a 91-63 loss to rival Tennessee.

The Commodores (10-10, 0-7), who dropped their ninth straight game, were outscored 30-12 in the first quarter and were down 56-29 at the half. Vanderbilt used a late surge in the third quarter to narrow the deficit to 15 points, but the Lady Vols (12-7, 3-3) finished strong, outscoring Vanderbilt 25-12 in the final 10 minutes.

Tennessee has now won seven straight match-ups against Vanderbilt, and the Commodores fell to 0-32 all-time on the Lady Vols' home floor.

The Lady Vols opened the game with a 10-2 run, pushed the lead to 18-5 near the midway mark of the quarter, and owned a 25-7 advantage after a 3-pointer by Jaime Nared with 3:47 left in the period.

"Tennessee set the tone from the opening tip," said head coach Stephanie White. "That's what great teams do -- and Tennessee is a great team."

Diamond DeShields scored a game-high 23 points for the Lady Vols, and Alexa Middleton came off the bench to score 19. Nared added 17 points and Mercedes Russell had 15 points and nine rebounds.

Freshman Erin Whalen finished with 13 points, four rebounds, and three assists for the Commodores. Senior Marqu'es Webb had 13 points and seven rebounds, and freshman Kayla Overbeck had 12 points and eight rebounds.

Vanderbilt trailed 61-33 after a pair of free throws by Nared with 7:13 remaining in the third quarter. But the Commodores closed the period with an 18-5 run -- including a 12-2 spurt over the final 4:15 -- to trim the margin to 66-51. Whalen had seven points during the surge, including a 3-pointer.

DeShields then went to work for Tennessee, scoring the first six points of the fourth quarter to spark a 12-4 run that enabled the Lady Vols to push the lead to 78-55 with 5:02 to play.

NASHVILLE - Combining a hot-shooting start with a determined finish, the Vanderbilt women snapped a nine-game losing streak on Thursday night with an 87-80 victory over Alabama, giving head coach Stephanie White her first SEC win.

After building a 20-point lead in the second quarter, the Commodores (11-10, 1-7) withstood a furious third-quarter charge by Alabama (15-6, 3-5) to notch their first victory since a win over Tennessee Tech on Dec. 18. Vanderbilt improved to 19-1 all-time against the Tide at Memorial Gym.

The Commodores went 8-of-10 from 3-point range in the first half and finished 11-of-19 from behind the arc.

Erin Whalen, who made her first career start, scored a game-high 22 points, going 4-of-7 from 3-point range. Marqu'es Webb recorded her fifth double-double of the season, finishing with 11 points and 12 rebounds, including eight offensive boards. Rachel Bell and Christa Reed added 15 points each, and Kayla Overbeck had 10 points and eight rebounds.

Hannah Cook led Alabama with 17 points. Shaquera Wade had 16.

Vanderbilt, which ranks among the top five in the nation in 3-point percentage, made 5-of-7 shots from behind the arc in the first quarter and went 3-of-3 in the second.

The early hot shooting helped Vanderbilt build a 36-16 lead with 4:01 to play in the second quarter. Whalen played a key role in the Commodores' quick start, scoring 11 first-quarter points, and Bell hit a pair of 3s early in the second quarter to help pad the lead.

But Alabama outscored the Commodores 29-10 during the next 8½ minutes -- closing the first half with a 12-3 run and opening the third period with a 17-7 spurt -- to slice Vanderbilt's lead to 46-45 with 5:29 to play in the period.

NASHVILLE - The Vanderbilt women were unable to slow down the SEC's leading scorer on Sunday.

Florida's Ronni Williams exploded for a career-high 43 points and also pulled down a game-high 14 rebounds to help the Gators saddle the Commodores with a 93-73 loss at Memorial Gym.

Williams, who came into the game averaging a conference-best 18.3 points per game, went 14-of-23 from the floor and 15-of-17 from the foul line. She scored 27 of her 43 points in the second half to lead Florida (11-10, 2-6) to its third straight win on Vanderbilt's home court.

The Commodores (11-11, 1-8), who were coming off an 87-80 win over Alabama on Thursday night, were led by Rebekah Dahlman's 18 points. Kayla Overbeck had her fifth double-double of the season, finishing with 14 points and 13 rebounds.

Erin Whalen and Rachel Bell added 14 points apiece for Vanderbilt. Delicia Washington had 20 points for Florida.

The Commodores, who entered the day ranked third in the country in 3-point accuracy, went 11-of-27 from long range. But the outside shooting wasn't enough to offset the huge performance by Williams and the Gators.

Florida led 37-28 at the half and held a 65-46 lead after a free throw by Williams with 8:40 to play in the game before the Commodores reeled off a 10-0 run to trim the deficit to 65-56 with 5:16 remaining. Dahlman ignited the run with five quick points, including a 3-pointer and a pair free throws.

But Williams halted the Commodores' run with a jumper at the 4:57 mark, and she followed that with a pair of free throws to push Florida's lead to 69-56. Vanderbilt cut the deficit to 74-64 on a 3-pointer by Dahlman with 3:11 to go, but Sydney Morang responded with a 3-pointer for the Gators, and Vanderbilt never got closer than 11 points the rest of the way.

LEXINGTON, Ky. - The Kentucky trio of Makayla Epps, Evelyn Akhatov and Taylor Murray carried the bulk of the scoring load on Sunday -- and in the process, they carried the No. 25-ranked Wildcats to a 71-63 victory over Vanderbilt.

The three players combined to score 61 of Kentucky's 71 points. Epps finished with a game-high 23, Akhatov had 20 and Murray added 18 for the Wildcats (16-8, 7-4), who snapped a two-game skid and atoned for last season's home loss to Vanderbilt.

Kayla Overbeck had a career-high 19 points and 11 rebounds, team highs in both categories, for the Commodores (11-12, 1-9). Christa Reed had 12 points and Erin Whalen added 11.

Vanderbilt -- which has now dropped 11 of its past 12 games -- attempted just four free throws in the loss, finishing 3-of-4, and committed 21 turnovers. Kentucky was 19-of-22 from the foul line, and committed only 10 turnovers.

The Commodores trailed 38-31 at the half but battled back to tie the game at 46-46 after back-to-back 3-pointers by Cierra Walker and Rachel Bell with 3:13 remaining in the third quarter. Kentucky, however, closed the period with a 9-0 run to rebuild a 55-46 lead.

Vanderbilt trimmed the deficit to 55-52 after Whalen and Kaleigh Clemons-Green each knocked down 3-pointers in the first 90 seconds of the fourth quarter. But Kentucky answered back with a methodical 10-3 run to extend the lead to 65-55 with under two minutes to play, and the Wildcats held on from there.

Vanderbilt, which entered the day ranked No. 3 in the nation in 3-point percentage at 40.7 percent, finished 8-of-24 from long range. Kentucky was 2-of-14 from behind the arc.

The Commodores dominated the glass, winning the rebounding battle, 41-29. But Kentucky outscored Vanderbilt 42-22 in the paint, and 10-0 in fast-break points.

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) - Mississippi State remained unbeaten on its home floor on Thursday night.

The fourth-ranked Bulldogs beat Vanderbilt 86-41 for their fourth straight victory -- jumping out to leads of 20-2 and 40-8 by midway through the second quarter -- while improving to 10-0 at home.

"When the lights came on tonight, we were really special," Mississippi State coach Vic Schaefer said.

Victoria Vivians led the Bulldogs with 21 points, Roshunda Johnson scored 17 and Breanna Richardson added 12. Mississippi State shot 35 of 70 (50 percent) from the field, including 9 of 20 (45 percent) from 3-point range.

Vivians was pleased that the Bulldogs never let up on the Commodores: "We finished the whole game," Vivians said. "We played all four quarters. ... That was our main focus -- finish the game."

The Bulldogs (24-1, 10-1) dominated from the opening tip, suffocating Vanderbilt defensively. They led 42-15 at halftime.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - Marqu'es Webb had a big night and Rebekah Dahlman hit a big shot.

Together, the two Vanderbilt veterans helped send the Commodores to a 70-68 victory over LSU on Monday night at Memorial Gym.

Dahlman connected on a go-ahead 3-pointer from the corner with 28 seconds remaining and it proved to be the game-winner for the Commodores (12-13, 2-10), who outscored LSU 20-11 in the final 10 minutes to earn the comeback victory.

Webb recorded a double-double with a career-high 20 points and 10 rebounds. She finished 6-of-6 from the floor and 8-of-9 from the foul line. Her final rebound of the night came after LSU's Rina Hill missed a potential game-tying shot just before the buzzer.

Raigyne Moncrief paced LSU (17-8, 6-6) with 20 points. Christa Reed added 10 for Vanderbilt.

The Commodores trailed 59-50 with 9:22 to play in the fourth quarter before closing the game on a 20-9 run to earn the win. Dahlman's clutch shot from the corner capped the comeback and gave Vanderbilt the lead for the first time since early in the third quarter.

After Dahlman's 3-pointer, LSU had two possessions in the final 23 seconds, but the Tigers came up empty both times, including missing two shots in the final six seconds.

Alexis Hyder finished with 13 points before fouling out for the Tigers. Chloe Jackson had 11 points and Ayanna Mitchell had 10.

The victory was an emotional boost for a Vanderbilt team that has suffered a series of close losses since the start of SEC play. Five of the Commodores' conference defeats were decided by a combined 21 points, with all five games being determined in the final minute.

Vanderbilt finished 8-of-18 from 3-point range in Monday's win. LSU went only 1-of-3 from 3-point range to continue a season-long theme. The Tigers have made only 28 3-pointers this season.

COLUMBIA, S.C. -- Kaela Davis and Alaina Coates each scored 15 points to help No. 6 South Carolina beat Vanderbilt 82-51 on Thursday night.

A'ja Wilson added 10 points and eight rebounds for the Gamecocks, who rebounded nicely from Monday's loss to top-ranked UConn by defeating Vanderbilt for the eighth consecutive time.

Christa Reed finished with 11 points and Minta Spears had 10 for Vanderbilt. Marqu'es Webb had 12 rebounds before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

South Carolina (22-3, 12-1) outscored Vanderbilt 50-10 in the paint. The Commodores (12-14, 2-11) had 20 turnovers and made 12 shots from the field -- the second time in SEC play a team has had fewer field goals than turnovers against South Carolina.

The Commodores, who were facing a ranked opponent for the third time in four games, shot just 22.6 percent from the floor and were limited to 12 field goals for the game (finishing 12-of-53). Vanderbilt was just 4-of-18 from 3-point range, but went 23-of-28 from the foul line.

The Gamecocks never trailed in the game. They opened the first quarter on a 20-3 run, and led 23-6 at the end of the period. The Commodores had 10 turnovers and attempted just 10 shots in the first 10 minutes, and were outscored 16-0 in the paint during the quarter.

Vanderbilt climbed back into the game by putting together an 11-2 run early in the second quarter to trim South Carolina's lead to 27-17. The surge started with a pair of free throws by LeaLea Carter and was capped by a jumper from Spears at the 5:31 mark of the quarter.

South Carolina, however, answered back with a 12-2 spurt -- which began with a jumper by Davis and ended with a 3-pointer by Bianca Cuevas-Moore -- to rebuild a 20-point lead, 39-19, with 2:17 to play in the first half. Vanderbilt never got closer than 18 points the rest of the way.
