

ROSTERS NAMED FOR USA LACROSSE SIXES EVALUATION CAMP AT LAKE PLACID

SPARKS, Md. — USA Lacrosse has named the men's and women's players that will participate in evaluation camps for the new World Lacrosse Sixes discipline during the Lake Placid (N.Y.) Summit Classic from Aug. 2-4.

Sixes is a fast-paced version of the sport played on a smaller field (70 x 36 meters), with fewer players (6 v 6), a condensed game length (four 8-minute quarters) and a 30-second shot clock.

World Lacrosse will continue to use the traditional field game for its world championships, including the 2022 World Lacrosse Women's World Championship, which will be hosted by USA Lacrosse at Towson University next summer. However, Sixes will be the format used for some designated events, including The World Games, a multi-sport Olympic-style event, in Birmingham, Ala., next summer.

The World Games were first held in 1981 and feature more than 30 sports and 3,000 athletes competing from around the world in sports not included in the Olympics. The U.S. women won the inaugural lacrosse competition in Poland in 2017 when the event was played under a modified version of the traditional field game. This will be the first time that men's lacrosse will be included in The World Games and both men's and women's lacrosse will use the Sixes discipline.

The Sixes evaluation camp at Lake Placid is the second of three events for USA Lacrosse this year. The first camp was held earlier this month at USA Lacrosse headquarters in Sparks, Md., with an exhibition game at the USA Lacrosse Youth Nationals in Frederica, Del. A third event, featuring international competition, is planned for October at USA Lacrosse headquarters.

"These camps are a great way to learn about how the game is played, strategies we can develop and how players and coaches fit this version of the sport," said Skip Lichtfuss, director of high performance and national teams for USA Lacrosse. "Next week's camp has a great mix of players that competed in our first camp along with players who will be getting their first prolonged exposure to the Sixes discipline."

Serving as coaches for next week's camp, which will be highlighted by a public exhibition on Tuesday, Aug. 3 at 5 p.m. in Lake Placid, N.Y., will be Bobby Benson (University of Maryland men's assistant coach), Tony Resch (2018 U.S. men's assistant coach/2015 U.S. box head coach), Andy Shay (Yale men's head coach) and Regy Thorpe (University of Florida women's assistant coach/2019 U.S. box head coach). Past U.S. women's team players Erica LaGrow Bamford (Yale women's head coach) and Devon Wills (Harvard women's head coach) have also been involved in the Sixes development process.

Here are players that will participate in the Sixes evaluation camp at Lake Placid:

Men's Players

Name	College
Justin Anderson	North Carolina '21
Matt Brandau	Yale '22
Dan Bucaro	Georgetown '19
Ryan Conrad	Virginia '19
Romar Dennis	Loyola '17
Ryder Garnsey	Notre Dame '19
Adam Ghitelman	Virginia '11
Mark Glicini	Yale '16
Justin Guterding	Duke '18
Jack Kelly	Brown '16
Connor Kirst	Villanova '20/Rutgers (grad)
Cody Radziewicz	Johns Hopkins '17
Patrick Resch	Dartmouth '15
Jacob Richard	Marquette '16
Kevin Rogers	Lynchburg '20/High Point (grad)
Sergio Salcido	Syracuse '17
Mikie Schlosser	Michigan '17
Connor Shellenberger	Virginia '24
Brad Smith	Duke '19
Michael Sowers	Princeton '20/Duke (grad)
Brian Tevlin	Yale '21
Ryan Tierney	Hofstra '21
Cole Williams	Johns Hopkins '20

Women's Players

Name	College
Madison Ahern	Notre Dame '23
Andie Aldave	Notre Dame '21
Mackenzie Burns	Stony Brook '19
Kasey Choma	Notre Dame '23
Katie Detwiler	Loyola '22
Olivia Dirks	North Carolina '23
Marge Donovan	Princeton '22
Madison Doucette	Northwestern '22
Bri Gross	Vanderbilt '22
Rachel Hall	Boston College '22
Kelsey Huff	USC '21
Ellie Masera	Stony Brook '24
Trinity McPherson	Johns Hopkins '21
Amy Moreau	Massachusetts '22

Danielle Pavinelli

Paige Petty

Izzy Scane

Kyla Sears

Belle Smith

Sam Swart

Emma Tyrrell

Meaghan Tyrrell

Emma Ward

Caitlyn Wurzbarger

Florida '24

Virginia Tech '21/Pitt (Gr.)

Northwestern '22

Princeton '22

Boston College '24

Syracuse' 21

Syracuse '23

Syracuse '22

Syracuse '24

North Carolina '24